

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN TRANSACT A LARGE AMOUNT OF ROUTINE BUSINESS.

The mayor and aldermen met in regular session Monday evening Alderman Plummer only being absent.

The records were read by the clerk and approved and a hearing was opened at 7:30 o'clock on the petition of the N. E. Telephone & Telegraph Co. for pole and wire locations on Washington street and Highland avenue.

Assistant General Manager Wm. J. Denver of the company said a relocation of the poles on Washington, between Auburn street and the Wellesley line, had been recommended by Mr. H. L. Bixby and from five to ten poles in addition to the seventy-four now there were desired.

On Highland avenue, between Alpine and Murray streets, the company wanted to locate about five new poles and remove two old ones. The subscribers now on the avenue were reached by wires fastened to the trees which was not desirable, either for the company or the city. The subscribers mentioned were F. H. Waterhouse, P. W. Carter, G. S. Woodman and E. C. Whitton.

Alderman Roffe asked if there were any objections to the locations? Mr. Denver—I do not know, sir: I did not know that I should be at this hearing until 6 o'clock.

Alderman Hamilton—How many families—How many houses will these poles accommodate?

About four; I think that is about all who want them. If there were others I think they would be on this map. There may be some who have made application, but I do not know of any.

The hearing was then closed.

A hearing was opened on the petition of Oliver H. Walker, et al., for sewer in Morland avenue and closed.

Also, for sewer in Gay street, southerly to Clyde street petitioned for by T. F. Bailey, et al. Closed without remonstrance.

The hearing on laying sewer in Chestnut Hill road from Hammond street to Essex road was objected to by Mrs. Phoebe H. Sargent, the communication and was then closed, but later in the evening was opened to allow Hon. Leverett Saltonstall and Mr. R. M. Saltonstall, to object.

The elder gentleman said he supposed the city council were willing to save all the money they could. There was no present necessity of having the sewer in Chestnut Hill road. He owned practically all the land upon the road and with his children, occupied it. He had put in a very perfect system of drainage under the direction of Mr. Ernest W. Bowditch at an expense of about $6,500 which answered every purpose for the present estate. A large cesspool overflowed into a perfect system of underground drains.

The sewer would cost him in assessments not less than $2500, an expense which he wished to avoid. If the sewer was necessary for the convenience of the general system he should not interpose any objection whatever. He did not wish to debate others now or at some future time, but it seems absolutely unnecessary that the sewer should be put here where the road is practically a private highway.

Mr. R. M. Saltonstall had seen Mr. White who last year spent $1000 for an elaborate system of drainage and thought a sewer in Chestnut Hill road unnecessary.

A chart of the locality was examined by the aldermen on request of Alderman Hamilton and the hearing then closed.

A hearing on the laying out of August street was opened. No one remonstrated. Mr. Horatio Carter speaking only in endorsement of the plan drawn by the city engineer.

The Newton & Watertown Gas Light Co. were given a hearing for locating wires on telephone poles on South street, closed.

The hearing on the location for a turnout on Eliot street, asked by the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. was responded to by Superintendent F. G. L. Henderson.

The company's idea was to give more frequent service running every ten minutes as the Sunday travel seemed to require it. The location asked was in front of no residence and would interfere with no street or driveway.

Alderman Thompson—The other night before this committee you stated the company had not made any money. How much have they lost?

Superintendent Henderson—That is rather difficult to say. The company has not made any money.

Alderman Thompson thought the best way would be for the company to use the present turnouts a little oftener and try to accommodate their patrons. [To Superintendent Henderson.]

If no money has been made, why don't you try it rather than go to the expense of more turnouts?

Superintendent Henderson—We want to lay out this money with the purpose of getting more business.

Alderman Thompson—When you got turnouts from the city to run on 20 minute time you changed off to 30 minutes. What does this request to run 10 minute time mean?

Superintendent Henderson—But we run 20 minute time until the full reduced the patronage.

The hearing was then closed.

The conductors of the Newton & Boston, Newton and Watertown & Watertown Street Railway Companies were appointed and confirmed as special police officers on their cars.

A communication was received from the directors of the Wellesley & Boston Street Railway accepting the extension of location granted them.

Communications from the school committee requested the city council to place a curbstone about the sidewalk at the Clifton school, also requesting the erection of a suitable structure for the shelter of bicycles at the High school. Both were referred.

The report of the chief of fire department for the quarter ending April 1 was received and filed.

Communications from the board of health requested the transfer of $300 for drains, etc., to the highway department; filed. Also notifying the board that action would be taken at a meeting at 3:30 April 10, on connecting the Pierce school and City hall with the sewer.

The assessors of the town of Needham notified the city council that the land used by the city water works was assessed for $17,835.

E. W. Foster notified the board that the Italian shanty complained of by Newton Highlands' citizens last week would be used for storage of tools only.

The application of Herbert Waid to erect a stable sized 34x40, on Cypress street, for four horses, was referred to the board by Inspector Elder.

The latter said he had heard that the stable was to be used for an express business. Referred.

E. T. Wiswall et al., petitioned for sewer in Cross street.

Gardner W. Spence et al., petitioned for the laying out of Lundgon and other streets.

John W. Estabrooks petitioned for sidewalk on Sewall street.

The Newton & Boston street railway petitioned for a new turnout on Walnut street opposite their car house. It was referred and a hearing set for April 16 at 7:30 o'clock.

Alderman Bothfield reported recommending that Rockminster street be laid out.

He also reported the draft of an ordinance in reference to the additional schedule of water rates.

Alderman Hunt in a report recommended that a sewer be laid through land of the Boston & Albany and C. F. Eddy near Crescent street.

Alderman Roffe presented a petition for one pool table on Chestnut street and a hearing to be advertised in the Newton papers was set for April 16 at 7:45 o'clock.

Alderman Roffe presented a communication in reference to the sidewalk on Summer street between Willow and Beacon streets next to the Wardwell estate. The sidewalk is from 12 to 18 inches above the level of the street, and by lowering it and cutting down the trees, some three feet additional width would be afforded the street at this point. This was signed by Dr. Alvah Hovey, E. H. Mason, F. H. Butts, L. Loring Brooks and 25 or 30 others.

Accompanying the petition was a letter from E. C. Dudley and E. A. Shaw, owners of the abutting property, stating their willingness to set out new shade trees along the portion of the street referred to.

Alderman Roffe said that petitions for this work had been presented to the city council before, once last year and the year before, but he understood no answer had ever been given them. They wanted some recognition this time either favorable or otherwise. He moved its reference to the highway committee.

Alderman Bothfield said the matter came before the highway committee last year, but it seemed that the owners of the abutting property had lowered the grade of their land leaving the walk in its present condition and the city did not think it wise to go to the expense of lowering the sidewalk to suit the owners.

Alderman Roffe said he was told that Mr. Noyes, when city engineer, recommended that the grade of the land be lowered when approached by the owners for his advice.

The matter was then referred.

Alderman Hunt reported, recommending sewers in Suffolk road, private land near Glen avenue, also near Elm street, Woodman street and Essex road.

Alderman Hamilton reported in reference to the Kenrick fund, $1,250 in mortgages, and $2,750 in cash and recommending the distribution of the income. The report was accepted and an order passed that $200, the income from the Kenrick fund, be distributed in accordance with the wishes of the donor.

Alderman Hamilton presented an order requesting the mayor to have flags displayed on all public buildings and the bells rung at sunrise, noon and sunset of Thursday, April 19, in honor of the day and date which through all time may commemorate the patriotism and love of liberty displayed by the citizen soldiery of Middlesex county in the earlier and later history of our country.

Alderman Bothfield moved to amend omitting the ringing of bells at sunrise. The amendment was accepted and the order passed.

Another order was passed requesting the mayor to have flags displayed on April 27, in honor of the birth of Ulysses S. Grant.

An order passed transferring $500 from the board of health, appropriating to the highway department for brooks and drains.

E. H. Bosson and twenty-four others petitioned that Hildale road be laid out and accepted by the city.

A. C. Judkins petitioned to change the name of Central place to Omaha terrace.

E. C. Dudley petitioned for extension of sewer payment on vacant land until it was built upon.

Received and an order passed granting it.

A. C. Judkins was granted permission to move building, 42x26 feet in size from Central avenue to Central place.

Jacks in Flanders petitioned for sewer mentioning two routes via Chase street and Institution avenue or over private land of the B. & A. and the Chase street. His preference was the latter.

Benj. Dickerman, et al., petitioned for sidewalk.

The petitioner for pool table license at 1270 Washington street was granted leave to withdraw.

Alderman Roffe was destined to introduce the most decisive measures that have yet been taken in compelling the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. to change its tactics and accommodate the public for which reason it has been granted locations for its tracks through the heart of the city. And not a single dissenting syllable was pronounced in opposition to the ultimate result showing very clearly the unanimity of the board of aldermen on this matter.

A petition setting forth that the car service between Newton Centre and Newtonville by the Newton & Boston Street Railway was entirely unsatisfactory and requesting that the city council secure a through service without change, was presented and had for signers such men as Chas. A. Vinal, Chas. S. Davis, F. A. Pope, C. C. Patten, F. N. Thatcher, J. E. Rickwood, Wm. B. Young and some 70 others.

This petition was referred.

Later in the session Alderman Roffe presented an order that the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. be required and directed to run through cars from Newtonville to Newton Falls and from Newtonville to Newton Centre on regular 20 minute time on or before the sixteenth of April.

The board clinched the matter by passing the order by a unanimous vote.

The executive committee of the Newton Centre Improvement Association petitioned for the widening of Institution avenue, from Union to Beacon street as shown by a plan by Engineer Woods, also that a new wider bridge be built on Institution avenue over the Boston & Albany railroad.

The first was regularly referred, and the latter was referred to the city solicitor until the next meeting.

Alderman Bothfield offered the ordinance relating to water board and it was passed to be enrolled.

Hearings were ordered as follows on Monday, May 7, before the aldermen at 7:30 and Monday, May 14, before the common council at 7:45; sewer near Crescent street, in Woodman street, in Essex road, private land near the B. & A., laying out Gay street, laying out Essex road, sewer in private land near Glen avenue.

Alderman Bothfield presented an order for a hearing on the laying out of Suffolk road, on May 7 and 14.

Alderman Roffe presented a communication from the Newton Athletic Association, requesting leave to charge admission to seats on the playground at their free exhibition to be given April 19. It was granted.

The sewer committee were authorized to construct sewers in Ashton, Denwood parks, Claremont street, Moreland avenue, Otis street, private land between Oxford and Parker streets.

Alderman Roffe presented 22 druggists petitions for sixth class liquor license. All were renewals with the exception of J. G. Kilburn in place of Thos. Mac Kelly at Nonantum.

The motion for a hearing on April 16, as made by Alderman Roffe, had a stilt taken in it by the clerk who said the notices must be published ten days previous to the time set for the hearing. The next issue of the local newspapers was found to be on April 6, and everyone was wondering whose mathematical apparatus needed adjustment when the clerk suggested that there was a "little brother" which came out one day later, after the contents of the newspapers had been scanned and digested. This had been placed with the newspaper, with price quotation for advertising the hearing on application notices sent by the city clerk to the different druggists.

The mayor was puzzled for a moment, but advised prompt action in the matter for heretofore the committee had not had sufficient time to consider the licenses so as to grant them promptly the first of May. The committee wanted plenty of time this year for due consideration. He asked about a special meeting for Tuesday, April 17.

Alderman Bothfield said a number of hearings were set for April 16.

After counting in publication day, two Sundays and the day of the hearing the clerk thought ten days could be figured out as the hearing was set for April 16, at 5 o'clock.

The board adjourned.

Meeting of the Trustees of Newton Hospital.

The meeting of the Trustees was called to order at 3:15 p. m., March 30, 1894. The president, J. R. Leeson, occupied the chair and 19 members were present including Messrs. M. L. Bacon, J. N. Bacon, Blake, Haskell, Hovey, Leonard and Paine, Messrs. Burr, Edwards, Ellison, Pettie, Pratt, Shinn and Travelli and Drs. Crockett, Seales, Frisbie and Thayer.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

The report of the treasurer, Mr. Bullens, was next read showing current receipts for the quarter of $2627.70 with running expenses for the same period of $5616.40 and a balance on hand of $711.70 which the treasurer stated was the lowest point reached for some years and he feared that unless some active measures were taken a deficit might appear. After some discussion on the best means of removing this danger the report was on motion accepted and placed on file.

The treasurer then presented a letter from the Hospital Aid Association which accompanied a check for $430 as an additional contribution to the funds for furnishing the training school for nurses.

The report of the doings of the Executive committee for the last quarter was then given in full by Dr. Shi. A covering many matters of importance and among others the recommendation of the adoption of a printed form of contract for the admission of patients, which it is hoped will save the hospital from future loss.

On motion of Mr. Bullens it was unanimously voted that the report be accepted and the recommendations therein contained be adopted.

Favorable reports were received from the training school for nurses and nurse's registry.

The work of the hospital for the last quarter has been quite heavy, especially in the contagious wards, but all has been carried on in the most satisfactory manner.

After considerable delay owing to the legal publication of change of name the final papers were presented to the meeting and receiving the signature of a majority of the trustees, were duly executed so that the Newton Cottage Hospital has now become the Newton Hospital. CHAS. I. TRAVELLI, Clerk.

The Benefit Concert.

On Thursday, March 29th, the Newton branch of the Y. L. C. A. gave a concert in Armory Hall, Newton. The evening was stormy, but fully six hundred people were present to enjoy some excellent music. The stage was beautifully decorated with plants and Easter lilies.

The concert, consisting of quartet singing, violin solo, soprano, tenor and bass whistling solos, violin duets, reading and banjo solos, was excellent. Mr. Alfred De Seve, who kindly gave his services, executed several violin solos, which were enthusiastically enjoyed. Miss Alice Hodsdon, in whistling solos, was obliged to respond to several encores, and Mr. D. A. Sullivan of Newton gave a very fine bass solo. All the artists were favorably received and gave great pleasure. Miss Josephine A. Stuart, the new president for 1894, of Newton, is largely responsible for the success, social and financial, of the affair, ably assisted by Mrs. T. B. Fitzpatrick of West Newton, and other members of the branch.

LEGISLATIVE HEARING

ON NEWTON'S PETITION FOR A BOULEVARD LAW.

The legislative committee on roads and bridges, Senator Ledyard Bill chairman, gave a hearing at City Hall, Tuesday morning, on the petition to have authority granted to Newton, to lay out boulevards, with spaces for electric railways and bridge paths.

The house members of the committee spent the night at the Woodland Park Hotel and before the hearing were taken in carriages down Washington street to Oak Square, following the electric railway to Allston and then crossing over to the Beacon boulevard, and back to the City Hall along the route of the new boulevard. They saw necessity enough for a boulevard on Washington street in Newton and Brighton, which are dangerous for driving because of their narrowness. They arrived at City Hall about 11 o'clock, and soon after the hearing opened with Senator Bill in the chair.

Messrs. R. M. Saltonstall and Moorfield Storey appeared for E. D. Jordan, Mr. Blaney for the petitioners and City Solicitor Slocum for the city.

The evidence and arguments were of the character so familiar to all attendants at boulevard hearings, the only new thing being the appearance of several of the prominent advocates of the rejected routes for the third section, among the remonstrants.

Mr. Storey spoke for half an hour, arguing that the advance in values along the line of a boulevard is taken from the value of land somewhere else, so that there is really no increase, and that there are but few people who come to live on a boulevard. In Brookline every lawyer was retained in favor of the boulevard, and the demand for boulevards was largely from landowners who wanted to get rich. He thought the bill should be amended by requiring some railway company to file a bond, binding it to use such reserved space, and to pay part of the cost. Such a space was not a highway.

Mr. Bill asked if granting locations to street railways in streets already built was unwise?

Mr. Storey—No, not unwise. Mr. Bill—Street railways are so near the life of the people, that they have been decided to be a public necessity, have they not?

Mr. Storey assented. Mr. Bill asked if the same policy of buying up the public had been followed in Newton?

Mr. Storey said he could not say, he was only familiar with the usual manner of creating public sentiment, but he had no witnesses to prove that any such thing was done in Newton.

Mr. Saltonstall then introduced Mr. William C. Strong, who thought there was a growing sentiment that the boulevard was being built for private instead of public interests. He favored having the Metropolitan park commission do the work.

Mr. Blaney—For the past six months you have been advocating one of two routes for the boulevard, and the highway committee unanimously decided against you, did they not?

Mr. Strong—Yes. Mr. Strong was asked by one of the committee if he favored a committee of one city laying out the streets of another, and he said, yes, in the interests of greater Boston.

Then you favor Boston's gobbling up Newton?

Mr. Strong objected to the word, but thought Newton should avail itself of such a commission.

Mr. Strong was cross-examined further by Mr. Blaney and admitted that the park commission had no power now to do anything, but that it was proposed to grant them such power to connect public parks, by boulevards, in a bill now before the legislature.

In response to Mr. Bill he admitted the route he favored ran nearer to his own land than the one adopted, and that he favored the commission as it was impossible for the city government not to be influenced by private interests.

Mayor Fennu emphatically protested against any such statement.

Mr. Strong apologized and said he meant to cast no reflection on the city government.

Mr. Slocum then asked if he thought the park commission were better qualified to lay out streets for the interests of Newton than its own citizens. Mr. Strong said it would be better for greater Boston, and being pressed further said he favored taking the power of laying out streets away from the Newton city government.

E. B. Towne was the next remonstrant and said the whole thing was got up by iniquitous land speculators and the people did not want a boulevard. He admitted he had offered $1,000 and half the land needed if the boulevard took a certain direction.

Thomas H. Edmonds objected because the boulevard started nowhere and ended nowhere.

Mr. Saltonstall read a letter from F. F. Raymond of West Newton, objecting to the law, as there was no necessity for it. There was also a strong feeling that there was too close an alliance between the city government and land speculators. He said that he had worked for one of the routes that was not adopted.

Mr. Saltonstall then spoke in remonstrance, claiming the boulevard was not needed, that it would cost more than was estimated, and that the city could not afford the expense.

Mr. Blaney then spoke for the petitioners, called attention to the long list of signers to petitions for a boulevard. He read a letter from the Metropolitan Park Commission saying that they had no authority to act for Newton. Boston has the power to lay out a boulevard, as was shown by the laying out of Commonwealth avenue, and Brookline has the power. He thought there was no doubt but that the court would decide that Newton had the power.

The boulevard starts on South street, about 100 feet from the entrance to the Reservoir driveway, and Boston has already taken steps to lay out South street. It ends at the Weston bridge, where Newton has plans for two large parks, and the Metropolitan Park Commission has plans for a large park on the Weston side. As for the charge that lawyers were bought up, two lawyers have appeared here, retained by the remonstrants, and the city solicitor, who appears for the city, and myself are the only ones on the other side. He read from an article by Alfred D. Chandler on the great gains made by Brookline since building of the boulevard. The hearing then adjourned to Wednesday morning.

The committee was then entertained at luncheon at the Newton Club house, by Mayor Fennu, and the lawyers in the case and a number of guests were also present.

THE CONTINUED HEARING

was held at the State House, Wednesday, at 10 a. m., and Mr. A. D. S. Bell opened for the petitioners. In his remark he said that the boulevard was opposed by only two men, Mr. Dumareq at Chestnut Hill and Mr. S. one at West Newton. The others were those who were disappointed because he routes they favored were not chosen. The men interested were mostly honored citizens of Newton, interested in the growth of the city as well as in the development of their land. At Chestnut Hill the railway on the boulevard would bring the High school within reach of the poor children who wished to attend.

Mr. Geo. H. Ellis favored the boulevard, though he had no land to sell and was willing to give land for it. Any delay would make the building of it more expensive.

Mr. A. L. Harwood said the general sentiment of Newton was in favor of the boulevard.

Mr. H. B. Parker said his company had a petition on file at the City Hall for a location on the boulevard and the West End would be glad to receive the business his road would bring them.

Mr. Estes said the board of survey of Boston had plans for the laying out of South street from the Newton line to Commonwealth avenue extension, and owners had been notified not to build on those lines. The city solicitor of Boston would submit information to the committee of what Boston had done.

Ex-Senator Gilman spoke strongly in favor of the boulevard and said the sentiment of Newton was in favor of it.

Mr. C. C. Burr was introduced by Mr. Saltonstall and said there was no call for the boulevard and no need of any haste. He admitted, however, that he had signed a petition for the route favored by Mr. Strong.

Mr. Strong was granted leave to explain his remarks of the previous day, and said he intended to cast no odium on the city government, but only meant that the real estate owners had created such a demand for a boulevard that the city council was affected by it.

Mr. Saltonstall closed for the remonstrants by presenting an amended bill, confining the power to be granted to one boulevard, and providing that before construction a street railway company must file a bond to build a road, and also to pay one-fourth of the cost of construction of the space reserved for them; also that the boulevard should follow the line of South and Ward street to Market road, thus avoiding Mr. Dumareq's land, and that the bill must be submitted to the people of Newton at a general election for their approval.

City Attorney Slocum closed for the petitioners and made a very forcible presentation of the absurdities of the proposed amendments. He also called attention to the statements of Mr. Storey, that people would not build on a boulevard on account of the noise and dust, when the Beacon street boulevard was lined with palatial dwellings, and one of his clients, Mr. Jordan, had built a magnificent palace on the boulevard.

The city has power to lay out wide streets, to grant locations upon them to street railways, and it was absurd to suppose that it had not the power to grant such a location on a reserved space. The city wanted a general law, which would relieve it from all such technicalities, and he took up and discussed the objections that had been made. This closed the hearings on the subject.

THE LATE EDWIN FLEMING.

Boston, April 4, 1894.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:

In the death of Mr. Edwin Fleming, Newton has lost a citizen, who, if the judgment of his most intimate friends may be relied upon, cannot be replaced. Quiet and unobtrusive as he always was, his influence, nevertheless, has had a marked effect upon all those with whom he came into daily contact. Though born abroad he was yet an intensely patriotic American, and in every way a good and useful citizen. Careful and accurate in all his business transactions he achieved a large measure of business success, and will be greatly missed in the business to which he has devoted a large part of his life. It has been the writer's good fortune to be intimately associated with Mr. Fleming in business for a period extending over thirty years, and no man with whom he has ever come in contact has held a higher place in his personal esteem for the strictest honesty and integrity than Mr. Fleming. In transactions which have amounted to many hundreds of thousands, if not millions of dollars, Mr. Fleming has always been implicitly trusted by the writer to deal fairly and justly in the absence of any stipulated prices or contracts made in advance, and in no case has there ever been cause for any misunderstanding or friction between the parties to these very large business transactions. Mr. Fleming was not only just to his customers, but just to himself, his partners and his employees, and in brief, he was a man with whom it was perfectly safe to do business to any extent without any binding contracts. Loyal and warm-hearted as a friend, if one had his esteem and confidence, he was true to him through adversity as well as prosperity. On the other hand he had a fine scorn for any mean action and would on no account have business transactions with those who had in any way forfeited his respect and esteem.

He never courted publicity in any way during his life, but I feel as if I were doing a service, not only to his memory and his friends, but to the general public in thus voicing the very high respect and esteem which have always felt for my late friend, which was founded upon an intimate knowledge of his personal work, from my long continued acquaintance and business connection with him.

What Will do it

Medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions—that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

JACKSON-PAGE.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING IN NEWTON. TUESDAY EVENING.

The marriage of Miss Lila M. Page of Newtonville and Mr. William Evan Jackson of New York city, which took place in the Grace Episcopal church, Tuesday evening, was a brilliant event socially. An imposing throng of the friends and relatives of bride and groom came to see the two made man and wife. There was a large contingent from New York, in addition to the Newton and Boston people present.

It was 8 o'clock when the wedding party entered the church, and the familiar notes of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" were heard. Slowly they marched up the main aisle of the edifice to the altar rail, when the stately music ceased and the ceremony began. The bride walked at the side of her father, Mr. Edward Page.

She was attired in a rich, white satin gown, with high corsage and square train, and wore a tulle veil fastened by a diamond crescent. A bunch of lilies of the valley was carried in her hand.

The ushers walked first. They were Messrs. C. W. Willoughby, Adjutant of the Twenty-third Regiment of New York; Prof. C. B. Galt of Cambridge; Prof. M. H. Morgan of Cambridge; Percy Grosvenor Parsons, E. Page, Jr., H. F. Page, A. P. Teale of Cambridge and S. L. Snell of Boston. The maid of honor, Miss Tewksbury of Newtonville, and the bridesmaids, Miss Katherine Page, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Anne Jackson, a sister of the groom, brought up the rear. Miss Tewksbury was attired in a yellow and white tulle silk gown, trimmed with yellow ribbon, and she carried Marechal Niel roses. The bridesmaids wore delicately beautiful pale blue gowns of mousseline de soie, over silk to match, the gowns being trimmed with narrow satin ribbon. They each carried bouquets of bride's roses, tied with blue ribbons.

At the altar the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Howard Jackson of New York, a brother, joined the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George W. Shinn, rector of the church, and in accordance with the Episcopal ritual. The chancel was beautified by flowers and plants, including hydrangeas, Easter lilies, palms and ferns.

Previous to the ceremony the organist, Mr. H. B. Day, played a march in E flat; by George, the "Song Without Words," by De Haise, the Swedish Wedding March and other selections. As the bride party was leaving the church after the wedding Mendelssohn's March was given. A unique feature was the use of the chime bells, which pealed forth wedding music.

After the wedding there was a reception at the residence of the bride's father, corner of Waterston and Walnut streets, Newtonville. It was a thoroughly enjoyable occasion. Among those who received with the bride and groom were Mr. Edward Page, the former's father, and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson of New York, parents of the groom. An orchestra provided music, and refreshments were served during the evening. Those present were principally the guests who came from New York. Only a few Newton and Boston people were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will enjoy an extensive wedding tour in the West. When they return they will reside on West Seventy-ninth street, New York city.

Mrs. Langshus: "Tired! Oh, so tired all the time!" Mrs. Smart: "Well, so I used to be until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a spring medicine, and now I don't know what it is to have that tired feeling. Try it, my dear; you are sure you get Ayer's."

INFLUENZA,

Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Last Spring, I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine."—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D.

SOME CURIOUS AMENDMENTS.

The amendments offered by Messrs. Siltonstall and Storey, counsel for Mr. Jordan and Mr. Dumaresq, to the proposed boulevard bill, would deprive that bill of any value at all. The provision that it must be submitted to the people at a general election is only objectionable from the fact that it would delay all work upon the boulevard for another year, as the people would undoubtedly favor it by a large majority. But the delay would interfere seriously with the plans, the agreements that have been made would all have expired, many of those who have offered land and money for the boulevard might have changed their minds by that time, and the boulevard could not be built on such favorable terms as at present.

Every year that the project is delayed adds to the cost of the work, as buildings will be put up on the line of the boulevard, as has been the case in Auburndale, and the owners will expect heavy damages if the buildings have to be moved.

The other provisions are even more objectionable; no street railway company would agree to pay part of the cost of the construction of the reserved space and even the West End company could not afford to make such an agreement. Besides, as Mr. Slocum said, such action would give a railroad company certain rights in the street, which is against the policy of Newton.

The provision that the boulevard should follow Ward street to Manet Road would relieve the boulevard of all the objections brought against it by Mr. Dumaresq, and probably his counsel regard this as the most important amendment and would be satisfied with that alone, if it could be worked in to a general law.

The amendments certainly do credit to the shrewdness of the remonstrant's counsel, but their adoption in the bill are calculated to make it of no value.

In the hearings given the committee on roads and bridges have shown an evident desire to be fair to all parties, and they have listened courteously to all the testimony that was presented. Their questions have shown their desire to get at all the facts, and they have borne patiently with wide digressions from the question at issue. As the testimony would fill a large volume, only a comparatively brief summary of the two hearings given this week is given on another page, but we should say that the members of the committee must know more about Newton by this time than the great majority of its citizens, and they therefore are well qualified to decide the case upon its merits, which of course would be in favor of giving Newton the power to lay out boulevards, with reservations for street cars, although probably when the Court is heard from, the judges will decide that Newton already has such power.

A DRAMATIC SCENE.

There was a very dramatic scene at the City Hall, Tuesday morning, when Mayor Fenno made such an emphatic protest against the remark of Mr. W. C. Strong, that "it was impossible for the city government not to be influenced by private interests." It is only fair to allow that Mr. Strong did not realize the seriousness of the charge he made, for in his apology, he stated that he meant to cast no reflections on the city government. It was a very serious charge, however, and Mayor Fenno could hardly allow it to pass unchallenged, in justice to the members of the city government.

Mr. Raymond of West Newton also made a similar charge in a letter, by saying that there was a strong feeling "that there was too close an alliance between the city government and land speculators." It is very easy to make vague charges and insinuations, but it is hardly the right thing to do unless the maker is ready to bring forward some proof of his charges, and this neither Mr. Strong nor Mr. Raymond have ever offered to do. Mr. Strong further explained at the next hearing, that he only meant that the city government could not have failed to be influenced by the public sentiment gotten up in favor of the boulevard by those who had land to dispose of.

The mere fact that a committee has differed from them is not in itself a proof that the committee was "unduly influenced," for there is such a thing as an honest difference of opinion.

Most of the advocates of the rejected routes have taken their defeat gracefully, it can be said to their credit, and have not in their disappointment rushed off to oppose the whole boulevard scheme, because their own pet project was not favored. It shows the public spirit that prevails in Newton, when there is so little of such a spirit shown. We cannot all draw prizes in life's lottery, and although it may be a certain kind of relief to one's feelings, no practical good ever comes from making up faces at the managers of the lottery.

Miriam and Deborah were both prophetesses also. He we have women, by God's permission and direction, sharing with man material, civil, military and moral responsibility. Under the new dispensation we read, "Ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus." There is neither Jew nor Greek, neither bond nor free, neither male nor female in God's law of human rights. Very touching services over the remains of Mr. Edwin Fleming, the veteran book binder, who died in New York Monday morning, while on his way home from Florida, were held at his late residence on Vail street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the Unitarian church, officiated, and the music was furnished by the Verdi quartet. A most noticeable feature of the ceremonies was the attendance of so many employees of the deceased, some of them having been in his Boston building for continuous terms of from 25 to 40 years. Besides these there were many men prominent in the literary and publishing worlds, including Dana Estes and W. W. Jackson of the firm of Estes & Lauriat, William T. Adams ("Oliver Optic"), William Lee of the firm of Lee & Shepard, Geo. H. Ellis, Thomas R. Shewell, and many others prominent in other business circles. The floral tributes were very beautiful. Following the services the remains were taken to Newton cemetery. The pallbearers were: V. E. Carpenter, Charles Lawrie, George H. Ellis, Dana Estes, William Lee and Thomas R. Shewell.

MADE AN EXCELLENT SHOWING.

ANNUAL PRIZE AND EXHIBITION DRILL
OF THE NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL BATTALION.

The Newton High school battalion
held its annual prize and exhibition drill
Friday afternoon in the school gymnasium.
The floor space, although large,
barely permitted the accommodation for
the gathering of the friends, relatives,
members of the city government and invited guests from neighboring cities that assembled.

The training of the battalion had evidently been very thorough, and the members executed the various movements of the manual with great precision.

The program included two competitive drills for a prize medal, one between members of the junior squad composed of first year students, and the other between members of the remaining classes.
Col. Carter of the governor's staff,
Maj. Bailey of the 8th Infantry, and Col.
Keeler of the 1st Brigade acted as judges,
and the former presented to the winners
of the competitive drill first prize medals
and medals of honorable mention.

At the conclusion of the drill J. E.
Hollis addressed the battalion and warmly praised their exhibition. He then presented Col. Carter, who pinned the medals upon the coats of the winners. They were as follows:

Senior squad—First prize medal, Sergt.
Lee; medals of honorable mention,
Sergts. Hollis, Bordon and Whitney.
Junior squad—First prize medal, Priv.
Howard; medals of honorable mention,
Privs. Paine, Iman and Chase.

At the close of the exhibition dancing
was enjoyed.

The roster of the officers was as follows: Sergt-Maj. Tilton, Adj. Lesh; company A, J. E. Hollis and Capt.
Marshall; company B, Lieut. Brown and Kimball, and Capt. Gilbert; company C, Lieut. Rand and Capt. Springer; company D, Lieut. Wilson and Nickerson and Capt. Blanchard.

Newton Athletic Association.

The annual meeting of the Newton Athletic Association was held last Monday evening in Associates Small Hall, Newton Centre. The reports of the various committees proved interesting,
that of the governing committee being particularly so, outlining as it did, the work of that body and the history of the association since its organization last August. Starting with a membership of seventy-eight the list now includes 269 names. Outdoor and indoor athletic games have been given, also a bicycle road race and a cross country run. The N. A. A. football team last fall was a member of the Suburban League and plans have been made for a good base ball nine this spring.

The report of the special committee to consider the advisability of erecting a gymnasium on the land recently given to the association, adjoining the Newton Centre playground, was listened to attentively. After a short discussion
the meeting voted to accept the report, which provides for a building to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000, to be erected by a board of control made up of the oldest members of the association.
The building is to be leased for a term of ninety-nine years to the N. A. A., which agrees to pay taxes, insurance and interest on mortgages, notes and money invested.

The governing committee for the new year was elected as follows: J. E.
Hollis, D. Dewey, Jr., E. E. P. H., F.
C. Kising, E. B. Bowen, W. H. Palmer,
H. L. Burrage, H. W. Mason, H. B.
Waters, W. S. Fitz. The president,
vice-president, secretary and treasurer
of the association will be elected by the governing committee from their own number at their meeting this (Friday)
evening.

On the morning of April 19th, the N.
A. A. will give a handicap athletic meeting for members on the Newton Centre playground. The events will be 100 yards dash, 40 yards run, 80 yards run, 80
yards walk, mile bicycle race, running high jump, pole vault and short put.
The entries are already beginning to come in
and a good exhibition is expected.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—"The Diplomats," the title of a new five act play,
 by Edward M. Alton, will be presented at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening with the stock company in the cast. The return of the Opera House company from a successful three weeks engagement at the Star Theatre, New York, in "The Diplomat" will be a welcome event, and "The Diplomat" is sure of being witnessed by not only a large, but fashionable audience. The play deals with the highest classes of both France and England and one of its purposes is to show what a single woman is capable of when she once resolves upon an end.
 To a large extent is the play historical.
 The character of Louise Vandorn is found in history. "The Diplomat" has been pronounced a play which ranks
 with the stage creations of Sardou,
 and its situations and climaxes are said to be so natural and so thrilling, that interest is awakened with the beginning of the play, and held until its very climax.
 Comedy enters into the play with a refreshing and unusualness rarely witnessed in emotional plays.

BOSTON THEATRE—On next Saturday evening the last performance here of Hoyt's "A Temperance Town." Fanny Davenport will appear at this theatre for one week, beginning Monday, April 9, in Sardou's "Cleopatra." The present season being the last of this grand spectacle
 the above engagement will be the last performances of "Cleopatra" in America,
 and will also terminate the present season of Fanny Davenport, which has been a large financial success, and covers a period of 24 weeks, the opening week being in San Francisco and closing in Boston. Melbourne MacDowell will be seen as Marc Antony. The coming season Fanny Davenport will produce a new Sardou play.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE—"The Silver King" is announced as the attraction at the Bowdoin Square Theatre next week. This famous melodrama, which has held its popularity throughout the country for several years, will be given a particularly fine production, and its performance will introduce a number of favorite artists in the cast.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—The third week of Miss Marlowe's engagement at the Hollis will begin April 9, and seats
 for that week are now on sale at the Hollis street box office. Her repertoire has been arranged as follows: Monday evening, April 9, and Tuesday evening, April 10, "Twelfth Night;" Wednesday evening, April 11, and Thursday evening, April 12, "Cymbeline;" special matinee on Thursday, April 12, "The Love Chase;" Friday evening, April 12,
 "Ingomar;" Saturday matinee, April 14,
 "Romeo and Juliet;" Saturday evening, April 14, "As You Like It." This will be the last week but one of Miss Marlowe's stay, and it is needless to say that the holding capacity of the Hollis will be to its utmost. The special matinee on Thursday of "The Love Chase," is given by special request, owing to the fact that many people were unable to obtain tickets for the four performances

of that play given during the first week,
 and which were all it was originally intended to give.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—Mr. T. Henry French's elaborate production of "The Prodigal Daughter," will have its first Boston production at the Columbia April 9. The play is the work of the late Henry Pettit and Sir Augustus Harris. Although of the melodramatic class, it is distinctly a high-grade play.
 It is presented by a cast including Leonard Boyne, a gentleman rider and actor who was prominent in the London success of the play; J. H. Barnes, J. F. son de Angelis, Russell Bassett, Charles Coote, Ralph Delmore, Adelaide Prince,
 Maxine Elliott and Helen Danvray.
 The success of "The Prodigal Daughter"
 is largely due to the realistic race scene,
 a faithful reproduction of the grand national steeple-chase in which ten thoroughbred horses are used, each one
 a winner of some important English event. The production has over 175 people in a pack of imported English fox hounds appear in it.

EARLESCOURT.
 "Earlescourt, a Novel of Provincial Life," by Alexander Allardyce, may be roughly classified as belonging in the same order with the novels of Trollope's.
 A quiet English seaport, a rich banker
 with a disinherited son who secretly marries a lady of noble family, great wealth and more years than she owns to,
 a poor naturalist's daughter, to whom he has been engaged, and whom he really loves, these are the tenuous materials of a plot that is stretched out through a bulky and closely printed volume, with much pleasant descriptive padding. There are plenty of subordinate characters, many of them neatly sketched, and the good-natured but impudent member of Parliament, whom his brother, Lord Colpoys, keeps under his thumb, Col "Jim" Colpoys, the rakish youngest brother, the old entomologist,
 Dr. Sparshott, who absent-mindedly leaves enough treasures scattering behind him to set up any rival collector
 who might follow in his trail, are all drawn with distinctness and humor.
 One of the most amusing chapters is that in which the prodigal son, Stephen Brancepeth, who has been banished in penniless disgrace a year before, enters his father's bank to cash a check for some $25,000. Naturally there is a panic among the clerks, who do not understand how so much could be saved from the husks of the prodigal, and his father is so moved that he speedily offers him a share in the business. The book is decidedly interesting, and may be guaranteed not to prove too exciting for the most delicate nerves. (D. Appleton &

A MARRIAGE CEREMONY.
 In her latest novel Ada Cambridge has told a vivid story upon the basis of a very simple plot. A rich old man who desires his fortune to remain intact
 leaves it to his niece and his sister's stepson upon condition that they marry
 each other within three months from the time of his death. Other wise the money was to endow a hospital. The young people, being high-minded, are shocked upon discovering such an attempt to control their lives. The woman's wounded dignity and attitude of repudiation completely win the man's affection.
 He at last persuades her to let the marriage ceremony be performed with the understanding that they shall then immediately part. Betty's latent love for Rutherford grows during their long separation and culminates when he follows her from England to Australia and skillfully woos her. The conversations are lifelike and the characters are interesting. (D. Appleton & Co. 50.)

The New Civil Service Law.
 NEWTONVILLE, April 2, 1894.
 To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:
 Will you kindly allow me to speak a word through your columns to the public on the law recently passed, regulating the employment of men in the highway department.

As this may very likely be extended to the other departments in the near future,
 it becomes a matter for careful thought
 as to how it will work in our city.

It some respects it may be a just and useful law; but it is easy to see how,
 under certain conditions, it may greatly impair the efficiency of the public service.

Without trying to cover all the ground
 I wish to say a word for a class of men,
 who are deeply interested in this matter.
 I refer to the foremen of gangs in our
 out door work.

Now a properly ambitious foreman
 has one great object in view. He desires to excel in his work. All his energies are directed to this point. His motive may be a selfish one, but the fact remains that his interests and the city's interests are identical in this respect.
 He desires to obtain the best possible results in his work, and the city desires to have him do so.

Now to this end, he likes to have the best men he possibly can get. He needs to be able to weed out of his gang incapable, drunken or insubordinate men,
 and as far as possible to hold on to those who are strong, capable, willing and intelligent, and to train the most capable degree of efficiency. No doubt, he must often put up with inferior men, but he will be able to manage if he can have a part as he likes them.

Now I maintain that it is to the city's very best interest, to give him as much power as possible (subject to the control of his superintendents) and to the general regulations of his department) in the matter of hiring or discharging his men.
 It gives him a more thorough working
 control of the men themselves, a better
 "grip" on them. It enables him to select the kind of men he needs, to rid himself
 of men who are comparatively useless to him, and so, to render the very best service possible to the city in return for the money represented on his pay roll. To recapitulate.—The foreman knows just exactly what he has got to do, and what kind of men he needs to do it. He is "right in it" and it will tie his hands
 badly in many cases, to try to regulate him from the City Hall too closely.

I offer these remarks with the full consciousness that there are other important considerations affecting this question which should have their due weight, but I think it is of some importance that this side of the matter should not escape notice entirely.
 A FOREMAN.

"Beauty" may be "only skin deep;" but the secret of a beautiful skin is pure blood. Those coarse, rough, pimply complexions may, in most cases, be rendered soft, smooth, and fair by the persevering
 and systematic use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The best way to avoid scalp diseases,
 hair falling out, and premature baldness
 is to use the best preventive known for that purpose—Hall's Hair Renewer.

—We understand that Rev. Dr. Lawrence's condition is slightly improved this week.
—A baggage load from here attended a ball in Brookline, Tuesday night, and some of them had not got back Wednesday afternoon.
—Rev. and Mrs. Edwin H. Hughes are receiving many congratulations over the advent of a little girl which came to them Tuesday morning.
—There are letters at the postoffice for Mrs. F. W. Davis, John Daley, Joseph Doyle, Mrs. Helen M. Edes, Hattie E. Morrill.
—Unitarian Society, April 8th. Service at 10.30. Sermon, "Man, the Master," Sunday school at 12. Evening service at 7.30. Address on Wordsworth. Emerson class Tuesday at 7.45. Essay on Heroism. All welcome.
—Wiley S. Edmonds and Frank Edmonds have formed a partnership under the firm name of Wiley S. & Frank Edmonds, and will have an office in Gray's block, and also at 178 Devonshire street, Boston. Real Estate, Insurance and mortgages will be the business of the new firm.
—The Newton Centre Women's club held one of its largest meetings on Friday, March 30, at the house of Mrs. H. I. Ordway. The ladies were addressed by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore in her usual earnest, thoughtful, and suggestive manner. Her theme was the treatment of woman by man in the various conditions of society, on the island of Ceylon. Aden in Arabia, then through the Suez Canal to Port Said, and across the Mediterranean to Marseilles. Between Marseilles and the English Channel they visited Nice, Monte Carlo, and Paris, spending six weeks in these places all together. They will sail for home April 17, thereby missing the London season.

—At the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening the pastor will preach on "The Good of Failure."
—The Misses Edna and Ella Mason gave a delightful lunch party at their home on Ward street to a number of young ladies from Boston and the Newtons; the table was tastefully decorated with Easter lilies.

They give special attention to probate and insolvency matters, assignments and collections.

—Joseph Allison of Richardson's market, who was so severely injured last week, lies at the Newton hospital with no perceptible improvement. It is feared that he may lose the sight of one eye even if he ultimately recovers. His father came on from Connecticut this week. Allison has retained his senses ever since the accident. The hoof of the horse struck him full between the eyes, fracturing the forehead and nose and injuring one eye. The force of the blow sent him fifteen feet across the stable floor.

—The ringing of the fire alarm, Saturday afternoon, for nearly an hour, created much excitement until the cause became known. A still alarm had just sounded from 73 for a brush fire on Cedar street when the bell began to strike every conceivable number. Some of Alderman Roffe's men who were felling trees in preparation for building the new street between Montvale road and Beacon street, allowed one to fall on the wires which became short circuited and the blows of the axes as the tree was cut up and finally felled to the ground, releasing the wires, made the irregular strokes.

—The citizens of Newton Centre have again made known to the city council what they think of the electric car service between this place and Newtonville, in a petition presented Monday evening by Alderman Roffe. It was signed by seventy-five well known citizens, and it is pleasing to announce that it has resulted finally in decisive action on the part of the board of Aldermen. They passed an order requiring the company on or before Monday, April 16, to run through cars from Newton Centre to Newtonville every twenty minutes. We hope no postponement, variation or modification of this measure will receive sanction from the city fathers. They have been needlessly dilatory about taking this step, and now live up to it in summer and winter too.

—Crystal Lake Division, S. of T., had these officers installed last evening by the Misses McKenzie & Warren. Division, Boston: W. E. Andrew Freeman; W. G. Miss Sophie Taylor; R. S. Thos. Miller; A. R. S. Miss Alice Green; P. S. Angus McArthur; treasurer, Francis Stewart; Chap., Alfred Armstrong; C. Thos. Fay; A. C. Miss Jessie Horn; I. S. Mr. Morrison; O. S. Miss Amelia McLeod. —The Boy's club met last Tuesday evening and elected two new members. Some of the boys are to ride to Norumbega on bicycles next Saturday.

—The "Church Bell" announces that Rev. Carlton P. Mills will officiate at St. Paul's church on Sunday, Apr. 20th, at the morning service.

—A gang of men are at work laying side tracks on the city lot at Cook street, preparatory to the use of the lot, for a water pipe yard.

—Mr. Wm. McAdams is now having a house built on one of his lots bought of Mr. Foster. Work is also being pushed forward with the grading of Pierce street and Boylston road.

—Mrs. Wheeler, who has occupied a part of the house of Mr. G. P. Stevens, on Lincoln street, now occupies her own house on Tappan place, which has been occupied by the Pindar family, and we hear that the Pindars have leased the new house lately built for Miss Gould, near by.

—M. E. services next Sunday in Steven's hall at 10.45. The Rev. Nathaniel Fellows of Newton Upper Falls will preach, Sunday school at 12. Epworth League at 6. At 7 in the evening, the pastor, Mr. Shatto, will preach. This will be the last service before Conference. The many friends of Mr. Shatto hope that he will be returned to this charge, but of course nothing can be known with certainty until Conference has made its appointments. This is an anxious time of year for all Methodist churches.

—The regular meeting of the Congregational sewing circle was held at the Chapel Wednesday afternoon. On account of the rain, the attendance was not as large as usual. A most bountiful supper was furnished, and an entertainment followed, consisting of piano solo by Mrs. Shumway; reading by Miss Grace Ball, song by Miss Bragdon; Old Long Syne in pantomime by a double quartet, followed by games in which nearly all participated. What was lacking in attendance was made up by the success of the entertainment.

—The foundation of the new Associates block is now said to be solid and secure. There are those who believe a proper inspection of the first work, by the inspector of buildings, should have made improbable any chance of such a cave in. The inspector is certainly paid by the city to look out for such matters.

—The executive committee of the Improvement Association held its first meeting for the year Wednesday evening. Numerous plans were devised for carrying on the work for the coming year and great interest was manifested among all the members of the committee in making this one of the most successful years in the history of the Association. But this needs the co-operation of all the residents of the village, and the first method for obtaining this result is that of all the members should respond to the appeal of the treasurer at the annual dues, and new members of the village are earnestly invited to join the Association. ## CITY GOVERNMENT.

BOTH BRANCHES MEET—A HEARING INJUDICIALLY ADVERTISED IS RE-OPENED—ALDERMEN OPPOSE SCHOOL BOARD LEGISLATION AND THE COUNCIL SUPPORT THEM AFTER A FRUITLESS FIGHT—THE BULLEARD ORDER PASSED BY THE COUNCIL.

The aldermen met with the mayor in the chair and Alderman Bothfield absent. After the records had been read and approved the mayor appointed Dr. J. K. McLaughlin as inspector of provisions, and J. Edward Wittich as hoseman, dating from March 1. These were confirmed.

Messrs. C. E. Hastings of River street, Ward Three and Thomas A. Brady of Gay street, Ward Two, were drawn as jurors for the session of the Superior court at Lowell.

A communication was received from the Supreme Judicial court of a hearing on the petition of the Metropolitan Park commission to determine the proportion to be paid them by the towns and cities comprising the district.

A NEEDLESS BOTHER.

A notice of intention to build a small stable 30x20 feet in size, on the rear of his lot, from Daniel Hurley of Newton Upper Falls was read by the mayor.

It was found to have been referred to the board by the inspector of buildings. The mayor asked the inspector to enlighten the board as to the import of the matter.

Inspector Elder said the stable was to be constructed on the rear of a lot on which Mr. Hurley was building a house. The stable would be on a private way and was 50 feet from any other building.

Several matters of a like character have kept coming before the board in this manner with no apparent reason for a special consideration by that body.

The mayor very courteously asked Inspector Elder if he could not grant this permit without having it come before the board?

Inspector Elder—I presume I could but thought it better to bring it before the board.

Nothing more was said and the matter was dropped, the board taking no action as it is out of their province only in special cases, since they appointed an inspector, and drafted ordinances governing these matters.

Alderman Roffe presented a petition from residents of Highland avenue, protesting against the placing of telephone poles on that street. They had understood until after the hearing that the location was on Highland street instead of the avenue. It was signed by E. W. Redpath, F. A. Dawson, E. P. Hatch and about ten others.

THEY OBJECT.

Alderman Thompson presented a communication from Edgar W. Foster asking the city to clear a certain street near Newton Highlands of trees and bushes and have it graded and finished. Referred.

The alderman from Ward Five presented a remonstrance from Perseverance lodge, I. O. G. T. of Newton Upper Falls, protesting against the granting of any 6th class liquor license in that place. This was signed by John W. Wildman, Wilfred R. Morton and Wm. Dawson.

The temperance committee of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist church presented a like protest which was signed by John Blamers, president, and Ernest Young, chairman of the temperance committee, in which they stated that they "know the license to be grossly abused."

They were referred. The Newton Club et al. petitioned for a crosswalk on Highland street at Highland place. Referred.

Chas. Everett et al., petitioned for asphalt crosswalk across Cypress street. Referred.

The Newton & Watertown Gas Light Co. through Supt. W. E. Holmes, petitioned to change the location of an arc light pole to the south east corner of Waverley avenue and Sargent street, as the telephone company had a prior right to the location granted them. Referred.

THE HEARING RE-OPENED.

Alderman Roffe stated that owing to an error in the advertising of the hearing for pole location on Highland avenue, certain residents had been led to infer that it had reference to Highland street. [No notice of the hearing was published in the newspapers.] He moved that the hearing be reopened to give the residents of the avenue a chance to be heard.

The motion prevailed.

Mr. E. W. Redpath said he noticed a few weeks ago in reading the city government proceedings the petition of the telephone company for a location on Highland street and thought no more about it, but when he found that the location should have read Highland avenue and that a hearing had been given he was very much surprised.

There was only one subscriber on the avenue instead of three as stated at the hearing. Dr. Waterhouse was in Europe and had been for a year. Mr. Carter's telephone had been taken out. Dr. Woodman was not there and Dr. Whitson was the only resident who had a telephone on the street. Dr. Whitson was supposed to poles on the street as were all the other residents, and there was no present necessity for them. The petition of remonstrances contained the names of every property owner on the avenue but one, who is too ill to sign.

Alderman Kurney asked if the service was satisfactory?

Mr. Redpath said it was not very good but Dr. Whitson did not want the poles.

Mr. F. A. Dawson thought the telephone company were simply looking for subscribers. The poles would be disagreeable and unsightly and personally he should prefer to go without a telephone than to have the poles.

The hearing was then closed.

REPORTS AND ORDERS.

Alderman Thompson for the highway committee reported, recommending that the corners of Woodland avenue and Central street be rounded and that Central street be widened near the residence of J. Walter Davis.

An order was passed giving notice of the foregoing and a hearing appointed.

An order, authorizing the mayor to quit claim certain land in Ridge avenue to Ezra C. Dudley, was passed.

An order was passed, authorizing the water board to lay 200 feet of water pipe in Cottage street at a cost of $190; 268 feet, Mt. Vernon avenue at $775, 150 feet, McKay avenue at $171; 510 feet in South street and Waban Hill road at $191; a total appropriation of $1,125.

An order to lay out and accept Fountain street was passed.

An order was passed changing the name of Lynde street to Lincoln park as petitioned by Robert Bennett, et al.

SCHOOL BOARD POWERS.

Alderman Thompson in introducing an order embodying a resolution, made reference to an act now before the legislature to delegate more powers to the school committees in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth. He read the act, which would give those bodies the selection of plans and sites for new schoolhouses and appropriation and expenditure of money for the same, the sole charge of alterations and expenditure on such buildings, hiring of janitors, etc.

He thought the bill was too sweeping in character and offered a resolution.

In the opinion of the city council, House bill No. 540, ought not to pass and that the legislature committee be requested to present to the legislature a remonstrance against the passage of said act.

The order passed and the board then adjourned.

Common Council.

The common council was presided over by President C. W. Knapp and every member was present.

Various sewer hearings were opened at 7.45 o'clock, also one for the laying out of Austin street extension and closed without remonstrance.

The papers from the board of aldermen were taken up, the message relative to the veto of the order amending the joint rules and orders and establishing a committee on inspection of wires department, being first considered with concurrent action. Other papers were passed in concurrence, until the orders for the celebration of Grant's birthday, April 27, and the celebration act for April 10, were reached, when Councilman Briston moved a suspension of the rules for a second reading on one and Councilman Wing for the other.

In direct opposition to the precedent the council have recently sought to establish, the motions were supported and the orders passed.

When the order for an increase of $200 in the salary of the paymaster in the treasurer's office came up, Councilman Briston again moved a second reading, but the council had then woke up to what they had been doing and the order was laid over.

NORTHERN ROUTE OF COURSE!

The order laying out the boulevard from Valentine to Washington street was opposed by Councilman Childs who advocated delay.

He said: "This matter has been before the city government for so long a time that it would seem on first thought that it should be settled at once, I think, however, there are good reasons for delaying action at the present time. If the highway committee have chosen wisely the route that is best for the interest of the city, they can afford to wait to have their report sanctioned, but if they are mistaken in their choice or if new ideas have come up since they rendered their report, they above all others should be willing to delay action until there is no ground on which to oppose their decision. My reason for delay is that the city of Newton has not been granted the right to build a boulevard. The court has not as yet seen fit to render a decision in the matter, no one knows when it will be given, or what it will be. The same is true of the bill before the legislature asking the right to build. As I understand that, this bill is a special act giving Newton the right to build this boulevard, provided the court renders an adverse decision. Now if we vote on this question tonight it is an act of discourtesy to the legislature, for after asking them to grant us the right to build we go right on and vote to do it before they give us that right. If it is right or business-like for this council to lay out any part of this boulevard not knowing whether we have the right to build it or not? Another reason for delay is that the bill giving the right to the Metropolitan Park Commission to build boulevards and roadways in the Metropolitan district, has passed the house and is now before the Senate with a prospect of its passage within a few days. I know this idea has been laughed at by some, but the city of Newton being within the Metropolitan district and having to pay its proportion of the $500,000 appropriation in interest, sinking fund, maintenance and deficiency in amount paid in, will be the laughing stock of all surrounding cities if they do not avail themselves of this opportunity and ask for a portion of this $500,000 to build this central boulevard. Cambridge has already asked for $500,000. Is it not business for Newton to ask for a portion?"

He moved to table the order for further consideration.

Councilman Parker presented a petition signed by H. G. Lilldeth and others remonstrating against the southern route.

Councilman Briston spoke very emphatically in support of the projectors of the northern route. He hoped the motion would not prevail. He did not believe in railroading anything through the city government. The tax payers should be given every opportunity to become conversant with all matters of such moment, but in this case he believed the public at large fully understood the question at issue and the city council had sufficiently considered the matter to be able to decide. With such men for our highway committee, headed by such an able chairman, there was no reason for, or excuse in delay.

The vigorous championship of the northern boulevard route by the representative from Ward One opened in full the opposition to any delay. Seated conveniently in the rear of the Ward Three councilmen, Council G. A. Blaney of the northern route kept them posted on important details as the discussion continued.

Councilman Bullard of Ward Three was the next speaker. The boulevard had been carefully considered, he said, for the past year and he believed the city government were perfectly informed on every phase in the matter. The projectors of the northern route had made the city a very liberal offer, which it would be hard to again find and the limit expired May 1st. He thought the residents of West Newton were more competent to decide where they wanted the boulevard than anyone from outside, and he knew the feeling of a large majority of the people "interested in this portion of the boulevard."

Councilman Childs asked the member from Ward Three when the time limit of the northern people was advanced from April 1 to May 1. The last limit publicly known expired April 1.

The chairman stated that the time had been extended to April 16—not May 1.

Councilman Hatfield thought the house bill mentioned made no provision for laying out boulevards in any city. It only provided the commission with the power to connect reservations in the Metropolitan district by boulevards. He saw no reason for delay and advanced the old time argument that the matter should at once be decided, because the "liberal offer" made, would expire Apr. 10.

Councilman Childs read the bill in question to show that its intent was otherwise than stated.

Councilman Tolman interrupted the councilman who was speaking and tried to have the question called at once, but retired when called to order.

Continuing, Councilman Childs said it was not business like to go ahead and continue to lay out the boulevard, inviting people to speculate in real estate and changing present values when the city's application to the legislature for power to lay out these boulevards, has not yet come before that body. In addition to this was the bill of the Metropolitan park commission for a $500,000 appropriation, a portion of which money belonged to Newton and to which she was justly entitled to help pay for these very boulevards. Cambridge has already made application for a portion of that money to be spent in boulevard improvements in that city.

The vote was then taken on Councilman Childs' motion which was lost.

President Knapp was preparing to put the original order when Messrs. Hatfield and Bullard interrupted and asked for a yea and nay vote.

Councilman Savage asked to have the order read again and the request was granted.

The original order was then passed, President Knapp, Councilmen Tolman, Weed, Degen, Parker, Dickens, Ross, Hatfield, Bullard, Savage, Green, Wing and Briston voting yea and Councilman Childs nay and the northern route was established for this section of the boulevard.

GIVE THEM POWER?

Councilman Weed spoke strongly against concurrent action in reference to the resolution adopted by the aldermen opposing the house bill relative to school boards. There was a good deal of trouble in some places, which such powers in the hands of the school committee would avoid. He understood the act as giving the school board a veto power in the expenditure of money for its buildings and purposes. In other words a public property committee could not go ahead and choose a site for a school house, get out plans, build the building and then have the sanction of the school committee, neither could any alterations be made, additions constructed or janitors hired without the acquiescence of the school committee. It would give them a vetoing or advisory power, which he believed they should have.

Councilman Green did not believe the school board should have power to expend money. They are a very expensive body and small matters delegated to them, which the public property committee had supposed would be judiciously dealt with, proved very expensive experiences for the city.

Councilman Tolman thought from what he had seen of the Newton school committee, they could spend every bit of money appropriated each year by the city. He doubted the wisdom of giving them any such powers.

Councilman Degen believed there were some good things to be said. He was sure that the school board could not be conducted on the same lines as govern the water board. The latter have their meetings, and then come before the city council and ask for an appropriation.

Councilman Weed went over the matter at great length, dissecting the bill and arguing on each separately, tending to show as stated above by him that the power asked was not absolute only in its veto privilege. He called attention to the present school house committee, who were capable business men; Mr. Bond, formerly president of the council, and an ex-alderman, Mr. J. Edward Hollis, prominently mentioned last year for mayor, and Mr. F. H. Howes. These men were as well able to use these powers judiciously as any men on the council.

Councilman Tolman said the public property committee were formerly allowed $25 apiece for immediate necessities, which were all the time coming up. One case mentioned by him was when he told a certain party to go ahead in some repairs they wanted on a school building, and the bill was so in excess of what it should have been, he did not feel like continuing the practice. The city now has an inspector of buildings, and he should attend to these matters. He moved to table the order.

The motion was seconded by Councilman Weed, and was declared a vote by President Knapp.

It was doubted by Councilman Childs and a count of hands showed the motion to have been lost.

It was therefore declared not a vote. Councilman Ross said after listening to what Councilman Weed had said he saw no use in having a city council. They were put there to conduct the city business, but if powers belonging to them were given to the school board it would be useless to have both.

Councilman Bullard thought it would be more than a veto power—it would be a power of appeal from the decision of the government. They could refuse any plan, location or alteration proposed by the city government. They already have the right to do this in the case of teachers and janitors, which makes any legislation in that matter needless.

Councilman Green brought in an argument, some pipe repairing and improvements of the high school, which should have been well done for $140. The public property committee delegated the work to the people at the high school with the understanding that they knew best what they wanted and would be judicious in carrying out the plans. The bill that came in to the city for the work was over $600 where $150 should easily have sufficed. There was a great difference between the privilege and right, and at present, in case any of the privileges are violated, the city government has the right to take it away from them.

Councilman Weed said he could match the $600 story by reference to a chairman of the public property committee who contracted a bill of $2,600 which the city was to pay. He said he was from that he did not think the bill contemplated was as radical as pictured.

Councilman Tolman did not believe in raking up the misdeeds of past city council or committees. He corroborated the extravagance mentioned by Councilman Green. His impression was that the repairs contemplated were figured at about $50 and the bill for them was in excess of $600. The order was adopted in concurrence.

Councilman Degen moved a suspension of the rules for a second reading on the $1,124 appropriation for the water board and the order was passed, were figured at about $50 and the bill for them was in excess of $600. The order was adopted in concurrence.

walk on Watertown street. Referred.
Geo. E. Gilbert, et al., petitioned for a cross walk on Rice street near Centre street. Referred.
Councilman Childs presented a petition from B. S. Cloutman and nineteen others for the laying out and acceptance of Waban avenue. Crofton street, Nehodden road and others.

He called special attention to this petition. Waban was hampered very much in development in having none but the old highways accepted by the city. Many people who were desirous of locating in Waban were deterred by the streets not being laid out and accepted. Those contained in the petition were portions of streets containing blocks of nine or ten houses. The petition was referred.

Henry C. Ayers, et al., petitioned for seven street lights on Dudley street. Referred.
The council then adjourned.

WEST NEWTON POST OFFICE.

JOSIAH QUINCY AS A REFORMER IN THE CASE.

Nothing has been said in the papers, says the Boston correspondent of the Springfield Republican, as far as I have seen, about the West Newton post office case. Yet it signified a triumph of anti-spoils principles and the Republican incumbent has been reappointed. Quite a history is involved and there was a struggle for months between the Democratic machine and the people of West Newton. The incumbent when the Cleveland administration came into power was Mr. Stacy, a Republican, who has held the place for four or five presidential terms. During Cleveland's first term he had been reappointed and Harrison had given him another term. Early this year this term expired.

There was a Democratic politician named Cox who wanted the office, but the people of the village preferred Mr. Stacy. The Democratic city committee of 1893, even, was in favor of Stacy. This is the members of the ward (ward 3 of Newton) preferred him and the members from the other wards supported them. But Cox manipulated the committee for 1894 so that he secured its endorsement. Stacy's friends worked with a will for his reappointment. They secured on the petition for him more Democratic votes cast in West Newton at the last state election. They had no trouble in securing an equally strong endorsement of the Republicans. But this was not half of the battle. However strong the Democratic principles of Postmaster General Bissell, he has a broad rule that when the term of a Republican expires a Democrat shall be put in his place. He goes to the extent of allowing Republicans, as a rule, to serve out their terms, but the officers have been so unevenly distributed, according to his belief, that it is only right that Republicans whose terms have run out shall be followed by Democrats. So there was this standing rule to encounter. The Democratic committee of Newton was also working for Cox.

But the civil-service reformers of West Newton—and it must be remembered that this particular spot is as fertile in reform sentiment as any other equal acreage in the Bay state, for here was the liveliest phase of the movement which in 1882 elected Theodore Lyman to Congress, and in 1884 was a pioneer in the mugwump movement—these reformers went to work with the idea that they had a worthy case which demanded the making of an exception to the Bissell rule. They did what they could at Washington and Mr. Stacy was finally reappointed. Josiah Quincy claims a large share in this success, saying that he deserves the credit of it and that he went to see Mr. Bissell four or five times in behalf of Mr. Stacy. If the credit is due to Quincy, the reformers are thoroughly disposed to give it to him, notwithstanding his fear that they will be so prejudiced by his general career at Washington as to deny him any sympathy whatever with the reform of the civil service. They have not the slightest disposition to withhold from him anything which is his due, but they are also disposed to hold him to account for much that is hurtful to the party. Some of them are outspoken and it will take more than one case, though they are thankful for that, to restore their confidence in him.

The Newton Boat Club.

The annual meeting of the Newton Boat Club was held at the Club House, at Riverside, on Monday evening. The various committees made their reports, and the following officers were elected: President, Andrew B. Cobb, of Newton; vice pres., Frederic M. Crebore, of Newton Lower Falls; secy., Severance Burrage, of West Newton; treas., A. Stuart Pratt, of West Newton; captain, Harry L. Burrage, of West Newton; nominating committee, Wm. T. Farley, chairman.

Amendments to the by-laws were adopted, providing that thirty members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business, and not less than twenty per cent a quorum to amend or repeal the constitution or by-laws. It was also voted that the number of members shall at no time exceed two hundred and fifty, exclusive of those of over ten years continuous membership, which will leave only a vacancy of 3 at present, but that number will soon be increased by the limit provided.

The following was also adopted: "Annual assessments shall be paid as follows, in advance, on or before May 1st:

"By all active members of less than ten years continuous membership, the sum of fifteen dollars;

"By those of less than fifteen years continuous membership, the sum of ten dollars; and "By those of fifteen years continuous membership, the sum of five dollars."

Some sixty-five members were present at the meeting.

Wellesley Glee Club.

The Wellesley College Glee and Banjo Clubs will give a concert at the Wellesley Town Hall, on Wednesday evening, April 18, at 7.45 o'clock.

"Six days shalt thou labor," says the great lawgiver. To do good work, man must be at his best. This condition is attained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It overcomes that tired feeling, quickens the appetite, improves digestion, and makes the weak strong.

NEWTON CENTRE.

The forty-first semi-annual meeting of the Suffolk West Conference was held Wednesday at the First Congregational church. The weather interfered to some extent with the attendance, but the church was nearly all well represented and the sessions proved very interesting. The church was beautified for the occasion by many potted hydrangeas banded in front of the pulpit and on the right. The first session opened at 2.30 o'clock with Rev. D. P. Birnie, D. D., of Allston, as chairman and Rev. J. M. Dutton of Newtonville as acting secretary. After the organization the conference received and accepted the resignation of Mr. S. Brainerd Pratt as secretary and Rev. C. E. Havens was chosen to fill the vacancy thus caused. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Dr. Furber of the First church, and the report on church work followed, showing a very successful half year among the churches of the conference. Rev. David Lundquist of Waltham gave a short address on "The Swedish Work," and the session, "Conversion. What is it?" was taken up under sub-heads. Rev. C. E. Havens of Newton Highlands made the opening address under "For Whom, When and Why?" He was followed in turn by Rev. J. F. Gleason of Needham on "Agents In," and Rev. Wolcott Calkins of Eliot church, Newton, on "From What to What." At the conclusion of the address a general resolution of the conference was adopted, which was participated in by Rev. E. H. Byington of Newton, Mr. S. L. B. Spear and others. A collation and social reunion preceded the evening session, which was held at 7 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Birnie. The devotional exercises were led by Rev. Jonathan Edwards of Wellesley Hills. A resolution embodying the appreciation and heartfelt thanks of the conference for the hospitality extended them by the First church, offered by Rev. J. M. Dutton, was unanimously adopted. The topic of the evening was "The Secret of the 'Winning Word,'" Rev. Geo. H. Cate of the Shawmut avenue church, Boston, opened the discussion under the sub-division of "The Preacher's Use of the Bible." Many believed all a preacher had to do was to preach from the Bible, but the application was not perhaps so idealistic as would appear. After an illustration he continued: Congregationalism has no traditions or apostolic successions, no bishops, popes and elders, only the bible with which to uphold and carry on the work of Christ. The Bible gives us in Jesus Christ an illustration of how souls may be won: His personality, His power of speech and marvelous works drew all men to Him, and it is by studying the marvelous power of His ministry that we should endeavor to find the secret of winning souls. We must have the same nature, not in quality, but in kind, to be successful. Rev. Dr. C. H. Dickinson of Berkeley Temple, Boston, spoke on "The Christian's use of personal experience." Referring to the variety of experiences he mentioned the apostles as illustrating of several types. Peter's temper was a shadow over his love for Christ; Thomas was doubting and inclined to be cynical, but both loved their leader. No two experiences were alike and the winning of each soul must be different. Many expect too much in a convert; he must have had a distinct or perhaps a Pauline experience before he is truly converted, and doubtless there are those today who believe they are not fully Christians because they have not had such an experience. Paul's was a typical and unique experience, but it did not follow that such an experience was necessary for a convert. Maj. Brewer, by his earnest, straightforward testimony, drew to Christ through the Salvation Army people who could be won in no other way. Mr. Moody made converts by the power of his preaching. Mr. Miller preaches an ethical religion. Certain types are affected by each of these evangelists. The secret is in so using your own sincere experience as to get into another man's heart, and win him. An open discussion by Rev. E. B. Floyd and others was followed by adjournment.

—Mrs. Eaton, a former resident here, is visiting with Mrs. Lyon.

—The marriage of Wm. Rourke to Miss Ellen Nolan was celebrated Tues. ay evening, Rev. E. H. Callahan of St. John's church performing the marriage ceremony. A wedding reception followed, largely attended by many of their friends and acquaintances. They were the recipients of many useful and ornamental wedding gifts.

New Church at Newtonville.

On Sunday next at 10.45 a. m., will be opened to public worship for the first time the beautiful church of the Newtonville New Church Society, situated on Highland avenue, of which Rev. John Worcester is the pastor.

The little church seating 400 people is in plan a rectangle 70 feet long by 40 feet wide, having a broad center aisle and two side aisles next the north and south walls. The interior work with its high dado and hammer beam trusses, suggests the great hall of William Rufus at Westminster, after which it was modelled. It is dignified, effective and acoustically very successful. The church is lighted by pointed windows placed above the dado; those at the sides are simple and light in color; those at the east and west ends are to be filled with glass of deeper tone and more elaborate design, and all in scheme harmonizing with the detail of the church. The high screen separating the organ and robing room from the chancel is very well designed. It is in the transition from the late gothic style to that of the early renaissance. A low screen extends across the front of the chancel except in the center opposite the broad aisle and furnishes a support for the lectern. The chancel furniture is simple in character with a little good carving at the stair towers and elaborately carved spandrels and panels embellished with shields; much is made of the tracing of the windows and battlements of the tower.

The building grew in true medieval fashion. Helpers carried the stones up the inclined plank to the stagings, where the journey men laid them in the wall, the method being identical with that employed in constructing the village churches of England and Normandy in the 12th and 13th centuries. The result is far different, however, for we have not only churchiness and quaintness inside and simple attractiveness outside, but the warmth and comfort made possible by modern heating and ventilating appliances.

Mr. H. F. Ross was the builder under plans and supervision of Messrs. Cram, Wentworth & Goodhue. The screen work and furniture are by Mr. John Boltz of Boston.

The Society is considering plans for making this a practically free church, and desires to extend its hospitality to friends, neighbors and the community in the most liberal manner.

In consequence of the continued illness of their pastor no dedication will at present take place, but the opening service will be conducted by Rev. W. L. Worcester of Philadelphia, son of the pastor, assisted by Mr. Louis G. Hoeck of the Theological school at Cambridge, who is for the present supplying the place of the pastor.

The Holy Supper will be administered at the close of the morning service. All seats in the church will for the present be unassigned and free to all who desire to attend.

The Back Yards.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:
I notice that the boards of health are to have more power to act in carrying out their duties. The legislature has a bill before it, that the boards may be empowered to clean out private ways at the expense of the abutters. Now, would it not have been better to have gone a little further and clean out some of the back yards of those houses that have a fine front, but just go to the rear of those same premises, and what do you see? Nothing but rubbish, etc., etc. An example of this can be seen on the line of the B. & A. R. R. through the Newton, and also through Brookline and Longwood. Some of our provision and grocery stores might be looked after a little sharper by our board of health.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

CITY HALL HEARINGS.

At the meeting of the City Council last Monday night all the residents of Highland avenue appeared to remonstrate against having telephone poles placed on their street. A hearing had been held on the matter, but none of the residents had seen the notice, which had been posted on some tree or fence, and so they asked to have the case reopened.The remonstrators testified that they took the GRAPHIC and Journal, and neither paper had contained an advertisement of the hearing, and they could hardly have been expected to look along the trees and fences for a notice of such an important matter. The board evidently agreed with them, for the hearing
was reopened, and the remonstrators made out a very strong case. They did not think that telephone poles would add to the beauty of their street, and the sentiment appeared to be as strong against any inroad of poles as was the case when the Telephone Company tried to get a location on West Newton hill.As the Telephone Company pays for the advertisement of the hearings it was probably out of consideration for them that such a cheap way of advertising was adopted, but it evidently was not satisfactory to the other parties affected, and did not accomplish its purpose in informing them of what was intended.In old times, before newspapers were common, there used to be a public sign post, on which were placed all sorts of notices, so that the scattered inhabitants could stop when passing, and find out what was going on. But the public sign post was long ago abolished in Newton,
and it would seem that matters affecting so nearly the property owners should be advertised when they can be seen.
Highland avenue people evidently think
so, and perhaps their remonstrance
may help to bring about a reform in such matters. Because the Newton papers are "personae non gratae" to whoever has charge of advertising the hearings, is no sufficient reason why property owners
should not be informed of what nuisances, as they may consider them, are contemplated in their vicinity.The worst weather of the winter was reserved for the second week in April,
and the severe storm of Sunday had hardly subsided when a more severe northeaster met it, accompanied by a heavy snow fall, and great damage has been reported all along the coast, many vessels being wrecked, telephone and telegraph wires blown down, and all the wires in the sea coast cities more or less mixed up. In Newton less damage is reported than from points farther south, where the wind was more violent. The storm resembled in many respects the great blizzard of March, 1888, except that less snow fell. Here in Newton the mercury did not get down to freezing
and the snow melted rapidly, although the snow plows had to be got out from their summer quarters, and a large force of men were put on to open out the gutters, a very unusual thing in April.
The pleasant weather of March roused anticipations of an early spring, which April has sadly disappointed. It is not thought, however, that much damage has been done to the budding trees and the early spring flowers, as the weather
has not yet been cold enough for that,
although the storm has prepared people
for the worst, and the usual stories of the total ruin of the peach crop have started on their rounds. We generally get about the same amount of disagreeable spring weather and the first half of April will make up for the unexpected
mildness of March.One thing appears to be demonstrated by Newton's experience with street railways, which is that good roads are impossible, when a street railway has its tracks in the centre of a narrow street.
Constant repairing will keep them passable, but the expense of this deters many cities from doing more than making repairs once or twice a year. Newton has always had a high reputation for its excellent roads, but the reason why it stood so high in this respect was the absence of street railways in its narrow streets. Cambridge and Somerville have about the worst roads of any of the suburban cities, but one reason for this is that they have scarcely a street of any importance that is not cut up by street railway tracks. In Newton it has been found by experience on Washington street, that when the tracks are on the side of the street, the road is easily kept
in good condition, while in other sections with the tracks in the centre, the sametravel wears out the road faster than it can be repaired. Street cars are one of the modern conveniences that every city
must have, but they have their drawbacks, like most other good things. The city fathers have wisely determined to allow no more car tracks in narrow streets, and if this determination is persisted in, Newton may be able to maintain its reputation for good roads.The great objection to giving the school board power to spend money for school houses and other purposes, is not that the board would be extravagant, or
is not composed of able and capable business men, but that they represent only one branch of the city government, and are naturally inclined to consider the schools as the only important branch of the city expenditures. The City Council have to look at the expense as a whole,
and knowing all the departments that must be cared for, they can judge better
whether an expenditure in one particular department can be afforded or not. Being elected every year, the members of the City Council are held to a more strict accountability for their actions, and any extravagant use of the city's money
would be followed by swift retribution
at the next election. The school committee, on the other hand, are not so close in their relations to the people, and it takes several years for the voters to show their dissatisfaction by changing the majority in the board. School committees are apt to see only their own department and are sometimes so impressed with the needs of the schools
that they would find no difficulty in extending the whole of the tax levy for school purposes. Having the City Council pass upon the expenditures has a restraining effect, and has so far served a useful purpose. Possibly if school committees had the power to appropriate money they would feel more responsibility, and develop more economical tendencies, but the popular impression
is that school boards are the most extravagant portion of any city government, and this is the reason why the bill
before the legislature is so generally opposed. There is no more reason for making the school committee independent of the City Council, then for making the fire, or sewer, or any of the other committees.THE SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN has a novel advertisement, which has attracted much attention, but it appears that it is regularly paid for, a resident of Springfield having contracted to have the Ten Commandments appear every other day
in that paper. Judging from the numerous sensational trials, the shameless
lack of principle displayed by prominent politicians, and the scandals that form a large part of the daily news, there is a general ignorance of and disregard for these rules of right living.The struggle over the location of the boulevard through West Newton appears to be settled, the Common Council having concurred with the aldermen, by a vote of 13 to 1, in selecting the northern route. It has been a warm contest, and each side put forth the best arguments in their power. Now that it is over, the controversy should settle down, and all should resolve to make the best of it.Wonder what has become of that petition, asking the court for a commission to abolish the grade crossings? Probably it will be heard from about the time
that the court decides on the boulevard matter. If these two questions were settled Coxey's army might find work in Newton, if any of them desire such a thing.It is said that the Newton & Boston Street Railway Company are willing to obey the order, requiring them to run more frequent cars from Newton Centre and Upper Falls, provided there shall be a clause added that cars shall be run only when there is at least one paying passenger who wants to ride.

services were held at the Church of Our Lady Wednesday. The interment was at the home of the bride's parents.—Thomas Hughes, aged 45, died Saturday at his home on Watertown street. He has resided here nearly twenty years and was a foreman in the Silver Lake Mills.

He was buried Tuesday at Waltham high

To Ladies.

A lady who gives hygienic facial treatment, and also does manicuring and shampooing, would like a few more customers in Newton. Gives Newton references. See card under ladies' specialties on 6th page.Mistaken Identity.—Mrs. Fangle—
"Why didn't you ring the dinner bell, Bridget?" Bridget—"I couldn't find any, ma'am."Mrs. Fangle—"Why, it's on the dining-room sideboard."
Bridget—"Osh! An' is it that one it is?
An' yourself could see it right as that was the breakfast bell!"—Life.Puck: Jinks—"Mighty mean of the Masons to get back at Mrs. Lease the way they did." Winks—"She claimed to have seen an initiation by peeping
through a sliding wicket at Lockport, didn't she?" Jinks—"Yes, and now the Lockport Masons say that they haven't used a sliding wicket for forty years."

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

TREMONT THEATRE—Next week, beginning Monday, April 10, the famous Bostonians will begin an engagement at this theatre. There will be an extra matinee on the holiday, the 10th of April. The Bostonians is the best known, most liked, and most thoroughly equipped organization for the production of English Opera in this country. "The Bostonians" are our own home organization, the only corps of artists presenting bona fide comic opera, or as it is somewhat misnamed, English Opera.
 There is no doubt regarding the welcome of this group of accomplished artists. Were they only one-half as able in their art; did they only afford one-third as much artistic and well founded enjoyment, they would still be welcome above all organizations of their kind, for a majority of the time, to the very registered, Bostonians in fact. We are always proud of them, because wherever they visit they confer great credit on our city. "The Bostonians" will open their season with a new opera, "The Maid of Plymouth," composed by T. Pearsal Thorne; written by Clay M. Greene.
 Dealing with the early history of our vicinity in a very merry way, it is a true comic opera, and abounds in fun of the heartiest sort, without the wholesale buffoonery we have to bear in most misnamed comic opera. No season in the past has been so successful as the current of "The Bostonians." They have won the extreme of popularity everywhere. The personnel of "The Bostonians" was never better.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—No more gratifying welcome could have been extended than was given the return of the Grand Opera House stock company last Monday evening. "The Diplomats" was given its first presentation before one of the largest audiences of the season, and every member of the stock company in the cast was given enthusiastic and deserving recognition. The author of the play, Edward M. Alfriend, at the conclusion of the third act was called before
 the curtain for a speech and graciously thanked the audience for its kindly recognition of his endeavor. The second week of "The Diplomats" begins on Monday evening next, and so interested
 has the public become in the production
 that the advance sale of seats assures for the second week even larger audiences
 than have already been present, and that is saying a good deal, for the spacious theatre has contained some of the largest gatherings of the year. The debut of Miss Henrietta Lander in the leading female role was a pleasurable feature.
 "The Diplomats" should enjoy a long and successful run.

Facts Worth Knowing.
 In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned. Worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

LASELL'S FAIR SOLDIERS.
ENTERTAIN MEMBERS OF THE SUBURBAN
SCHOOL REGIMENT.

The members of the suburban school regiment were entertained by the young ladies of the Lase'll military battalion at Auburndale last Saturday afternoon.
 Heretofore the young ladies have entertained the various posts of the G. A.
 R., but this year they determined to entertain their brother soldiers nearer their own age, hence the presence of the school battalions from Woburn, Newton, Malden and Chauncy Hall.

The gymnasium was elaborately decorated with the flags of all nations and a triangular shaped arrangement of Egyptian flags covered the ceiling.
 Entering the front door of the seminary, the youthful soldiers were met by fair ushers in blue skirts. Norfolk jackets and jaunty military caps.

Two young ladies stood at either side of the door, and smiled their prettiest welcomes. They were Corps Julia Hogg, Winifred Conlin, Elizabeth Mc-Echron and Josephine Chandler, who escorted the young gentlemen to the door of the gymnasium, where were in waiting Lieut. Florence Ry, Sergts.
 Grace Loud and Grace Allen of company
 A, and Lieut. Mollie Taylor and Serg.
 Carrie Steel and Bertha Lillibridge, who presented the guests to the receiving party standing half-way down the spacious room.

Among those to receive the young soldiers were Prof. and Mrs. C. C. Brag-don, Mrs. Shepherd, Mrs. Strong, together with Capt. Carrie Gilman and Alice Androsen.

As an effective finish to their military dress, the soldier girls wore ties to correspond with their regimental color, those of company A wearing red and those of company B yellow.

When all had been introduced a squad
 from the Newton school gave a sabre drill. This was followed by a bayonet drill by the Malden boys.

As a pleasant diversion Miss Conlin sang "The Sun Kissed the Clover," and later on Miss Lewis gave a pleasing rendition of "Snowflakes." Miss Anderson played their piano accompaniments.
 Lemonade was dispensed, and later on the march for the new and beautiful appointed dining room was taken up,
 and joined in by a company of about
 couple of hundred ladies and gentlemen,
 who feasted upon salads and ices.

The Lase'll battalion is composed of 90 young ladies, who have drilled twice a week during the past six years under direction of Maj. Benyon of the 5th infantry, M. V. M.

The battalion is divided into two companies and is officered as follows: Company A, Capt. Alice Androsen; 1st Lieut.
 Florence Ray; 1st Sergt. Grace Loud; 2d
 Sergt. Grace Allen; 3d Sergt. Julia
 Hogg; Corps. Winifred Conlin, Lotia
 Proctor and Jennie Rich; company B,
 Capt. Caroline Gilman; 1st Lieut. Mollie
 Taylor; 1st Sergt. Carrie Steel; 2d Sergt.
 Bertha Lillibridge; 3d Sergt. Elizabeth McEchroon; Corps. Josephine Chandler,
 Carrie Manning and Grace Robb.

From the Newton high school battalion
 came a squad under command of Capt.
 Blanchard. They were Capt. Marshall,
 Capt. Gilbert, Lieuts. Brown, Hollings
 and Rand and Adj. Lesh.

The Malden high school squad was commanded by Maj. Gay, and included
 Capt. Walker, Capt. Evans, Capt. Chase, Lieuts. Wood, Macy, Pierce, Sergts.
 Swain, Flanders, Campbell, Benjamin,
 Waterman, H. Wiley, Wiggins, Adj. Millen and Corps. Burr and Priest.

There were also several from the Chauncy Hall school and from the Woburn high school, but neither demonstrated their military training.

Among those present were Mr. L. H.
 Owen, master of the Woburn high school,
 and Mrs. Owen, Mr. E. Gay, master of the Malden high school, and Mrs. Gay;
 Mr. R. F. Curtis, master of the Chauncy
 Hall school; Mr. E. J. Goodwin, master of the Newton high school, and Mrs.
 Goodwin, and Mrs. George H. Benyon.

A Newton Author.
 "The Evolution of Spiritual Man" is the title of a book by Rev. W. M. Lisle of West Newton. It was published on Saturday last by Silver, Burdett & Co. of Boston. It was electrotyped and printed at the Riverside Press. It is elegant bound and makes a handsome gilt edged volume of 217 pages, 12 mo.

Rev. A. H. Plumb, D. D., of Bos-ton,
 says of it:

"It is refreshing to see a writer of thoroughly Evangelical spirit, contending for the harmony between nature and revelation, between science and religion, between the orderly unfolding of God's thought in the process of natural evolution and the direct and immediate acts of God's supernatural interposition. In redemption, as in creation, God evolves only what He first involves. And this book is an earnest and reverent attempt to trace some of the steps of the Infinite
 one, in His mightiest work, 'The Evolution of Spiritual Man.'"

Drummond's "Natural Law in the Spiritual World," claimed that mere analogies established identity, thus confounding the two realms of matter and of spirit, which are necessarily and forever distinct. That mistake this author avoids. His readers will eagerly mark the many striking and instructive parallels he presents, between the work of God in nature and God's mightier work in grace.

If the writer appears severe in his judgment of the imperfections of the church, yet will he be deemed faithful in the urgency of his plea, that the church
 should realize its divine ideal."

—The hearing given by the license committee, Monday, on the petitions presented by certain representatives of two local societies did not demonstrate the feeling of Upper Falls in the matter by one iota. Not one of the petitioners against fifth class licenses in the place are property owners, in fact some of them are quite the reverse of that can be. The true public sentiment of this place is that licenses should be granted here if they are granted elsewhere in the city. Either prohibit absolutely or deal impartially. Hypocrisy is a garment that cannot be discarded and resumed at will without fast becoming threadbare.

—Boston Transcript: "A crank is one whose opinions run counter to your own, my son. You may be a crank to the man who is a crank to you."

—Chicago Inter-Ocean: He—"What do you say, my dear, shall I have my life insured?" She—"You don't feel as though it would shorten your life do you, darling?" He—"Pooh, no." She—"Oh, my, I don't believe I'd go to the expense of it, then."

JAPANESE CLANSMEN.

Sons Who Died to Avenge Their Fathers. The Forty-seven Ronin.

No crusader of the west, no viking of the north, cherished a higher ideal of loyalty and chivalry than the clansmen of old Japan; no Corsican more ruthlessly handed down a feud from generation to generation or exacted from son and brother the execution of a sterner vendetta. The Satsuma men of today triumph in the fact that their own swords have avenged in this generation the defeat inflicted on their forefathers in the year 1,600 by the Todegawa clan.

Legend and drama recount every day to eager ears the stories of sons who died to avenge their fathers, clansmen that they might slay the foe men who had caused the death of their lord. The favorite heroes, who hold in popular estimation the place assigned by us to Robin Hood and his men, are the 47 ronin, a name given to men who have lost their clanship.

Their lord was obliged to commit hara kiri, or judicial suicide, for having within royal precincts drawn his sword on a noble who had insulted him, and these stanch vassals devoted themselves to the destruction of the insulters, knowing assuredly that, having slain him, they would be equally condemned to take their own lives.

Still may be seen fresh incense sticks burning before the graves of their leader and his young son and visiting cards stuck into the little tablets above them as tokens of the respect in which they are held by those who know their story and deplore their doom.

Mr. Black records that at a review of British troops in 1864 at Yokohama a great daimio was watching with interest the maneuvers of their regiments and batteries of artillery stationed there. At the conclusion he was asked to allow the escort of his retainers who had accompanied him to go through their drill and tactics, to which he readily consented.

Turning to Sir Rutherford Alcock, who was inspecting the troops, he proudly said:

"My retinue is small, and their tactics are not worthy of notice after what we have seen, but there is not one man among them who, if I say die, will not unhesitatingly sacrifice his life at my command."—Nineteenth Century.

The Repairs Were Made.

The Rev. Mr. Adams of Leominster was an eccentric character and had no hesitation in speaking his mind, either to congregation or to individuals. He was about to exchange with a neighboring minister, a mild and inoffensive man, who knew the bluntness of his disposition and said to him in advance:

"You will find some panes of glass broken in the pulpit window, and possibly you may suffer from the cold. The cushion, too, is in bad condition, but I beg of you not to say anything to my people about it. They are poor and disinclined to think of repairs."

Before Mr. Adams left home that Sunday morning he filled a bag with rags and took it with him. When he had been in the pulpit a few minutes the draft began to make itself felt, and he deliberately took a handful of rags from his bag and stuffed them into the window. The sermon dwelt upon the duties of congregations toward their ministers, and he soon became very animated, and brought down both fists with tremendous force upon the pulpit cushion. The feathers scattered in every direction, but pausing only to exclaim, "Why, how these feathers fly!" he proceeded with his discourse.

He had fulfilled his brother minister's request of not addressing the congregation directly on the subject, but all the same he had effected his point. Next Sunday the window and cushions were found to be in excellent repair.—Youth's Companion.

Removing Glass Stoppers.

Sometimes it is very difficult to remove a glass stopper from a bottle. A cloth wet in hot water generally is sufficient, but if this fails, remember the principle is to expand the neck of the bottle by heat and not the stopper. With hot water the latter is often heated equally with the neck, and thus the desired effect is not produced. By holding the neck of the bottle about half an inch above the flame of a lamp or candle, however, in a few seconds the most obstinate cork will generally come out. Care must be taken to turn the bottle rapidly and not allow the flames to touch the glass, as it might crack it. When the glass is thoroughly heated, a steady pull and twist will almost always bring out the stopper.—Exchange.

Bobby Burns and the Mayor.

On one occasion, arriving at Carlisle on horseback, Bobby Burns is said to have turned his steed out to grass for a while, and the animal strayed on to a meadow belonging to the corporation and got impounded. Although the horse was given up to him, the poet retaliated upon the mayor, whose tenure of office was to expire on the very morrow of the incident, as follows:

Was e' paur poet sae beffited?
The maister drunk—the horse committed;
Fair harmless beast! Tak' thee nae care!
Thou'lt be a horse when he's nae mair (mayor).
—Dundee News.

Rev. Plink Plunk on Resignation.

Always be prepared for the worst, dear brethren, an den, if de best is wot falls to yer lot, ya'll be able to enjoy it doubly, an eben if yer luck changes ya won't hab dat all gone feelin dat de man has who expects everything an always finds hisself amongst de great ahny ob de left.—New York Herald.

Like the Celestial City.

St. John's vision of the celestial city will almost apply to our great municipalities in one respect, now that the electric globe is turning night into day, "And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it."—Boston Transcript.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

A grand parish social and supper, under the auspices of the young people of St. John's Catholic church will be held in Freeman hall, on Wednesday evening, Apr. 18th, the eve of the new holiday. Excellent music is secured for the dancing which will continue from 8 to 2 o'clock. The tickets are placed at one dollar a couple, as if this price includes the supper. The proceeds will be given to the Trade School and Industrial Home for destitute boys in Newton Highlands. A special supper will be served at 9 o'clock, in Parish hall, for all the old folks, and for the ladies and gentlemen who do not wish to patronize the dancing. Special tickets for the 9 o'clock supper are placed at 50 cents. Ladies are admitted to the dancing hall on supper tickets. Father Callahan hopes to make this party a grand success, and the object is a most worthy one.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE ALDERMEN LISTEN TO REMONSTRANCES AGAINST GRANTING DRUGGIST LICENSES—THEY RESCIND THE N. & B. RAILROAD SCHEDULE ORDER.

The meeting of the aldermen, Monday evening, proved of much importance, the remonstrances against the granting of druggists' licenses and some of the gentlemen interested in the N. & B. street railway bringing to the front for consideration by the chamber two matters of general interest.

The mayor presided and Alderman Thompson was absent.

The records were read and approved. The mayor before introducing the business of the meeting made a statement relative to giving notice of hearings ordered by the board.

He said any statement he may have made last week about advertising hearings was not meant as a reflection in any sense upon the city clerk. The latter acted under the authority of the board. He believed it desirable that hearings should be thoroughly advertised for the benefit of the citizens interested in these various matters.

N. &amp; B. HEARING.

A hearing was then opened on the location for a turnout on Walnut near Homer street, asked by the N. & B. street railway company.

H. B. Parker for the company said the petition had been presented to obviate the dissatisfaction expressed by the people of Newton Centre at the present service. With a turnout at this point the Walnut street cars from both terminals would meet, doing away with any waiting on the part of Newton Centre passengers at Homer street.

The hearing was closed. A hearing on petition of the N. & W. Gas Light Co. for pole in Claremont street and Fairmount avenues was closed without remonstrance.

The mayor said he had received the proclamation of Gov. Greenhalge, for the observance of "Patriots' Day," April 19, and Arbor Day, April 28. A communication from Charity Lodge I. O. G. T., was read protesting against the granting of any 6th class liquor license at Nonantum. It was signed by James W. Moore, secretary.

The Massachusetts Bicycle Club petitioned for permits to pass through Newton on their return from participating in the parade at Lexington, April 19, without lanterns. Signed by E. C. Wade, secretary, A. D. Peck, captain. The mayor said the request could not be granted without violating the ordinance.

Alderman Plummer asked if some concession could not be made by disposing of lanterns as cover the progress of the club. He thought the ordinance applied more particularly to individual riders, whereas this would be a large body. The communication was placed on file. Papers from the common council were passed in concurrence.

LICENSES GRANTED.

The auctioneers' license of Edward Sands, Newtonville, and Frank A. Day, Newton, were granted.

Intelligence office licenses were granted as follows: Geo. Lane, Washington street, Newton; Mrs. C. J. Leighton, Mrs. Rose O'Halloran, Washington street, West Newton; Mrs. Ellen E. Wright, Washington street, Newton; wagon licenses, Adams Express Co.; C. E. Bishop, 2; H. T. Hesse, 2; Frank Chamberlain, 1; A. H. Eames, 4; Geo. Fife, 2; Geo. W. French, 3; P. Gibson, 1; R. B. Hill, 1; W. J. Holmes, 2; C. W. Langel, 3; Peter Madden, 1; W. H. McIntire, 1; J. F. McSweeney, 1; Newcomb & Snyder, 4; Leon Trotter, 1; carriage licenses, W. H. Durusha, 2; R. B. Hill, 7; C. G. Tinkham, 5; Joseph Lee, 2; A. T. Whalen, 1; J. R. Atwood, 1; T. F. Melody, 2; J. Henry Harris, 1; John Monahan, 1; H. C. Daniels, 7; Robert War, 2; Charles Bros., 5; Howell E. Deal, 2; T. F. Nolan, 2. Numerous junk licenses were granted.

A hearing on granting a license for one pool table to Geo. Sanders, on Chestnut street, West Newton, was opened and closed.

DRUGGISTS' LICENSES.

At 8 o'clock the hearing on granting 22 6th class liquor licenses to local druggists was opened.

The mayor submitted each petition separately for consideration, beginning with the name of John F. Williams, Nonantum, in the store of W. F. Grace & Co.

Ex-Councilman Reuben Forknall addressed the board as a remonstrator. He had nothing in particular against this one store, but protested against the granting of licenses at Nonantum. It was impossible for three drug stores to do a legitimate business successfully in that village. He believed the expression at the polls by the citizens of Newton should apply to the drug stores of the city. It is just as sincere an expression against them as against the kitchen bar rooms. He did not mean to imply that none of the stores were doing a legal business; he believed some of them were. In reference to Mr. Williams, whose petition was now before the board, he said two years ago Mr. Grace applied for a license and was refused, as he was not a registered pharmacist. He then hired a clerk and a license was procured in the latter's name, with the understanding that he was a partner in the firm. Mr. Grace and his clerk had a falling out afterward and the clerk went away, taking the license with him. Thereupon Mr. Grace was obliged to hire another clerk and secure another license.

Now was a good time to demonstrate the expression made in the inaugural message of the mayor. The number of licenses granted annually in the city he believed was large, and he believed kitchen bar rooms were a greater curse to the community than illegally conducted drug stores. Alderman Hamilton asked if he thought the parties referred to were incompetent to keep a drug store? Mr. Forknall said he did not state that. He objected to the manner in which the license was procured.

Alderman Plummer asked if Mr. Williams and Mr. Grace were not in partnership. Mr. Forknall did not believe so. He understood partnership papers had been made out but believed it existed only on paper. The fact that the other clerk who left was a "partner" did not interfere with an abrupt departure, and a new clerk in his place with similar relations.

Alderman Hunt asked if Mr. Grace was not pretty well versed in medicine? He manufactured a patent medicine.

Mr. Forknall said he had been in the drug business two years and the aldermen could judge of his knowledge from that.

The mayor stated that Mr. Grace was not a registered pharmacist, never was, and could not be granted a license. Alderman Plummer asked the ex-councilman if he meant to characterize the Nonantum stores as no better than kitchen bar rooms.

Mr. Forknall said his statement was that an illegally conducted drug store, authorized as it is to sell liquor, was as injurious to a community as the kitchen bar rooms which are frequently discovered and closed up.

Alderman Hunt asked if the fact that Mr. Grace and Mr. Williams were partners or not would affect the license. The mayor thought not. The license must be granted to a registered pharmacist.

John Boyce said with others he protested against so many drug stores in Nonantum two years ago. When Mr. Grace opened his store at that time W. M. Russell owned the store just taken by J. G. Kilburn. Mr. Russell's trade fell off soon after this to such an extent that he was obliged to sell out his business. It was purchased by Mr. Murphy and when the license was taken away by the aldermen some weeks ago, he found he could not run it and sold out to another party. This demonstrated to him that the store could not be run in a legitimate manner. Such places were detrimental to the young men of the community and he was opposed to the granting of more than one, if any, license in Nonantum.

Alderman Hamilton asked what the sentiment of the place was in regard to the matter.

Mr. Boyce believed the best sentiment of the village to be against license.

The mayor asked Mr. Forknall if he represented anyone in the hearing.

Mr. Forknall said he represented Charity Lodge of Good Templars as a member only.

The hearing was closed.

Before proceeding with the next petition the mayor submitted a remonstrance from Loyalty Lodge of Good Templars, West Newton, asking that no 6th class licenses be granted throughout the city.

As the petition was of so general a character the petitioners were given an opportunity to be heard at that point.

Mr. M. L. Emerson said the principles of the order were strictly prohibitory and it had been brought to their notice by many of the members that the licenses were abused in several instances. The order had therefore voted to remonstrate against the granting of any licenses by the city government.

Alderman Plummer asked how large a body he represented.

Mr. Emerson replied that the membership of the lodge was about fifty.

Q.—Who brought the attention of your lodge to these cases? The gentlemen members?

A.—Both ladies and gentlemen.

Q.—Have any complaints reached you about Mr. W. P. Thorn or Mr. E. W. Keyes?

A.—No, Sir.

Mr. A. H. Wiggins corroborated Mr. Emerson's statements. He believed in no license to druggists. He had authoritative knowledge from others of illegal sales being made and that habitual drinkers bought liquor of Newton druggists. One druggist in each village was certainly sufficient for all requirements. He knew from others that liquor was procured without prescription or signature.

Alderman Plummer—Can you prove that an illegal sale has been made by any druggist? Are you aware that proof of one illegal sale placed before the license committee is sufficient to revoke a license?

Mr. Wiggins could prove nothing from personal knowledge.

Q.—You are a conductor on the B. & A. road and see a good deal of the effects of liquor?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Do you think if these men could get it at home they would go to Boston for it?

A.—Those people who give us trouble on the trains are not the ones who patronize the drug stores. Many of the latter would not be seen in a bar room.

Another petition was presented at this time from residents and property holders at Newton Upper Falls, protesting against the granting of licenses in Precinct One of Ward Five. It was signed by Otis T. Petree, (by request) W. L. Thompson, W. H. Bancroft, Benjamin Newell, A. J. Grover and six others. Three of the signers qualified their opinion. None of the signers were present when called, but Mr. Oscar A. Nutter responded.

His name was not on the petition, he said, but he was connected in business there and had from 300 to 500 hands in his charge for whom he wished to speak from a business standpoint. He had more or less of drinking men to contend with, many of whom bought their liquor at the local drug stores. It was hard to get men who had bought liquor there to come out and say so, but he had been told by parties that they had bought liquor. He was told the young people who came here with their remonstrance could not get property owners to support them, but a petition had been circulated that afternoon with the result shown.

The mayor asked him how he was connected in business.

Mr. Nutter—I am connected with the Petree Machine Works; I am the assistant superintendent.

Alderman Roffe—Do you mean to refuse the granting of licenses to all the Ward Five druggists?

A.—The petition refers to Precinct One, which is Upper Falls.

Alderman Plummer—Do you think there will be a perceptible decrease in the drinking there if licenses are refused?

A.—I have every reason to think it will be decreased.

Q.—Have you no reputable druggist in Newton Upper Falls?

A.—[after long hesitation] I don't want to say whether we have or not.

Alderman Hamilton asked the meaning of the petition. He noticed some of the signers qualified their opinion.

The mayor said all but three were opposed to any license being granted.

Alderman Hamilton to Mr. Nutter—How would business be affected if licenses were not granted?

A.—There were 283 no license towns in 1883 and only fifty-nine of them granted druggists licenses. There were many places which did not grant any license.

Alderman Plummer—Do you have any kitchen bar rooms in Upper Falls?

Mr. Nutter—Are there or are there supposed to be?

Alderman Plummer—Are there supposed to be?

A.—Yes, I think there are?

In reply to Alderman Rumery at this point the mayor stated that the 6th class license was qualified in no way. A person simply had to sign a book to procure all he wanted. If no license is granted it prohibits the use of any alcohol in the store. Mr. J. W. Mitchell as a business man and resident of Upper Falls wished to speak on the matter. He presented a few facts for the consideration of the board which he had just obtained in Boston. There were 283 towns which voted no license in 1883 and only fifty-nine of these granted druggists license. Brockton druggists had had no liquor licenses for seven years, Quincy none since 1883 and Somerville, Everett and Cambridge have granted none this year. Attention was called particularly to Quincy and Brockton where it had not been deemed wise to grant licenses to druggists. He spoke of a small town in the western part of the state which granted druggists licenses after several years prohibition, and one drug store sold 7000 pints in one month after receiving the license.

Alderman Plummer—In reference to Quincy, didn't Mr. Faxon say recently you could buy more liquor there than in any other town in the State?

Mr. Mitchell did not believe such a statement was true. Continuing, he said regarding the standing of the drug stores at Upper Falls he would commence with Mr. Billings.

This store has been conducted up to two weeks ago by a man who did just as he chose, Mr. Billings not being present. He stated this boldly and fearlessly and had the facts to back it up. The other place had been opened by a man who had no knowledge of the law, and he had hired a man for a clerk, and the place had been opened for the purpose of selling liquor.

Mr. Kerrivan, father of one of the firm, interrupted Mr. Mitchell—Can you get anyone to say they have bought liquor there not according to law?

In reply Mr. Mitchell said he made no such statement. He did not know of anyone who had bought liquor there illegally.

Alderman Roffe—You say there has been a change recently in Mr. Billings store?

Mr. Mitchell—Yes, sir. I think he proposes to conduct the business in a proper manner.

Alderman Hamilton—Would you be in favor of granting him a license?

A.—I cannot say. I have studied the question very thoroughly but could not state. I should shed no tears if none were granted in Newton.

The mayor—What occasioned the change two weeks ago?

A.—I think I did.

Q.—In what way?

A.—By a very serious conversation with the proprietor.

Continuing he said two families of his employees were utterly broken up by the facility they had for getting liquor. They were both hard working men, but found they could easily procure all the drink necessary without going to Boston. The result was disastrous to themselves and families, one home being entirely broken up as a result.

Q.—Where do you think they got the liquor?

A.—At Mr. Billings drug store.

Alderman Plummer—Did they acknowledge it?

A.—Better proof than that, my friend.

Q.—Did they sign for it?

A.—I don't think they did?

Q.—What object could they have in the druggist evading the law when all that is necessary is the signature of the purchaser?

A.—If a man had a bottle filled eight or ten times a day it might be thought he used it for something beside medicine.

Q.—Was Mr. Billings cognizant of the manner in which the store was conducted previous to the change?

Mr. Mitchell—Oh, don't ask me. I don't know. I have a great deal of respect for Mr. Bernard Billings. He has been placed in a terrible position and perhaps did not fully realize it. I think he intends to do a legitimate and lawful business from this out. I have known him for a good while and believe him sincere and trustworthy.

Regarding kitchen bar rooms, Mr. Mitchell said they did not run for a great while as there was a chief of police and patrolmen who suppressed them, but the licensed druggists were beyond their control.

Mr. M. H. Coffin of Upper Falls spoke against the granting of licenses.

The balance of the petitions were then read by the mayor and the hearings closed.

PETITIONS.

Mrs. Margaret Lane et al., petitioned that the watering cart omit portions of Beacon and Walnut streets the coming season. Referred.

Daniel O'Halloran was granted permit to move a building on Hammond street to the Brookline line on motion of Alderman Roffe.

A petition was received from S. A. Shannon for sewer in Lake avenue. Referred.

An order granting the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. location on Parker and Dudley streets was passed, also granting the N. & W. Gas Light Co. location on Claremont and Fairmount avenues, and corner of Waverley avenue and Sargent street.

Alexander Tyler et al., petitioned the city council to take immediate steps toward the acquisition of Crystal lake and such land as is necessary for approaches thereto.

Referred to the park committee and city solicitor.

Alderman Bothfeld presented the supplementary agreement of G. A. Blaney, et al., on the northern route.

TO RECONSIDER THEIR ACTION.

Alderman Plummer at this time called the attention of the board to the order passed two weeks ago requiring the Newton & Boston street railway to run their cars on a 20 minute schedule, commencing "at or before April 10."

He was absent when the order passed and now understood it to be unjust and wished to have it rescinded and the subject reopened for debate. He said the directors were well known gentlemen, disposed to afford convenience to their patrons in every possible way. He was absolutely satisfied that the last month had caused them a deficit of $500.

The people of Newton Centre had been approached and were evidently satisfied. The order passed by the council would inflict a daily loss of $16 on the company which he thought was a hardship that should not be placed upon them.

Alderman Roffe spoke very determinedly against any such action. The company said last year when this matter came before the aldermen that they would adjust the time satisfactorily as soon as the winter was over. Therefore the matter was allowed to go with that understanding. The service given was of no benefit whatever as now conducted, and the people of Newton Centre would be glad to have the tracks taken up if no better service was to be given. Passengers can not tell what time the cars go or come, and the road is not doing a thing to accommodate the people.

Alderman Bothfeld said the order

CITY GOVERNMENT.

specified the 10 h as the day for the new schedule to go into operation, and they have not complied with the order. He should favor rescinding the order and let the railway committee and company come together and understand every bearing of the case on that ground.

Alderman Riffe to President H. B. Parker—Have you changed the running time of your cars today as ordered by this board?

Pres. Parker—I don't know of any change being made. They are running on the same time today as they have for some few weeks.

Q.—You did not obey the order of the city government?

A.—We have only got four box cars and five would be necessary to comply with the order.

Alderman Riffe said there was no disposition on the part of the people of Newton Centre to quarrel with the railroad, but they did not want the tracks disfiguring their streets longer if the road could not give them desirable service.

Alderman Hamilton thought it was well to have all the light possible upon these matters. It was impossible for him to vote intelligently without a thorough understanding of the question. He should strongly favor re-opening the question.

Alderman Plummer did not wish to be understood as antagonistic to the wishes of Newton Centre citizens, but as business men receiving reasonable service from the company, he did not believe they would ask the company to go to an extra expense per day of $18.

Alderman Riffe asked what was called reasonable service. The cars as run at present were of no earthly use. They were simply a nuisance to the people of Newton Centre, and they had rather have the streets restored to their former state than have them continue.

Alderman Plummer renewed his motion to rescind the order.

Alderman Riffe said in the absence of a member of the railroad committee, he would like the order tabled.

His motion failed of passage and the board then voted to rescind the order.

Alderman Plummer presented the petition of Van Wagon et al., to have the name of Woodland avenue changed to Woodland street. The petition bore the name of every abuttor. Referred.

Reports were submitted recommending the granting of various petitions for sidewalks.

WIDEN WASHINGTON STREET.

Alderman Bothfield presented an order requesting the city engineer to prepare plans for the widening of Washington street to 75 feet, leaving those portions next the B. & A. railroad from Hall street to Church street, Newton, and from Harvard to Lowell street, Newtonville, intact.

The committee believed, he said, that 75 feet was wide enough for business street. The plans will be ready about the middle of May, and the present city government will then have a chance to carry the matter through.

The order was adopted.

L. E. Leland et al., petitioned for sidewalk on Washington street. Referred.

An order passed appropriating $74,800 for May expenses of the city.

Orders were passed for sidewalks on Lincoln, Sewall and Highland streets, granting a hearing on rounding the corners of Elmwood and Park streets, laying sewer through private land near Hunnewell avenue, and appointing hearing for the same, laying sewer in Mt. Vernon terrace and street, Institution avenue, and Chase street.

John K. Taylor et al., petitioned for sewer in Edinboro street; Latilla J. Kimball for sidewalk on Kimball terrace. Referred.

Geo. B. King et al., petitioned for concrete sidewalks on Lake avenue. Referred.

Alderman Plummer equaled the present status of the order for a railroad commission for the separation of grades. The mayor said the order had been taken under advisement by the court and must await their decision.

Alderman Bothfield moved to go into executive session, the board so voting.

A Newton Artist.

A correspondent in Pasadena, California, sends us the following with reference to a former resident of our city:

Mr. Henry P. Spaulding, who graduated from the Newton High school and later from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has acquired quite a reputation here and elsewhere in Southern California as a water color artist.

Though he has been painting but a comparatively short time, Mr. Spaulding has developed an individual style which gives his work a special artistic value. His water colors have the delicacy of this class of paintings with much of the strength of paintings in oil. While he would be ranked as an "impressionist," his impressionism is not extreme. He really gives you the scene which he wants you to see, not vague color hints of what the scene is supposed to look like.

In reproducing the peculiar quality of the Californian sky and atmosphere he is exceptionally happy. On his canvas the Pacific coast displays the deep blue of its watery plain, the shimmer and sparkle of its rock-tossed waves and the translucent air that bathes the whole.

The old Franciscan Missions have found in Mr. Spaulding a painter who can interpret the picturesque charm of their architecture. Hence at all his recent exhibitions in the Hotel de Coronado, the Raymond and elsewhere, these pictures of Californian subjects have met with a ready sale and many of them are now on their way to the city of the best private and public collections in the principal cities of the Eastern States.

Mr. Spaulding is soon to journey to the Northern sections of the Pacific coast and expects to be in New England in the early summer.

One meets here in Pasadena other Newtonians who are either fitting tourists or have become permanent residents.

Mr. John Cole is again the leader of the excellent orchestra at the Raymond and his violin playing is much admired. Mrs. Edwin Warner has spent most of the winter here. Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Spaulding seem almost like old residents as they are the fourth season of their sojourn in Southern California. Dr. Henry M. Field and family in their lovely home in North Pasadena among the orange groves and "poppy fields" give a cordial greeting to all Eastern friends who call upon them.

Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers can be applied when at home, and is uniformly successful in coloring a brown or black. Hence its great popularity.

THE GREAT DEBATE.

THE NEWTON AND BROOKLINE LYCEUMS HAVE A DRAWN BATTLE.

The great Brookline-Newton debate, which has been looked forward to for so long a time by the high school scholars, is now history, and will be ranked among the many enterprises, which the class of '04 has undertaken and carried through to a successful termination.

It was held in the gymnasium, Newtonville, on the evening of April 14, at 7.45. Long before that time, the crowds which entered the door, attested to the wide-spread interest which was felt in the debate.

About 8 o'clock, Mr. Warren S. Davis ascended the platform with a gentleman whom he introduced in an exceedingly felicitous manner as the Hon. Gorham D. Gilman, the presiding officer of the evening.

Mr. Gilman was greeted with hearty applause, and he made a little preliminary speech, introducing the judges, Messrs. James T. Allen and C. M. Barrows, and also the speakers from Newton and Brookline. He then read the point at issue.

Resolved—That the Hawaiian offer of annexation should have been accepted, and went on with the aid of a map to point out the advantages the possession of Hawaii would give to the United States. This highly tickled the Newton supporters, who favored annexation, while it made the Brookline constituency look rather glum.

Mr. Gilman announced Mr. Frederick T. Wood, of Newton, as the first speaker.

Mr. Wood did great credit to the Newton side, showing the commercial and international importance of the Islands to this country in a clear manner. He took his seat amid great applause. Mr. Gilman praised him for this able service.

Mr. Wood did not attempt to answer any of Mr. Wood's arguments, but rather tried to prove from the facts known, that the United States took an unlawful part in the overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani, and in the formation of the Provisional Government. His speech was a strong one, his severe attack on ex-Minister Stevens' character detracting a little from it, however. He terminated his speech amid a general clapping of hands.

Mr. Harold D. Gilbert of Newton then delivered a stirring address, breaking down some of the arguments of the opposition, and warning the objections in regard to the native population, picking several of Mr. Cousens' statements to pieces, until that gentleman squirmed in his seat, and retired amid a thunder of applause.

After a recess of five minutes, the defense of the negative side was continued by Mr. Marshall Stearns. In his speech he tried to prove that it was going against precedent and against the policy of Daniel Webster and the Monroe doctrine to annex the Islands. He also spent considerable time in answering arguments. Mr. Stearns is a cool and careful speaker, and his insinuating and sarcastic manner more than once made the Newton supporters feel uneasy.

He was followed by Pres. F. B. Blanchard of the Newton High Lyceum, who summed up all the points in favor of annexation, launching sentence after sentence of glowing argument against his opponents, and finished with great eloquence.

Last, but not least came Mr. Niels Christensen of Brookline, who without doubt delivered the ablest and best prepared speech of the evening. Although the writer could not agree with Mr. Christensen's views, yet he was intensely interested in the address.

After the noise of the applause following Mr. Christensen's speech had died away, Mr. Gilman called upon the judges to announce their decision. The judges said that in the short time given them they could come to no decision, and so called it a tie. The meeting then broke up, each side well satisfied that their speakers had won. Mr. Gilman stated privately, however, that he marked the speakers on a scale of A. B. C. and that he gave the Brookline side A. A. and C. C., thus conferring the victory upon the home speakers.

The Lyceum is under great obligations to Mr. Gilman, Mr. Allen and Mr. Barrows for so kindly rendering their services.

The proceeds of the meeting, which were about twenty-seven dollars, will be used in buying reference books for the school.

EDWARD HERMAN BARNUM, Sec.

THE DECISION.

The undersigned, chosen to serve as two of the judges of the Brookline-Newton debate on the topic—Resolved—That the Hawaiian offer of annexation should have been accepted, respectfully submit the following report.

Owing to the absence of one of the three appointed judges, the decision rested with the other two.

The latter expected of the judges was to determine which side made the best debate, not what are the merits of the political question at issue. Accordingly we agreed to take as a basis of rating the different speakers, 1st, their preparation; 2d, their style of delivery; 3d, the quality of argument presented.

We take pleasure in complimenting the six speakers and the clubs to which they respectively belong, on the ability they displayed, their knowledge of the subject discussed, and the excellence of the performance.

The merits of the two sides were so nearly equal, that we could not agree which was the better, and finally on the blood and nervous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. O'NEILY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Newton Civil Service Reform Association.

The annual meeting of this Association will be held at Allen Bros. schoolhouse, West Newton, on Monday, April 23rd, at 7.45 o'clock p. m. Reports from the secretary and treasurer will be presented. The election of officers for the coming year will be held, and such other business as may properly come before the meeting will be in order.

The call for the meeting says: "In view of the continued use of the public patronage for partisan purposes, and the unwillingness of either of the great political parties to extend the application of the civil service rules faster than forced by outside pressure, it becomes important that our activity should be continued, and our membership extended. The secretary will be glad to send copies of our constitution and list of members to anyone desiring them, and will thank you to send him the names of any persons who may be interested to join us."

The Association will send without charge, the monthly journal of the National Civil Service Reform League, "Good Government" to any address desired.

There is no enforced membership fee in the Association, but the needs are great, and contributions of $1.00 each will be gladly accepted from members.

The principal expenses are in connection with the circulation of literature through the National League, and in bearing its share of the support of "Good Government."

Favoring Corporations.

(Springfield Republican.)

It continues to be noticeable that favorable reports of measures in the interests of powerful corporations seem to be the rule rather than the exception.

A striking example is offered by the Philadelphia syndicate which is "financing" the Lynn & Boston street railway on the most approved speculative plans. Their operations are characterized by the United States' Investor as "a more bare-faced attempt to wreck valuable Massachusetts properties" than has ever been witnessed. But the legislative street railway committee promptly lends itself to the interests of these men by favorably reporting a bill to allow the company to issue $8,000,000 of new securities without accounting to anybody how the money is to be spent. The Investor says:

If this bill becomes a law, it will work a new departure in Massachusetts legislation. It will jeopardize all the industries of the state, as affording reckless speculators a field, as well as the knowledge that Massachusetts is a good field for stock watering and corporation wrecking.

It would be worth while for the ladies to bear in mind that if they take a gentle course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the spring, they will have no trouble with "prickly heat," "hives," "sties," "boils," or "black heads," when summer comes. Prevention is better than cure.

"For Years,"

Says CARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort even to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."

OBJECTING TO LICENSES.

There were a number of objections to the granting of licenses to several druggists, Monday night, and the remonstrants indulged in some very sweeping assertions. But when cross-examined by Alderman Plummer, who showed a desire to get at the facts, the remonstrants began to qualify their statements and admit that they were founded on hearsay evidence, and that they could not substantiate them by their own knowledge. Such testimony is of course worthless from a legal point of view, except as showing what is the common opinion of a druggist, and the smaller the community the greater is the gossip.

The whole thing shows the difficulty the aldermen have to labor under, they can not take gossip as evidence, and because a witness states that a drug store is only a "kitchen bar room," they can not refuse a license unless the witness has some evidence to present to back up his assertion.

It may be and doubtless is true that there are too many drug stores in some of the small villages, and that they are not as carefully conducted as they should be. But it would seem to be a comparatively easy task for the neighbors who object to the license to gather evidence to support their charges, and if they know that the law has been violated, to keep such a watch upon the place as to be able to present the facts to the proper authorities.

The most bitter complaints came from Nonantum, where there are three drug stores in a small village, and where it is evident enough that the sale of prescriptions and patent medicines alone would not be sufficient to support one store, and leave much profit to the proprietor. How the three manage to get a living was the point aimed at by the remonstrants, represented by Mr. Forknall and Mr. Boyce.

One of them stated that no druggist who conducted his business with a due regard to the law could make a living there, and if the remonstrants had gone seriously to work, they might have succeeded in their efforts.

It is a question for the aldermen to consider, whether there shall any limit be placed upon the number of licenses that are granted in any one village. If only four licenses are granted in Newton, the largest centre of population in the city, why should three be granted in Nonantum, one of the smallest villages in Newton?

There is this to be said for the remonstrants, however, they claim that the city keeps a force of officers to see that the laws are obeyed, and that it is not the business of private citizens to step in and aid them. The officials can visit the drug stores at all hours, look over their books, see the men who are gathered in their back-rooms, and secure testimony, while if a private citizen attempted to do this, he might be liable to receive bodily injury, and he would certainly make enemies. If the drug stores were carefully looked after by the police, the remonstrants say, the aldermen would then have something definite to go upon, when the question of granting licenses makes its annual appearance. As it is now, the aldermen do not like to make any marked distinctions, and they can not well refuse a license unless for some good and sufficient reason, such as making it a rule to grant only one license for every two thousand people.

The question of widening Washington street made its periodical appearance before the board of aldermen, Monday night, when an order was passed instructing the city engineer to secure estimates of the cost of widening it to a width of 75 feet. The same work was done, we believe, by City Engineer Noyes, under Mayor Hibbard, but no action was taken, and as the work will probably have to wait for the abolishment of the grade crossings, there is not much hope of any immediate action being taken. Nevertheless, the cost of keeping the street in repair is so much greater than it would be if widened, that the city would not be a great loser by doing the work at once. The street is not safe, at present, it is in places not over 35 feet in width, and its condition is not at all creditable to Newton's main thoroughfare. Had the work been pushed under ex-Mayor Hibbard's plan for removing grade crossings, the Boston & Albany had agreed to give a good deal of land towards the widening, and the cost would have been much less than it will be today, since these concessions have lapsed. The first plan was to make the street 100 feet wide, but an extension of its limits to 75 feet would probably answer the purpose, especially as there are so many objectors to the plan of attempting to make a boulevard of a street which adjoins a steam railroad on one side for the greater part of the distance. Most people, however, have come to look upon the talk of widening Washington street, like the talk of abolishing grade crossings, as merely "an iridescent dream."

The Newton Hospital had a daily average of forty patients in March, an unusually large number, and there was an average of five in the contagious wards. This large increase in patients adds to the expense of running the hospital, and $2000 a month is now required to pay all the bills incurred. The funds are getting low and the Hospital will need more money to carry it through the year. The sick and suffering must be cared for, and the people of Newton have always seen to it that in some way the expenses could be met, and they will undoubtedly do so this year, but it takes a good deal of faith on the part of the trustees to act upon this belief. The cost per patient is less than in any other of the neighboring hospitals, so economically and wisely is everything connected with the hospital managed, and those who give can feel sure that every dollar will be made to go as far as possible. Most hospitals of the size of the Newton Hospital have a large endowment fund to draw upon, and in time this will probably be the case here.

This is a happy time for the fortunate person who has some improved real estate he wants to mortgage. He can have any number of would be mortgagors from which to choose, among them many savings banks which have a large surplus to invest, and the competition makes the rate of interest a low one. Evidently there is no lack of money which can be hired, if one has any good security to offer. The City of Newton has just borrowed a large sum of money in anticipation of taxes at 2 1/2 per cent., and interest is so low that it is a favorable time to borrow money for public improvements.

ATHLETICS AT NEWTON CENTRE.

THE N. A. A. HOLDS A MEETING, WITH TRACK AND FIELD EVENTS FOR MEMBERS.

The Newton Athletic Association starts out with brilliant prospects. The handicapped meeting for members, held on the Newton Centre playground yesterday morning, was all that could be desired from an athletic standpoint. About 800 people were present to see the sport, among them being a large number of ladies. Over 75 men were entered for the different events.

The 100-yard dash brought out a likely lot of sprinters. After several trial heats, F. C. Hersey, Jr., finally covered the distance in 10 1/4's, taking first honors. The quarter-mile run was another interesting event, C. E. Hutchinson, scratch, mowing down a large field in 55s. Summary:

One hundred-yard dash—Semi-finals, won by W. C. Johnson, 4 yds.; second, F. C. Hersey, Jr.; scratch; third, E. H. Clark, 1 yd. Final, won by F. C. Hersey, Jr., scratch, 10 1/4's; second, L. W. Rattler, 1 yd. Mile bicycle race—Won by W. M. Morse, 99 yds., 3m. 50s.; second, R. L. Rattler, scratch. Eight hundred and eighty-yard run—Won by G. W. Crawley, 29 yds., 4m. 10s.; second, A. L. ## What the Pennock System Can Do.

The Pennock Electric Light System can compete with gas at five cents a thousand feet. It can produce 1000 incandescent electric lights cheaper than the dynamo can produce 100 lights. It can produce 1000 incandescent electric lights in a boat and deliver 100 horse power—yes, 200-horse power at the propeller shaft. THINK OF IT! The Pennock Electric System can furnish the power for $1 an hour to run 1000 electric fans, furnishing a cool breeze to every room in a hotel.

Something Greatly Needed, but Out of the Question with the Expensive Dynamo!

MIND YOU.

One Dollar an Hour, we may do it for 10 cents, for the Entire Lot of Fans.—The one thousand fans, if worked with a dynamo, would cost for an output of 1500 horse power, but the Pennock can do it with but 10-horse power.

The Pennock Electric Light and Power Co. is now offering the Pennock Phantom Circuits. Without doubt the greatest invention of the age, and the Pennock Electric Systems are yet in their infancy. The Pennock Electric Light and Electric Railway Company is destined to become famous as a large dividend paying investment.

I Just Want to Call Your Attention to One Fact.—Don't it strike you pretty forcibly that this stock may prove a second Bell Telephone? We are now selling our stock at $5 per share. It may jump to high figures at any time. Take the Bell Telephone for an example. Why, at first, that stock knocked about the "streets" at 2 1/2 cents per share. It finally sold up to $3.70 per share, and it is said that John Wanamaker made several hundred thousand dollars out of his holdings.

Well, I can show Larger Profits than the Bell Telephone.—Think it Over!—Electric Railway alone will surely advance this stock to extremely high figures. Subject to withdrawal without notice, a portion of this stock may be purchased at $5 per share, in lots to suit investors. The stock is full paid and unassessable. Address,

—There are letters at the postoffice for Dr. W. H. Draper, Miss Della Hardiman, John G. Murray, Miss Alice Powers and Mrs. Sprague.

—Mrs. Day, whose husband, Capt. Day is the popular commander of the U. S. S., Boston, leaves in a few days for a trip to Virginia.

—Miss Mabel Macomber has removed to Boston and will spend the spring and summer seasons with her aunt, Mrs. Franklin F. Percival of Newbury street.

—Newton Chapter, F. & A. M., at their meeting on Tuesday evening, had seventeen candidates take the Royal Arch degree, the unusually large number showing the rapid growth of the chapter.

—Miss Jeannette A. Grant attended the social meeting of the Women's Rest Tour Association, held at the handsome residence of Mrs. Frederick Bradley, 1265 Beacon street, Brookline, on Friday evening, April 13.

—Mrs. Walter Chaloner and Miss Jeannette A. Grant were present at the reception tendered Julia Marlowe by the N. E. W. P. A., at the Parker House. Miss Grant's guest on this happy occasion was Miss Katherine Scott Gunn of Ashmont.

—The Rev. William McNeill, brother of the renowned John McNeill of London, will preach at the Central Congregational church, next Sunday evening, April 22, at half-past seven o'clock.

—The call of Rev. Mr. Hamilton, who has been filling a successful pastorate at Orient Heights, Roxbury, to the Methodist church here is a source of much gratification to the members of the latter congregation. He is a brother of Rev. J. Benson Hamilton, D. D., a prominent light in the Methodist denomination, and of Mr. C. W. Hamilton, a well-known resident.

—The New church was filled to its utmost capacity last Sunday morning, at the opening services in the new building. Rev. Thomas Worcester, the pastor, son of the pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Mr. Louis G. Hoek of the Theological school at Cambridge, who is at present supplying the pulpit, during the illness of Rev. Mr. Thomas Worcester.

—Worcester is considered one of the most eloquent preachers in the New church, and his sermon made a very deep impression on his hearers. At the close of the service the Holy Communion was administered.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. Bradshaw celebrated informally their 25th wedding anniversary, Wednesday evening. Quite a party of friends called to extend congratulations and make the customary felicitous speeches to the happy bride and bridegroom. Among the number were several gentlemen, representing Charles Ward post 62, G. A. R., of which Mr. Bradshaw is an honored member. They were determined to meet their comrades within the sacred home circle upon such a significant anniversary occasion and other friends, too, declined to let the event pass unnoticed, notwithstanding the modesty of the happy couple. They received some very useful and valuable presents, including a luxurious Morris chair, in which Mr. Bradshaw may recline at his ease and conceive some of those bright bits of verse for which he is noted.

—The proposition to widen Washington street, which has been taken in hand by the city council, meets with general favor here. It is the generally expressed opinion, however, that it will not be in the line of the wisest economy to make that thoroughfare only 75 feet wide. If the improvement is to be made, and it has become a pressing necessity since the advent of the street railway, and the natural increase in travel of all descriptions, it would seem wise to lay out a broad avenue, at least 100 feet in width. If it is made too narrow now, it will be necessary to take another strip of land and the expense would be undoubtedly, vastly increased. The land can never be secured, probably, at a lower cost than at the present time, and there are fortunately at this writing, only few expensive structures to add to the burden of expenditure.

Mrs. Bradley was formerly Miss Louise Carr of this place.

—A number of Newton people took part in a minstrel entertainment, which was given in Wellesley, Tuesday and Wednesday evening of last week. The first performance was very successful, but the second night, some one had filled the hall with red pepper, scattering it over the floor, in the piano, and everywhere, so that the air was filled with it, and the performers had great difficulty in going on with their parts. An effort is being made to discover the guilty parties.

—Mr. William Trowbridge, an old and esteemed resident, died at his home on Cross street, Tuesday evening. The deceased had not enjoyed the best of health of late years and suffered a great deal from rheumatism. He was 71 years of age. Recently, he had an attack of the grippe from which he seemingly recovered a fortnight ago. It left him in a weak condition. On Wednesday of last week, he had a shock and he remained in an unconscious state until death resulted. Mr. Trowbridge conducted a provision business in the Newtons for many years and at one time ran a market in West Newton. He was a very conscientious business man, exceedingly genial and very popular with all classes. Of simple habits, he was of that type of man, which furnishes some of the best examples of New England thrift and sturdy moral character. He was the descendant of an old family and a worthy representative of a worthy ancestry. Those who knew Mr. Trowbridge well accepted him for his solid qualities of mind and heart. They will treasure his memory in the years to come. He was quite prominent in secret society circles and a member of Newton lodge, I. O. O. F., and other charitable and fraternal organizations. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. E. T. Wiswall, Saturday, at 1 o'clock.

Another meeting will be called in the near future.

progress of the city from the earliest times.

biographic.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

BOSTON THEATRE—Miss Kate Clax-
ton's appearance at the Boston Theatre
next week will be welcomed by thousands of her admirers. She will be seen as Louise, the blind girl of "The Two Orphans." Foremost of the company will be Mme. Jauscheck, the distinguished tragedienne, who will be the Mother Frochard. Miss Rachel Noah,
a great Boston favorite, will be another of the excellent cast. Wilton Barrett, the eminent English actor, had intended to sail for Europe May 12, but has finally arranged with Manager Eugene Tompkins of the Boston Theatre to appear
there May 14 for a two weeks' engagement, which will constitute his farewell performances in this country. For the "Two Orphans," a fine stage setting is promised, and the production, altogether,
will be the finest ever given in this city.

PARK THEATRE—Beginning Monday,
April 23, the favorite comedienne, D. Wells,
and Girard, will be seen in their latest
New York laughing success, "The Rain makers." A host of comedians and singers and the funniest and best of them all. It is hardly necessary to say that it burlesques the rain-producing efforts of Dryden and other scientists, but the latter are improved upon to the extent that the Rainmakers achieve a startling and gorgeous success. There are said to be many novel and ingenious spectacular effects. The flood of fun does not subside from beginning to the end of the play. The people who are aiding and abetting the chief fun makers
in their efforts are Ross and Fenton, Edward Dyllan, Edward Garvie, Frank O'Brien, John Connolly, John F. Corrigan, Annie Martell, Ida Rock, Kate B.
Allen, Fannie Ezell, George Hawley, and Helen Smith. One of the features of the performance is a realistic rainstorm and cyclone. Every night, Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—"The Prodigal Daughter" at the Columbia will enter upon its last week beginning April 23.
This remarkable melodrama has won a most enviable reputation during its stay in Boston. Nothing more realistic or exciting has ever been seen on the Boston stage than the race-course scene,
where ten thoroughbred horses dash
across the stage, and are finally seen taking hurdles and water jumps in a genuine struggle for victory in the home stretches. The company that Manager T.
Henry French has provided is of exceptional ability, and every part in the piece is most admirably handled. Following
"The Prodigal Daughter" on April 30, Hagenbach's Trained Animals will come to the Columbia.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Mr. and Mrs. Kendal make their final appearance of the present season at the Hollis Street Theatre, beginning Monday, April 23.
These eminent artists are too well known to need description, and their appearance
at the Hollis will undoubtedly call together a series of brilliant audiences who delight in dramatic successes. The engagement will be necessarily limited to one week, and during the length of time

a series of plays, in which both Mr. and Mrs. Kendal have made undoubted successes, will be presented. It will be noticed by a glance at the repertoire that the favorite roles of both these stars will be given during the week. The repertoire will be as follows: Monday evening and Saturday matinee, "The Iron master;" Tuesday and Saturday nights,
"A Scrap of Paper;" Wednesday matinee
and Friday evening, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray;" Wednesday evening,
"A White Lie;" Thursday evening, "Still Waters Run Deep."

A YELLOW ASTER.

The author of A Yellow Aster, published in D. Appleton & Co.'s Town and Country Library, is Mrs. Manning Caffyn,
the wife of a talented physician
who has returned to London after spending several years in Australia for the sake of his health. A Yellow Aster, which is said by the author to be to some extent an expression of her views
as to the effect of the maternal instinct upon women's lives, has proved the most successful English novel since Dido. It is intensely dramatic, the main idea of the story is decidedly original,
and there is a swing and power to the story that takes hold of the readers attention, and forces him to go on with the book with great interest.

A COSTLY FREAK.

"A Costly Freak," the latest novel by the author who signs herself Maxwell
Gray, has the merit of an ingenious plot.
Mr. Ray, a poor curate, modeled slightly after Amos Barton, is in sore need of £20
for medicine and nourishing food for his sickly child, and at the critical moment
finds the needed sum between the pages of his Bible. He does not doubt in the least that a miracle has been performed for his benefit, and is confirmed in his belief when baskets of port and other delicacies come from an unknown hand.
He is rather rudely awakened to practical life when arrested for the theft of the Bibles, and the mystery is cleared up in a very original way. Published by D.
Appleton & Co. in Town and Country Library.

THE FORUM.

In addition to a review of the Cleveland Administration by ex-Governor Russell (Dem.) of Massachusetts, the Senator Culom (Rep.) of Illinois, the May Forum will contain a discussion of unusual opportuneness and point at a time when "armies" of tramps are marching towards Washington—of the question whether the state should give aid to the unemployed, by Dr. Stanton Cut of New York, who favors state-aid, and by Mr. D. McGregor Means, who argues that state-aid means socialism.
Edward Atkinson writes "The True Interpretation of Farm-Mortgage Statistics," explaining in full for the first time
the results of the census investigation.
Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward has an article discussing the question, "Is Faith in a Future Life Declining," based largely on the evidence given by the letters she has received about "Gates Ajar" during the twenty years or more
since it was published.

LUCY STONE SHOULD COME FIRST.

AN OBJECTION TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF NAMES IN A POPULAR POEM.

At a recent meeting of the Newton Educational Club, Mrs. Masury, president of the Danvers Club, read a poem
on the Club House for Women, a subject that is just now being discussed by all the clubs in the vicinity of Boston.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, president of the Massachusetts Federation of Woman's Clubs, requested that this poem
be read at the next meeting of each club, and a copy was sent to the different presidents.

Tuesday it was read at the Ymerian Club of Boston and exception taken to the last line:

"Upon the portal of the door
Write Howe and Stone and Livermore."

The members of the club felt that Lucy Stone's name should stand first as it was she who had made clubs possible
for women, and it was unanimously voted that the line should be changed to read:
"Write Stone and Howe and Livermore."

Newton Christian Endeavor Union.

The next meeting of the Union will be held with the Eliot Society, Newton, Wednesday evening, April 25, at 7.45.

A social half hour in which opportunity will be given to meet the "new officers" of the Union will be followed by addresses.

Dr. Calkins of Eliot church will welcome the members of the Union and their friends, and Rev. Arthur Little, D.
D., of Dorchester, will speak on "The Perils and Possibilities of the Christian Movement."

Dr. Little is one of the best known speakers in this vicinity and is thoroughly in touch with his subject, and his address will be one of great interest and helpfulness.

Christian Endeavor is one of the "great movements" of the age and all who are interested in or desire to know more of it are cordially invited to be present at this meeting.

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre,
Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real

—An addition to the block being constructed by Mr. McEllan is being contemplated. It will occupy the vacant space between the end of the present building and S. P. Clark's real estate office.

—Mr. J. R. Scott, a wholesale tobacco dealer of Boston, is the owner of the handsome house and stable, which have just been built on Waban Hill, and which command such a wide view. He expects to occupy the estate this summer.

—At the Methodist Episcopal church on next Sunday the pastor will preach in the morning and the Rev. John W. Butler, D.
D., editor of the El Abogado of Mexico
will deliver an address in the evening.

—Henry W. Savage has just sold the well known home of the late Mrs. Adelaide Wilson on Elgin street, to J. D. Cline of Dorchester, for Charles S. Rackeman, the executor. It consists of a fine large house and something over an acre of land. The terms of the sale were private.

—Morning service at the Unitarian church next Sunday at 10.30, sermon, "The Things that are not Shaken," by the pastor, Dr. Cline. Evening service at 7.30, address, "Religion for the young." All young people earnestly invited. Emerson Class, Tuesday at 7.45. Open to all.

—Mr. Charles S. Rackeman, executor of the estate of Mrs. Adelaide Wilson, has sold to J. D. Cline of Dorchester the property situated on Elgin street, comprising
a large frame dwelling house and about 4600 square feet of land. The sale, which was negotiated through the Henry W.
Savage agency, was on private terms.

—The order requiring the electric road to run its cars on 20 minute time was rescinded last Monday evening by the aldermen.
Alderman Roffe vigorously opposed such a retrograde movement, but in vain. The order passed the board two weeks ago
without a dissenting vote, but the petition signed by 75 of the most prominent citizens
and largest taxpayers of this ward then presented, and which influenced the passage, seems to have been entirely forgotten. The argument was advanced that the directors of the road were prominent Newton gentlemen who were inclined to afford every accommodation possible.

—Two impressive sermons were delivered last Sunday by Mr. McEllan of the Unitarian church. That of the morning was in memory of Channing, and so much earnestness and realism were thrown into the discourse that many felt Channing's great power and beautiful influence
as perhaps never before. Channing's pronounced disapproval of slavery as early as 1840, was eloquently shown. The discourse portrayed his life as a powerful lesson, judged alone by results, and looking at the esteem in which all creeds now hold his name and writings. The evening talk was upon the new holiday, substitute for Fast
Day, and was a key note to its rational,
proper use, that all should profit by the day, used in a nobly patriotic manner and in social gatherings of high order and purpose, cannot fail to be a great blessing to our people.

—The following from "Once A Week"
will interest many Newton friends:
"Harry Wakefield Bates, the new editor of Godey's Magazine, is quite a young man,
being yet some months short of his twenty-fifth year. He is a native of Southampton, Mass., was educated at Harvard, and though only a very recent addition to the ranks of magazine editors, has given evidence of good judgment, correct taste, and not a little managerial ability. Godey's is the oldest of our magazines, and it is Mr.
Bates's ambition to bring it up to the front rank. During the short time he has had control many improvements have been introduced, noticeable particularly in the tone, which is more elevated and ambitious. Perhaps there has never been a magazine editor so young as Mr. Bates, and that he has not only maintained himself successfully so far, but signified his management by marked improvements,

stamps him as a man above the common.

—The coffee party given in Associates hall last evening, under the auspices of the Catholic Debt Society of the Church of the Sacred Heart, was an unqualified success.

—Mr. John H. Sanborn's condition is slightly improved since Sunday, when he was taken to the hospital. His condition of physician was held. His familiar form is missed in many circles.

—Mr. Walter S. Griffith of Onset Bay is occupying a house on Crescent street until the new house on Albany avenue being erected for him by Mr. Melvin Bray, is completed.

—Prof. C. H. Brown gave a very interesting address Tuesday evening at the Young People's meeting in the Baptist vestry. His subject was "Olds and Ends
from Pigeon holes of the Old Testament."

—The observance of Patriots' Day at the Church of the Sacred Heart yesterday was attended by a large congregation and St.
Bernard's court, No. 44, M. C. O. F., of Newton attended in a body to the number of 150, and with invited guests occupied seats in the middle aisle. The decorations were of palms, ferns and potted plants
massed about the main altar and cut flowers and numerous lights added to the effect. Solemn high mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock, with Rev. D. J. Whaley, rector of the church, as celebrant. Rev. J. B.
Holland of Weymouth as deacon and Rev.
C. I. Reardon of Newton Upper Falls as sub-deacon. The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. B. Holland, who took for his subject, "Advantages of Catholic associations and duties of the members," in which he demonstrated that love of God and love of country are sister virtues, and the more conscientious a man is in the fulfillment of his religious duties, the more faithful and trustworthy a citizen he will become.

—Mr. Jesse H. Lippincott, who for the past three years has resided in Mr. H. W.
Mason's house, corner of Ballard and Centre streets, died quite suddenly Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Lippincott was born in Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Feb. 25, 1843, and received his education in the public schools of that place. He went into the army at the age of 18 and served during three years of the civil war. His first venture in a business way was as a grocer in Pittsburg, Pa. Several years afterwards he organized the Rochester Tumbler Company of Rochester, Pa., which at one time,
if not still, was the largest tumbler company in the world. He became identified with many public interests in Pittsburg
and other places, was one of the chief promoters and identified with the success of the great Bridgewater Gas Co., which furnishes Pittsburg and surrounding places
with gas at a minimum cost, and by which venture the Rochester Tumbler Co. also saved in annual expense about $100,000.

For many years he was president of the Braddock National Bank of Pittsburg and held large interests in railroads and business enterprises. He was a member and trustee for a number of years of the Fourth Ave. Baptist church of Pittsburg, of which Rev. L. C. Barnes, recently of this place, was then pastor, and was one of its most generous supporters. He was a hearted noble man, kindly, generous and charitable toward all, and ever ready to lend a helping hand. In 1885 he removed to New York city, still conducting large business interests, and becoming interested in the phonograph, which he believed would become of commercial value, he purchased the exclusive right for North America in 1887, paying Mr. Thomas Edison therefor the sum of $100,000. During the next three years he devoted his energies organizing companies throughout North America for the sale of phonographs, employing at one time in this connection over 3000 men, when disaster overtook him, owing to the impracticability of the phonograph from a business standpoint. Soon after ward from excessive work he became paralyzed in October, 1890, and has never recovered or attended to his business since. The untimely nature of the man was shown just before he was stricken down,
when he worked twelve consecutive days
with but four hours sleep in all that time.

Deceased was a member of the Fifth Ave.
Baptist church of New York city, and recently joined the First Baptist church here
where he has resided the past three years.
Singularly becoming during the last few years of his life a parishioner of Rev. Mr.
Barnes. He leaves a wife and three children, a daughter and two sons. The funeral will take place from his late residence, Ballard street, at 2 p. m. Sunday.
Rev. Lemuel C. Barnes of Pittsburg,
Pa., will officiate.

plate and national colors of Portugal and America were used for the pretty decorations,
while at one side and back of the table where Mrs. Abba Gould Woolson was seated, were grouped the S. and S. colors in her honor. Miss Emma E. Brown, member of the Castilian Club and honorary member of the West End Literary Club, occupied a seat near Mrs. Woolson; and her delightfully written paper, telling the romantic story of Taz de Vastro, met with nothing but praise. American and Portuguese music, both vocal and instrumental, were listened to with pleasure;
and by special request Mrs. Woolson read her poem on Prince Henry the Navigator, whose history is so closely connected with that of our own Columbian year.

THEY DEFY IMITATION.

Invention Can Supply No Substitutes For Whalebone or Teazel.

With all our boasted labor saving machinery and modern inventions there are numerous articles entering into the economy of manufacture which seem crude and simple, but which defy improvement.

No one, for instance, has ever been able to find a substitute for whalebone.
With the diminution of the supply and
the enormously increased cost of the article, scores of inventors have turned their attention to the article and attempted to supply a substitute, but up to the present time nothing as durable,
tough and pliable as whalebone has resulted.

Another article without which no
woolen manufacturer could prepare
certain goods for the market is the teal.
It is absolutely essential in raising a nap on cassimeres and soft woolen fabrics, and although scores of imitation teazels have been invented none is found to give the satisfaction of the old little burr, with its stiff little hooks, which is so extensively exported
and cultivated for the cloth finishing trade.

Persons who have never seen a teal can imagine a fur cone, set all over with little barbs. It is really a burr, or flower head, or thistle top of the plant dipsacus, and so identified is it with cloth dressing, and so long and so general has been the use of the teal for the purpose mentioned, that it is even reflected in its botanical name,
Dipsacus fullonum, or "fuller's teal."

However familiar the teal may be to persons familiar with woolen manufacture, or to those who live in countries where it is extensively cultivated,
the fact remains that the great majority of persons have never heard of such an article and will be astonished to learn in what enormous quantities they are raised.

In France alone 6,000 acres of land
are exclusively devoted to the cultivation of the teal. French manufacturers use annually nearly $2,000,000 worth of the prickly heads and export
during the same period upward of 60,- 000 tons, valued at $2,500,000. When it is considered that a teal weighs not more than an ordinary burdock,
the vast quantity exported can be realized
in part.

In addition to the French crop, which is the most highly esteemed, teazels are produced in enormous quantities in Austria, England, Belgium, Poland
and the Crimea. Until recently they did not grow satisfactorily in the United States, but now they are quite extensively grown in Oneida county, in this state, and possibly elsewhere, and it is said return a fair profit to the cultivator for the outlay of money.

The prickles of the teal have a small knob at the end, and this mounted on an elastic stem, and set with great precision on the central spindle,
which, revolving, claws the surface of the cloth, raises a nap which mechanical contrivances have always failed in equalling.—New York Herald.

A Race of Giant Cannibals.

Unlikely as it may seem to some who read these lines, it is a fact nevertheless that there is an island in the gulf of California, not more than 60 miles from the Mexican mainland, which is inhabited by the remnants of a race of giant cannibals. This startling discovery was made by a west coast naturalist early in 1891 and has since been confirmed by both United States and Mexican explorers. Mr. McNamara, the scientist referred to, has a photograph of one of the men found by him
on the island, that individual, although not one of the largest, being over 7 feet in height. The island upon which they were found is known as the island or isle of Leri, and the original discoverer
says that there is every evidence of can-ibalism among them.—St. Louis Republic.

The Law of the Jungle.

The law of the jungle, which never orders anything without a reason, forbids every beast to eat man except when he is killing to show his children how to kill, and then he must hunt outside the hunting grounds of his pack or tribe. The real reason for this is that man killing means, sooner or later, the arrival of white men on elephants, with guns, and hundreds of brown men with guns and rockets and torches. Then everybody in the jungle suffers. The reason the beasts give among themselves is that man is the weakest and
most defenseless of all living things,
and it is unsportsmanlike to touch him.
They say, too—and it is true—that man eaters become mangy and lose their teeth.—Rudyard Kipling in St. Nicholas.

widow has brought an action against a paper which said that her husband had gone to a happier home.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

BOTH BRANCHES IN SESSION MONDAY EVENING—THE ALDERMEN HAVE A LONG PRIVATE DISCUSSION IN THE MAYOR'S ROOM.

There was more than the usual number of spectators at the city government meeting last Monday evening, and most of them were present when it was time for the mayor and aldermen to convene at 7.15 o'clock. The action of the board in rescinding the order requiring the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. to run through cars from Newton Centre to Newtonville, and on a 20 minute time schedule, had evidently not found favor with citizens of the former place, and several of them, including President A. L. Rand of the Newton Centre Improvement Association and members of the railroad committee of that influential body, were at city hall to endeavor for the second or third time to present their reasons for demanding through service, on intelligible time.

Others interested in the disposal of sixth class liquor licenses applied for by pharmacists of the city, were present, as it had been rumored about that a decision would probably be rendered at that meeting. Fifteen minutes past seven had arrived. The aldermen did not convene, but were attending to various duties at their desks or were about the chamber engaged in conversation. Half past seven came and went and a few minutes later as by a pre-arranged plan the mayor and aldermen filed into the former's office and the door was closed.

The clock ticked slowly on. Eight o'clock; and some inquiry began to be made. At 8.30 the common council held a long recess, expecting that the aldermen might soon convene, but at 9 o'clock they too got weary, again assembled and adjourned.

Conjecture as to when the aldermen would get through with their private convention, had practically ceased at 9.30, and those who were present for anything beside idle curiosity had disposed themselves in comfortable attitudes about the chamber, evidently determined to remain until the city fathers appeared.

Licensing druggists was the subject under discussion of course, and when at 10 o'clock the dignified aldermanic body again appeared and assembled in the chamber in response to the mayor's gavel it was expected that the decision of the board would have been reached, but the three hours talk had not brought them to a decision which they cared to make public.

The mayor presided and all the aldermen were present.

Carriage licenses were granted as follows: John Coppinger, 2 H. A. Spear, 1 Geo. W. Bush, 10, S. F. Cate, 9, S. L. Pratt, 6, Mary C. Walsh, 1.

Fun holders, W. G. Grey, Wm. H. Kerrigan, T. C. Woodman, Joseph Lee, Mary C. Valenti, G. W. Lamson; intelligence office, Sarah M. Davis, J. L. Wetmore, J. C. Jones; pool, billiard, and bowling licenses, Joseph Lee, Newton Club, Newton Boat Club, Highland Club, Neighborhood Club, Quinobegun Association, W. G. Grey, Samuel McDonald, L. A. Yachon, H. F. Hesse; wagons, Geo. B. Wilson, 1, Geo. A. Pearson, 3, J. G. Roberts, 3.

A communication was received from Caroline J. Barker of West Newton, requesting early information as to how the proposed widening of Washington street would affect the proposed erection by her of a brick block.

Alderman Roffe presented a petition from Supr. Holmes of the electrical department of the N. & W. Gas Light Co. for pole location on Mt. Ida street and Newtonville avenue. Referred and a hearing ordered.

A. C. Jenkins petitioned for license to move a building from Crafts street to West street.

An order for main drain and sewer in Lake avenue and Edinboro street presented by Alderman Hunt was passed.

$77,000 FOR WATER.

Alderman Bothfield presented an order from the water board to authorize the expenditure of $77,000 in increasing the water supply by an extension of the conduit into Needham.

Alderman Thompson asked if it was intended to sink wells along the line of the extension to procure water.

The city engineer said that was the intention. He explained in detail the process of driving pipes to secure water at the surface of the ground.

Alderman Thompson was of the opinion that those pipes clogged up and became impracticable.

Alderman Hamilton desired to know more about the matter before voting.

Alderman Bothfield said an extension of the water supply would be necessary next year anyway, and the water board had decided to take action at this time because one of the largest mills in the city have made arrangements by which they can use many thousands of gallons per day and desire to take this service from the city. The rental of this would more than pay the interest on the appropriation desired. The city is now within 150,000 gallons daily of the limit and an increased supply must soon be provided.

Alderman Roffe asked if it was true that the recent changes and extensions in the water supply had resulted in disappointment?

The mayor said that there was some disappointment in regard to the high service recently established. It had been expected that high service would furnish water to go over any house in the city, but in this it had failed. He had been informed that $35,000 would be a sufficient expenditure for now, on the matter before the board.

Alderman Thompson's motion to table was passed.

Alderman Plummer presented a communication from Auburndale citizens favoring the so-called Rowe street route for the boulevard extension in that ward. The paper was signed by Geo. M. Fiske and 50 others.

The alderman said the route was sanctioned by the Improvement Association and moved its reference and a hearing was ordered.

THROUGH SERVICE WANTED.

Alderman Roffe said he held a communication from Mr. Arthur C. Waltham, in which that gentleman claimed some of his remarks made before the railroad people had been distorted, and a good deal made of them. He stated at the time in question that the people of Newton Centre wanted through cars to Newtonville, but that if a twenty minute schedule could be arranged so that there was no wait, and so passengers could step from one car to the other without putting foot upon the ground it might be satisfactory. After finishing the communication, Alderman Roffe said the president and some members of the Newton Centre Improvement Association were present and desired to be heard by the board.

Alderman Plummer thought this matter had been sufficiently discussed. He understood the 20 minute time had gone into effect on that day and he therefore saw no reason for reopening the matter.

H. B. Parker, president of the street railway, was asked regarding the change of time. He stated that a 20 minute schedule with the usual change at Homer street from the Newton Centre cars was in operation. He saw no necessity, continuing, in the board being troubled by the matter, but desired that the Newton Centre people meet the railroad and adjust matters.

Alderman Roffe—I don't see why there should be any objection to these gentlemen being heard.

Alderman Plummer still opposed a discussion as needless, still if the change in time was not satisfactory he would waive his opposition.

The board then voted at 10.25 to hear these people of Newton Centre.

Mr. Frank Edmonds was the first speaker representing Mr. C. S. Davis, chairman of the railroad committee of the N. C. I. A. He said the association wanted through cars to Newtonville. The committee had met the railroad people but could get no satisfaction or a promise of anything. They had put in a petition to this board signed by 75 of the most prominent citizens of the city, and they had been given a hearing, a chance to represent their side of this matter. An order was passed and he supposed the board thought that obviated the necessity of giving a hearing, but it has since been rescinded. The citizens do not get the service they ought. They wanted further consideration by the board or a hearing. He said Mr. Parker told him that night that there was a change at Homer street as before.

In answer to Alderman Plummer in reference to the new turnout he said the people would have to get out of one car walk a short distance and get on to another, and that was what they objected to. It does not prevent a wait.

Alderman Plummer said Newton Centre people objected to anything but through cars.

Mr. Parker made the statement that they were giving the same service as last summer, transferring at Homer street. A new turnout would allow the Upper Falls, Newton Centre and Newtonville cars to meet at Homer street.

Alderman Thompson asked if they did not have through service to Newton Centre last summer.

Mr. Parker—Yes, for one week. There was not business enough to warrant it.

Mr. Edmonds stated that the citizens of Newton Centre were not so particular about the time as seemed to be the impression. They want first, through cars to Newtonville. About the time, a twenty or thirty minute schedule would be satisfactory. They did not want to change at Homer street.

He said the committee would be willing to meet a committee from the city government and from the railroad, and not take the time of the board further at that time.

President A. L. Rand of the N. C. I. A. said the people of Newton Centre appreciated the recent action of the board in passing an order to give them through service and twenty minutes, but they did feel strange when they found the board had gone back on itself and rescinded the order. It appeared to them very strange! and this action had been taken and they had been given no opportunity to reply. He got on to a N. & W. electric to come to the meeting, scheduled to leave Newton Centre at 7.10, it left at exactly 7.15, the conductor explaining that he waited for a train. Newton Centre people want a time schedule that will be followed by the cars.

Regular business was then resumed, an order granting the N. & W. Gas Light Co. location for poles and wires on South street, being passed.

Alderman Bothfield moved to withdraw the order appropriating $77,000 for the extension of water service, owing to an omission in the framing of the order. Voted.

The board adjourned to Thursday, April 26.

Newton Civil Service Reform Association.

At the annual meeting held in West Newton last Monday evening, April 23, the following list of officers was chosen to serve for the ensuing year:

Henry Lambert, president; Leverett Saltonstall, Edwin B. Haskell, William P. Elliott, Edwin P. Seaver, Nathaniel T. Allen, Warren P. Tyler, Stephen Thacher, vice presidents; R. L. Bridgman, chairman exec. com., D. C. Heath, Jos. R. Smith, Thos. B. Fitzpatrick, Geo. E. Gilbert, Edwin F. Kimball, directors; H. E. Bothfeld, treasurer; Jas. P. Tolman, secretary.

The secretary's report reviewed the progress of the reform during the past year, and will be printed at length in our next week's issue.

The meeting adopted the following resolution:—That we believe that patriotic and judicious legislation can only be secured by the extension of Civil Service Reform to all branches of the public service to which it is applicable, thus removing the greatest danger of corrupt influence, both in the election of congressmen, and in their discharge of the duties of their position.

Common Council.

The common council met in regular session with President Knapp in the chair.

Papers from the aldermen were passed in concurrence.

Austin Saunders petitioned for a sidewalk on Kenwood terrace which was referred.

Councilman Bullard introduced an order, requesting a report from the committee regarding the placing of Steamer Two in commission. The order passed.

The citizens of West Newton are very earnest in their desire for a steamer in that ward and have been endeavoring for a long time to have Steamer Two in commission.

Citizens would be more willing to pay an increased tax rate to the city rather than submit to the high insurance rates induced by insufficient fire protection. The expense of remodeling the engine house has been estimated by a prominent builder in Newton not to cost more than $8000.

The council adjourned at 9 o'clock after a long recess.

Armenian Nation and the Missionaries.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:—

Articles and editorials appear from time to time warning the world against an alleged revolutionary movement in Armenia, injurious to the cause of missions. I have made no reply; for I had supposed these attacks to be prompted simply by a few persons, who, like the revered Dr. Hamlin, and Rev. Hitchcock, on account of their long absence from the country, are necessarily ignorant of present conditions and inside facts.

But after reading the last article in the Congregationalist, which stated that all missionaries in Turkey are of the same opinion, I feel called upon to indicate to the public how far the missionaries' statements are wrong, or at least incomplete. I appreciate the value of the work done by the missionaries for the Armenian nation, and what I have to say, is designed to promote their efficiency, as all preliminary reform effort is largely tentative, so this adaptation on the part of the missionaries in Turkey must be the result of protracted time and study.

It was very natural for the missionaries to make some mistakes in the process of arriving at the best methods of work, details aside. All their errors revolve about one point; namely, their attitude toward the humble and obedient Armenian nation. As religious reformers, their direct mission was to the Armenian Gregorian church, but indifference to national affairs was an impossibility. The Armenian nation and church are one, their interdependence is like that between the body and the spirit. What affects one affects the other. Recognition of a people in Turkey as a church means recognition as a nation. While the direct interest of the missionaries was in church affairs, in reality they made a new nation. They busied themselves in getting a firm from the Sultan recognizing their converts as a new and protestant nation. Hence the Armenians began to see in the missionaries, not only religious reformers, but schismatics and splitters of their nation; instead of appearing as religious propagandists only, they soon began to be looked upon by the nation as a menace to its interests. This was the prime obstacle in the path of the missionaries' progress. They now seem to be taking a second false step. While poor Armenia is struggling with tyranny and trying hard to throw off its yoke, the missionaries are posing as indifferent to their rights and parading their lack of sympathy before the civilized world.

From their standpoint they may be right, that is not the point. The question is this, Can they remain ostentatiously apathetic to the good of Armenia and at the same time win Armenians to their cause? The answer is, No. The case is this. Instead of taking the impossible attitude of neutrality, they really injure the prospects of the old Armenian nation. Their sincerity is not questioned, but their knowledge is necessarily superficial, their newspaper articles are accepted as authoritative, while in fact they shoot far wide of the mark. I regret to say that their publications show partiality. If their position should prevent them from writing anything political, if they can say nothing of the unspeakable tyranny of Turkish rule, if they can in no way help the Armenian nation by making known the facts of Turkish persecution, why then are they so persistent alarmists against the struggle of certain young men and young girls, who have found the ottoman yoke intolerable? Why do they interest themselves to such an extent in the Hunchakist and other movements, is it because these young men and women are seditionists?

Are they more rebellious against the Kingdom of God than are the Turks? Is it because they interfere more than do the Turks with the missionary work and the Sunday schools, as Drs. Hamlin and Hitchcock and others seem to think?

Not at all. If the missionaries think so, this is their third mistake. I am not sanctioning the Hunchakist movement in all respects. Its courage and zeal are commendable, but the spirit of reformation should be under the wise direction, which I trust time will soon fetch. It is not fair on the part of the missionaries to remain silent concerning the outrages and errors of Turkish rule, and at the same time to fill the world with noise regarding those miserable and oppressed Armenians who are trying to assert their hope to their other country. If the missionaries will not help this struggling nation, they ought not to hamper it or dictate its policy. They could easily help the nation in many ways, to them it naturally looks for assistance. The antagonism of the Hunchakist is largely due to the fact that they, having been trained to ideas of civil and religious freedom, instead of getting the help and guidance of the missionaries, find them taking the side, not of Christian liberty, but of Turkish tyranny. If the missionaries would show by their works that they have the good of Armenia at heart, even the Hunchakist would be content.

Whatever the missionaries may do in the country, their success will depend on their sympathy with its people, they cannot reach them unless they gain and hold their confidence. Just here is the danger of their position, unless their present policy is changed, the missionaries may seem to be injurious instead of helpful to the nation, and, indeed, will be.

The Armenian looks at the matter thus: "We are engaged in a mighty struggle with hearts of Ephesus. If you can not help us for God's sake do not help the lion!" The providence of God has clearly opened a door for the introduction of missionary work into the heart of the nation through sympathy with its people in this their time of need. Once the Armenian church opened its doors to the missionaries, who missed their opportunity, and the rupture is complete. They now have a chance to win the confidence of the Armenian nation, failing in this, their influence over Armenia is gone. Apathy now may alienate the nation forever. I hope that the missionaries will avail themselves of their present opportunity to reach these people. They do not even hope to convert Mohammedans, and thus build up the cause of missions in the Orient. Their moral influence would prevent insurrection, and their influence with Turkey, owing to its respect for the United States, should be immense. This would be justice to the crescent in the spirit of the cross.

NEWTON SCHOOL BOARD.

A BRIEF SESSION WITH ROUTINE TRANS-ACTIONS.

The regular meeting of the school committee was called to order by the mayor at 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday evening, with just a quorum present. The absentees from the session were Messrs. Knapp, Drew, Ober, Beck, Hale and Mrs. Davis.

The records were omitted by common consent and the customary report of the superintendent of schools was received. Supt. Aldrich touched upon the school districts which were shown to be still about the same as 20 years ago, although the city during that period had advanced in many important directions.

The regulations provide that pupils of one district shall attend the school situated in that district unless by special permission of the superintendent of schools. The districts as described in a report of 20 years ago, were four in number, and included these portions of the city: District 1, Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, Newton Upper Falls; district 2, Lower Falls and Auburndale; district 3, the Pierce, Franklin, Davis, Adams and Claflin schools; district 4, the Jackson, Bigelow, Lincoln and Underwood schools. There were at that time only four masters, one having charge of each district.

Important changes had taken place since that time, and four additional school buildings, the Barnard, Elliot, Rice and Waban had been erected, making these boundaries of little present value. He therefore suggested that the superintendent be instructed to submit a plan for the subdivision of the city into new school districts.

An order to this effect was later on passed by the board. The report also recommended the adoption of the series of Geographical Readers published by Silver, Burdett & Co.; Heart of Oak Books by D. C. Heath & Co.; Hale's Stories for Children, and Southworth's Essentials of arithmetic. They were referred to the text book committee.

Mr. J. Edward Hollis of Newton presented an order appointing as truant officers John O. Worden and Arthur I. Benyon at an hourly compensation of fifty cents for actual service. Passed.

Mr. J. R. Smith of Newton Highlands presented the following:

Ordered, that the city council be requested to instruct the inspector of buildings to investigate the sanitary condition of the school houses in Newton, except the old Hyde school house, test the plumbing therein, and report in detail on the sanitary appliances and condition of the buildings, on the heating appliances therein, the kind, method of construction and condition, of the chimneys in the several school buildings, and the safety of each as regards fire, before the next meeting of the school committee on May 23rd next, or as soon thereafter as possible.

Mr. Lawrence Bond of West Newton presented the report of the committee on finance for the past month and submitted an order which was adopted, appropriating the sum of $12,925.92 for April expenses.

Mr. F. H. Howes of Newton submitted an order requesting the committee of rules to consider the advisability of changing the hour of the committee meeting from 7:30 to 7:45 o'clock.

He said in explanation that he for one was greatly inconvenienced by the present hour of meeting and he had talked with other members who thought a change desirable. The order passed.

Mr. E. H. Mason of Newton Centre introduced an order giving Miss Ellen S. Baker, first assistant in the Mason school, leave of absence for the balance of the school year, with balance of salary.

He said she was one of the most efficient teachers in the city, had been performing additional duties during the year, in the absence of Mr. Spinney, master of the school, and had now been called away by the serious illness of a relative. Balance of salary of course meant over and above what it cost to fill the vacancy. The order was adopted. The board then adjourned.

Texas As Seen by Newton Eyes.

Encinal, Texas, April 17, 1894.

To the Editor of the Graphic:—The International and Great Northern R. R. runs only one train each way daily from San Antonio (Antoni) to Laredo and while waiting for the north bound train I will write.

This place is 38 miles from Laredo which is the southern rail gateway to Mexico, there being no station between the two places. Here we are in the heart of the great southern Texas pastures, the whole country being one continuous grazing region, millions of cattle and great numbers of sheep swarming over it. This spring has seen more than 200,000 cattle shipped to the Indian Territory to take advantage of the rich pasturage there, to make beef which the long continued drought has denied this country. Practically there has been no grass beef shipped from Texas this year and in some localities there have been heavy losses of cattle, simply because it had not rained, but happily this condition no longer exists, for within a week immense rains have fallen over a large part of southern Texas. In Texas it "never rains but it pours." The long drizzle is pretty nearly unknown and when the rain does come it comes in torrents, flooding the whole country and often doing great mischief; still the Texan always prays for rain as he prays for nothing else. "If it rains good I will go to Newton this fall and visit you" said a friend of mine. "If it rains again we are going to Europe in May" said a lady of San Antonio to me a day or two since. If it rains the merchant will have a good trade and good collections, the cattle men will make money and spend it freely and all classes and trades will feel the good effect, but if it is dry the reverse will be most noticeable. Generally, however, it is dry more or less and more often more than less. For six long years there has not been a "real good" rain in southwestern Texas until since I left home a week ago this morning. On the morning of the 14th when I got out of my berth at Hunter, 40 miles north of San Antonio, I saw at a glance it had rained. The whole face of the flat country was covered with drift wherever there was any object for it to cling. Against the sides of the houses it was heaped three or four feet deep and the crops looked as if a river had swept over them. On reaching San Antonio the rain was the one topic; the great pastures had been swept with floods. All the ponds and water holes filled, the whole country soaked and everybody was jubilant. For thousands of square miles the country has been subjected to such continued drought that there is no more grass than there will be on the Newton boulevard, and in those pastures where there is no supply of prickly pear (cactus) and mesquit, it has fared hard with stock, but when these abound cattle have done fairly well. The two generaly grow together and at present they are the only green thing on millions of acres of land, unless the grass in answer to the late wetting has begun to peep out. The cactus grows six feet high and has spikes like a darning needle and the pads are like elephants ears, frequently a foot in diameter. Cattle will not eat it if they can get grass, but grass failing they eat the pear and live on it, though they can't be said to thrive. The mesquit looks like a peach tree, both as to size and shape, and the trees are some distance apart and frequently are mistaken by strangers for a peach orchard. The tree bears a full crop of beans, in pods like a garden bean, and very sweet and nutritious and it is an immense help to have plenty of mesquit for stock. If one gets to a good elevation he sees much over tens of thousands of acres in every direction. This is a shipping point and last night until one o'clock cattle were being loaded here, something like fifty cars being sent off. They were obliged to come here on account of high water which cut them off from Catulla, the station next north of here, the Nueces river now being two or three miles wide where a week ago it would not furnish water for a head of cattle. A stockman, a short distance from here, lost something like seventy-five cattle by drowning in a location where there was previously not water enough for the cattle to drink.

Hail is met in some places more than three feet deep. The Texans make merry over the climate and the local poet says:

"The heat in summer is one hundred and ten Too hot for the d—l and too hot for men!"

And another describing an offer made the Old Boy of Texas in which to set up the internal regions who:

"When had considered the matter fully and well
He concluded the place was too dry for a hell!"

The cactus is in full blossom. Thousands of its beautiful flowers from deep to pale yellow and fine pink to deep red are everywhere. But every rose has its thorn and these have thorns for every flower as the tender foot discovers to his sorrow.

The train rolls in with the usual attendance of gazers, largely Mexicans. Each coach bears on one end the legend "For Whites," on the other "For Negroes," the former compartment being twice the size of the latter. The Mexicans come into the larger and we are off.

Adios, S. E. HOWARD.

SOUTH STREET WIDENING.

BOSTON MEN WANT IT MADE 120 FEET.

The street commissioners of Boston gave a hearing, Monday, on the widening of South street from Chestnut Hill avenue, Brighton, to the Newton line, to connect with the Newton boulevard. There was a large attendance, and the property owners favored the plan.

Mr. Fiske, who represented the Improvement Association of Brighton, favored the widening, urging that the width be made 120 feet. The society, he said, had not considered the width, but expected that the commissioners would use their discretion. They felt that the commissioners would lay it out at a width best suited to the interests of the whole city.

Dana Estes of Estes & Lauriat, and representing the Newton boulevard syndicate, said he was very much interested in the proposed widening. He felt that it was very important that the street be laid out at a width of 120 feet. To make it anything less when Beacon street, Chestnut Hill avenue and Commonwealth avenue have an aggregate width of 420 feet, and the streets on the Newton side are to have an aggregate width of 200 feet, would be a serious detriment.

It would be very unwise, he thought, to have South street only 80 feet, for instance, when it is to be an avenue upon which so many magnificent wide boulevards are to converge. Chestnut Hill avenue, too, he thought, ought to be 120 feet wide.

Ex-Gov. Brackett, who represented Mrs. Wado, a large real estate owner, was in favor of having the street 120 feet.

Arthur G. Everett wanted Chestnut Hill avenue widened to 120 feet.

Ex-Alderman Morton wanted South street widened to 120 feet. The land there now is assessed for from 5 to 12 cents a foot, and he did not believe that the cost of land damages would be very serious.

Ex-Alderman Breck felt that the widening would be an injury to his estate on the corner of Foster and South streets, and if his land were taken he would expect sufficient remuneration.

Charles H. Breck said his property would be injured as much if the street was 80 as it would if it were made 120 feet. He ought to be paid, he thought for the damage that would be done him.

Samuel Larnard said if the street were made 120 feet his property would be damaged, because immediately behind the land described was a steep declivity, and nothing could be done with the land that remained after the street was widened.

Theodore Monroe wanted pay for the land the city would take from him at the corner of Chestnut Hill avenue and South street.

A. D. S. Bell, representing the Knowles' estate, said the people whom he represented would be willing to give their land if the street were made 120 feet.

W. P. Page, representing Mr. Albert Geiger, favored the proposed widening, and said that Mr. Geiger would be willing to pay one-half the damage of land taken on the opposite side from him.

The board took the matter under advisement.

It is only of late years that rheumatism has been treated as a blood disease. But that this is a correct theory is proved by the extraordinary success attending the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in this painful and very prevalent malady. It seldom fails of radical cure.

WARWICK CASTLE.

A Peep Into the Famous English Palace of the "Kingmaker."

One could spend days looking at the pictures at Warwick and at the sculpture and curios. There is a table, the top of which is made of fine marble mosaic, lapis lazuli, and precious stones which belonged to Marie Antoinette. In the red drawing room are rare specimens of Limousin enamels, also Bohemian glass and Venetian crystals. This room leads to the cedar drawing room, whose walls are 10 feet in thickness. One of the many valuable and beautiful ornaments in this room is a bust of Prosperine, by our American sculptor Power.

The "living rooms" of the castle extend 330 feet in length, and each window gives charming views of the grounds. In one of these rooms, the gilt drawing room, is a Florentine mosaic table, enriched with precious stones, brought from the Grimani palace in Venice. Its value is £10,000, which, please remember, is $50,000 of Yankee money. The Grimani arms, the pope's triple crown, lion of St. Mark, doge's cap, keys of St. Peter and cardinal's hat are illustrated in jasper, onyx, amethyst, malachite and cornelian on its surface.

A moment after leaving the gilt drawing room and we are in the state bedroom, where good Queen Anne slept, and in which her big dreary looking bed still stands. We don't seem to know much about Queen Anne's belongings, thus her bed and traveling trunks at its foot arouse our interest. In these trunks were her majesty's clothes. They are sensible, ponderous trunks, covered with brown leather and studded with brass nails. Even an American baggage smashing porter would have found Queen Anne's trunks "too large an order" to destroy. George III presented this bedstead, with its faded crimson curtains and its 15 feet high posts. Over the fireplace hangs a fine portrait of the queen herself painted by Sir Godfrey Kneller. It is in this state bedroom that Queen Victoria slept when she visited Warwick castle with the late prince consort. I don't know whether she occupied Anne's bed, but if so I hope it was more comfortable than it looks.

From the bedroom is a bonfire, literally crammed with paintings. Here is Holbein's "Henry VIII;" "A Boar Hunt," by Rubens; "A Dead Christ," on copper, by a follower of Correggio; "Charles II's Beauties," by Lely; a "San Sebastian," by Vanduyke; "Card Players," by Teniers, and a Salvador Rosa landscape.

The castle's state dining room was burned out in 1871, but it has been reproduced on the old lines and is a truly royal apartment. On either side of the massive fireplace, where many a Yule log has slowly burned itself out to white ashes, there are gilt Venetian figures. Above the fireplace hangs Ruben's sketch of lions. There is also in this room a droll portrait of George III in the arms of his mother.

The castle boasts a Shakespeare room, designed and added by the late earl, and to which the county of Warwick presented the Kenilworth buffet in ancient oak. Into this room have been collected all procurable Shakespeare relics, and resting on an old oak footed oak table are all the works, with the admirable edition of Shakespeare of the late Halliwell Phillips.

The place has been called the castle of the kingmaker. Who can visit this historic house and not desire to reread Lord Lytton's "The Last of the Barons," whose text of composition is furnished by the annals of this wonderful castle and its wonderful earl, Richard Nevill.—Boston Herald.

Cold Bridle Bits.
During the bitter cold weather in winter much suffering is thoughtlessly inflicted on horses by putting cold bridle bits into their mouths. If the person who does this will apply his tongue to a piece of iron on a frosty morning, he will understand at once what the suffering to the poor brutes is. To slightly warm the bits before putting them into the horse's mouth would require only a small expenditure of labor. This can be done by rubbing them with a blanket or other cloth a moment or two if other means of warming is not at hand. The beneficial results in the gentleness of the animal will amply compensate it.—Detroit Free Press.

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. ## "For Years,"

Says CARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort to breathe. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving me suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."

THE BOULEVARD SETTLED.

The boulevard contest appears to be practically settled, and that too in an amicable manner, and we may soon expect to see work begun upon it. The city and Mr. Dumaresq came to an agreement, by which he withdrew his suit, and also his opposition to the bill before the legislature, and the city agreed to have the boulevard follow the line of Ward street as far as Main road, and thus avoid dividing Mr. Dumaresq's property, and leaving a small and rather useless strip on the opposite side of the boulevard. The opposition of Mr. Dumaresq was only natural, and it is in one way a compliment to Newton, as it shows that he came to Newton as a permanent resident, and did not buy his estate simply as a real estate speculation. It is said that he has made a very generous offer to the city, which has been accepted, and that the new lay out is endorsed by Mr. Olmsted, the celebrated landscape engineer, as being preferable to the one first adopted.

This will settle the first section of the boulevard, and the legislature has passed the bill granting Newton the necessary powers through most of its various stages, so that there will be no questions arising from future acts of the city government.

Boston has already begun agitating the widening of South street from the Newton line, so that it looks now as if this great public improvement would soon be an assured thing.

There has been a good deal of criticism at the delays of the present city government in carrying out any of the plans before it, and some of the fault finding has not been altogether without foundation, but it takes time to carry through any important public improvements, and if the present city council succeeds in carrying out this boulevard scheme it will be a memorable event in the history of Newton, and they will be entitled to great credit, as they have kept pressing the scheme forward, in spite of many obstacles and discouragements, and also of some very unfair and undeserved attacks from people whose schemes were not adopted. But public officials must expect this, and they are entitled to more credit when they go right on serving the best interests of the whole public to the utmost of their ability. It is hoped that the announcement can soon be made that work has begun on the boulevard.

The project to widen South street from the Newton line to Chestnut Hill avenue, Boston, is being pushed forward, and the Boston street commissioners gave a hearing to the property owners affected on Monday. The sentiment seemed to be pretty unanimous that it should be made 120 feet wide to correspond with the Newton Boulevard, and many of the property owners offered to give all the land necessary, while those who objected, did so to secure the payment of damages. They all seemed to realize that if the land remains as at present it will never be developed, and that to secure some advantage to themselves they must make it wide enough to correspond with the other handsome streets in that vicinity, which have been so rapidly built up since the improvements were made. An account of the hearing will be found on another page.

ANOTHER generous gift has been given to the Newton Cottage Hospital by Mrs. Elizabeth T. Eldridge, in the shape of a check for $5,000, to endow a free bed. This makes a total of $20,000 that Mrs. Eldridge has given to the Hospital, in which she has always taken a deep interest. Her generosity is gratefully appreciated by the trustees, who know how urgent the need of such endowments is, to provide for the great work the Hospital is doing in Newton, in caring for the poor and suffering. It is hoped that other citizens will be inspired by this example to remember the needs of the Hospital and help to remove the burden that is resting upon the managers, as they see the expenses so far in excess of the income.

An interesting letter from an Armenian residing in Newton, in regard to the work of American missionaries in his country, will be found in another page. He explains why, in his opinion, the missionaries have not met with the success they might have expected, had they paid more attention to the situation of affairs, and the wishes of the people of Armenia.

THERE is some discussion over the selection of candidates for mayor and other city officers, but there is plenty of time yet to make a selection. The new citizens' movement, which was inaugurated last fall, is expected to have a good deal of influence, unless the members have lost their interest in reforming city politics, which is sometimes done, even by the most zealous reformers.

As soon as the governor signs the bill for the new boulevard law, a special meeting of the City Council will be held and a new order for the lay-out adopted, after which work will begin at once.

HAVEN-SPEARE.

A PROMINENT SOCIETY WEDDING AT THE HOME OF EX-MAYOR SPEARE

The residence of Hon. Alden Speare at Newton Centre was not only the attractive spot for residents of the Newtons, Wednesday, but the afternoon trains from Boston carried large delegations of guests to the marriage of his daughter, Miss Minnie Gertrude Speare, and Rev. William Ingraham Haven, pastor of the Saratoga Street M. E. church of East Boston.

In the midst of palms and flowers the ceremony was performed by Bishop Foster and Rev. E. H. Hughes in the drawing room. At 3.30 o'clock the bridal procession entered, headed by the ushers, Messrs. E. Ray Speare, A. S. Ingraham, Stephen L. Bartlett and C. R. McGee, who were followed by the bridesmaids, Misses Mary V. Fennessey, Mabel W. Mason, Marion E. Nickerson and Adelaide T. Lecompte. The latter were gowned in pink mousseline de soie over silk slips to match, and carried huge bouquets of Catherine Mermet roses. Then came Miss Fannie B. Carpenter as maid of honor. She wore a toilet of white crepon and carried Bride roses.

The bride walked alone in close proximity to her maid and was attired in a princess robe of white duchesse satin en train, and had for her bouquet lilies of the valley. A diamond crescent, the gift of the groom, fastened her veil.

Before the alcove of palms, laurel and cut flowers stood the groom, his best man, Mr. A. B. Hamilton, and the officiating bishop and his assistant, and here the popular divine and one of Newton Centre's greatest church workers were married, while an orchestra made up of musicians from the Boston Symphony Orchestra, played the bridal chorus "Lohengrin."

The house was elaborately decorated with laurel, tied at regular intervals with white ribbon.

The gifts of the bride and bridegroom to their maids and ushers were diamond stick pins.

After a short tour in the South, Rev. and Mrs. Haven will reside in Brookline.

Among those present were: Ex-Gov. William Claflin, Hon. E. H. Dunn, Hon. James F. C. Hyde, Charles Sias, Alonzo R. Weed, publisher of Zion's Herald; Hon. George O. Robinson, Bishop Fitzgerald and Bishop Foster of the Methodist Episcopal church; A. A. Robinson, president of the Mexican Central Railway Company; Henry W. Goodwin, treasurer of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company; Mrs. Jane Bancroft Robinson, Marcus Buell, dean of the School of Theology of Boston University; Dr. William E. Huntington, dean of the College of Liberal Arts; Borden P. Bowne, D. D., LL. D., W. R. Clarke, trustee of Boston University; Dr. Alfred S. Wiley of Paris.

THE ALDERMEN MEET.

BUT NOT TO ACT ON THE DRUGGISTS' LICENSES.

The adjourned meeting of the aldermen was held last evening.

Every member but one was in the chamber before 7.30 but they went into private session in the mayor's room.

The session was called to order at 10.05 o'clock and in less than ten minutes they adjourned.

After passing concurrent business including a petition for bridging the B. & A. at Hyde street they granted intelligence office licenses to P. W. Foster and Peter Miller.

Petitions were received from Edward Almy, Woodbine street, and Annie A. Woodman, for concrete sidewalks; C. C. Duval, protest against fire poles on Forest street; J. Hammond et al., five street lights, Parker and Dedham streets. The sum of $2,600.06 for 1893 dog licenses was transferred to the school appropriation and the water board order for $77,000 was tabled by motion of Alderman Thompson.

Incumbent licenses conflicting with the present statute were revoked as follows: U. G. Grey, W. H. Kerrivan, T. G. Woodman, Phillip di Cacca, Mary C. Venti.

Adjourned at 10.13.

Bowdoin Square Theatre.

The attraction next week at the Bowdoin Square Theatre, "Hands Across the Sea," is familiar to the play-going public and it would be difficult to name a drama which has enjoyed more general favor, and continues in popularity. Few productions of the modern day call for more elaborate stage settings or afford more mechanical better opportunities for realistic illusions. Incidental to the performance, the "Columbian Cadets" will appear in the spectacular production of "The Bivouac," which includes scenes in camp and on the picket line, with all the incidents of a campaign.

What the Pennock System Can Do.

The Pennock Electric Light System can compete with gas at five cents a thousand feet. It can produce 1000 Incandescent Electric Lights cheaper than the dynamo can produce 100 lights. The Pennock System can put 20-horse power in a boat and deliver 100 horse power—yes, 200-horse power—at the propeller shaft. THINK OF IT! The Pennock Electric System can furnish the power for $1 an hour to run 1000 Electric Fans, furnishing a cool breeze to every room in a hotel.

MIND YOU.

One Dollar an Hour, we may do it for 10 cents, for the Entire Lot of Fans.—The one thousand fans, if worked with a dynamo, would call for an output of 1500 horse power, but the Pennock can do it with but 10-horse power.

The 1490 Horse Power is Furnished Free Over the Pennock Phantom Circuits. Without doubt the greatest invention of the age, and the Pennock Electric Systems are yet in their infancy. The Pennock Electric Light and Electric Railway Company is destined to become famous as a large dividend paying investment.

I Just Want to Call Your Attention to One Fact.—Don't it strike you pretty forcibly that this stock may prove a second Bell Telephone? We are now selling our stock at $5 per share. It may jump to high figures at any time. Take the Bell Telephone for an example. Why, at first, that stock knocked about the "street" at 2 cents per share. It finally sold up to $3.70 per share, and it is said that John Wanamaker made several hundred thousand dollars out of his holdings.

Well, I can show Larger Profits than the Bell Telephone—Think of It!—Electric Railway alone will surely advance this stock to extremely high figures. ## A VILLAGER.

There was no lad handsomer than Willie was
The day that he came to father's house.
There was none had an eye as soft as blue
As Willie's was when he came to woo.

To a laboring life though bound these be,
An I on my father's ground live free,
I'll take thee, I said, for thy manly grace,
Thy gentle voice and thy loving face.

"Thy forty years now since we were wed,
We are ailing and gray needs not to be said,
But Willie's eye is as blue and soft
As the day when he wooed me in father's croft."

Yet changed am I in body and mind,
For Willie to me has ne'er been kind.
Merrily drinking an shingling with the men,
He 'ud come home late six nights of the seven.

An since the children be grown an gone
He 'as shunned the house an left me lone,
An less an less he brings me in,
O' the little he now has strength to win.

The roof lets through the wind an the wet,
An master won't mend it with us in debt,
An all looks every day more worn,
An the best of my gowns be shabby an torn.

No wonder if words had a-grown to win,
That matters not, while nobody knows,
For love him I shall to the end of life,
An be, as I swore, his own true wife.

An when I'm gone he'll turn an see
His folly an wrong an be sorry for me,
An come to me there in the land o' bliss,
To give me the love I looked for in this.

—Robert Bridges.

Where Tyndall Wanted to Rest.

"Whatever the late Professor Tyndall's final wishes may have been, it was not," writes a correspondent, "his desire at one time of his life that he remains should rest in the little graveyard at Haslemere. I remember some 10 years ago sitting next him at a dinner party at the late Earl of Dalhousie's and his expatiating with much zest and eloquence on his horror of being interred in a damp spot. His final resting place, the professor declared, was already prepared for him near his favorite Alpine retreat—a shelf cut in the hard rock, high up in the pure, dry mountain air, where the natural process of disintegration might be accomplished with as few of the painful adjuncts of decay as might be. He laughingly volunteered to provide contiguous rocky shelves for any like minded friends.

"I may perhaps be allowed to add that through all the intervening years I have retained a most vivid impression of the enthusiasm with which Professor Tyndall dwelt on the wilder beauties of nature. He assured me that he lived on Hindhead not for the sake of the exquisite summer days, but for the wild evenings of spring and autumn, when storms and mists and rainclouds sweep across the open hillside. His artistic enjoyment of such a scene seemed to me quite as keen as his scientific appreciation."—Westminster Gazette.

Flower a Big Eater.

Roswell P. Flower is a funny fellow when he eats. He has always been used to good things, and he knows them now when he sees them. He is a big eater and a fair drinker. But his peculiarity is that he always wants a whole canvas-back duck to himself. If there are 20 at dinner or only 2, a duck is placed before the governor, with a big carving knife, and he helps himself to the slices as he wants them. He does not want his duck carved for him, nor does he want to share it. But he will pay the bill for as many ducks as may be necessary to supply the whole party, even if all want separate ducks. All the hotels know his peculiarity and look out for him.—New York Herald.

Chinese Gambling.

Gambling debts are pre-eminently debts of honor in China and are more willingly and speedily paid than any others. To pay them a Chinaman will pawn all his property and even sell his children. For this he is regarded by the public as worthy of all praise, and the relatives who allow themselves to be sold are treated as models of filial devotion. Meanwhile a tradesman to whom a debt is due may starve.—Asiatic Gazette.

A Vacation For Some One.

Mrs. Clark—How is the contested will case coming on, Mr. Dower?

Mr. Dower—It's all settled and in my favor.

Mrs. Clark—I congratulate you. I suppose you'll soon be taking your family to Europe?

Mr. Dower—No, but my lawyer is going to take his.—Soundings.

Postoffice Insurance.

The English postmaster general is empowered to insure the lives of persons between the ages of 14 and 65 years for not less than $25 nor more than $500, and to grant annuities of not more than $500 on the lives of persons of the age of 5 years and upward. The annuities are sold in connection with the postoffice savings bank department.

An Ancient Game.

"Say, Red and Green, do you know that football's one of the oldest games known?"

"So? Where did you learn that?"

"Here in Exodus, where Pharaoh's daughter found Moses in the rush line."—Philadelphia Call.

For shampooing the hair nothing is better than plenty of tar soap and hot water. It is better than castile even and makes a fine soft lather. A little borax or a tablespoonful of ammonia in the water is also good for oily hair, but too much of either turns the hair gray.

To clean bronzes, immerse in boiling water. Clean with flannel dipped in soapuds and rub dry with chamois. An urn should be filled with boiling water before the exterior is cleaned.

Coins with dates referring to "Anno Domini" (A. D.) cannot be found bearing an earlier date than that of the fourteenth century.

The little island of Iceland, with about 70,000 inhabitants, has the same number of newspapers as the great empire of China.

The apple parer was given to the public in 1893. At the present day one eastern firm makes over 27,000 a year.

ARTISTS OF THE ROUNDUP.

Old Time Texas Cowboys Vastly Different From Those of the Present Day.

The old time cowboy is no more. He passed in his checks with the free grass custom. The big pasture has introduced a new order of cowboy, who sleeps in a house and "obeys orders" or quits. The old cowboy was the companion of his boss and shared his pleasures and his hardships.

No manager in this big headquarter rockhouse reminded him of his inferior rank in society, nor did any of the modern ranch accessories mar the common dangers, the pleasures and the freedom and equality of the whitem cowboy and cowman. But the ranch in the olden time was a cottonwood loghouse to cook in, and for roof and protection from the weather the slicker was used, and mother earth supplied their beds.

The broad range and the overhanging sky answered for house and home. A roundup in 1867-80 was not bounded by wire fences, but the boys galloped out of camp after breakfast, made a wide sweep, and all then drove toward a common center, and lo! directly at that point was gathered a herd of stock cattle of all brands, ready for the cut to begin.

The high toned man was taboed. I remember such a man appeared at the ranch of J. T. in the Shackelford county, in 1869. He was a city fellow, and would say "Thank you" and such like. His intense politeness and high toned nonsense aggravated the boys mightily. Jim B. in particular—poor fellow—was especially fretted by his nonsense, as he called it, and tried to ridicule it out of him, but in vain. At last his resentment ripened into genuine hatred and it was hard to keep the peace between them, for the city fellow had grit too.

Well, one morning in 1869, at Mountain pass, in Taylor county, long before any one lived in that section, Jim got awfully mad and gave the city fellow a cussing, whereupon a row resulted and bloodshed was barely prevented there and then. We got the city fellow to ride off, and it looked like peace had returned, but one hour later Jim B. and his amiable enemy met off at one side of the roundup. I happened to be near. In a flash the city chap ran before Jim, dismounted, leveled his gun on him and demanded an apology or death.

Jim jerked out two six shooters, but said nothing, and instantly the city fellow fired. Poor Jim rolled off his horse a dead man. I got to them just as Jim fell. He died instantly, shot through the heart. His slayer mounted his horse and "lit out." We buried Jim and went on with our herd, two men short, but with no discordant element among us.

Such was the old way. The boys were courteous and kind, they were generous and brave, industrious and honest, but they would not stand any high toned nonsense. A new era has set in. Which is the better we cannot say, but one thing is sure—with all its faults, and they were many, the old time cowboy was a man to be trusted in peace or war and was the very soul of honor.—Dallas News.

An Armenian Legend.

Ararat, one of the most majestic mountains in the world, rises 17,000 feet above the vast flat plain which bears its name and reigns over the surrounding mountains. Early in the morning, while all the valleys of Ararat and the neighboring mountains are buried in shadow, the white top of the Scriptural mountain gleams beautiful in the first beams of the sun.

The Armenian people tell this story about the inhabitants of Pharbee:

Once the devil and a Pharbee man laid a wager as to which should first see the sun. The one who saw it first was to box the other's ears. "Very well," said the Armenian, and he lay down and slept sweetly, while the devil, itching to punish his enemy, stood looking eastward, and with eager eyes watched the whole night for the sunrise. Early in the morning, the Pharbee man rose, and pointing to the top of Ararat, which was already shining in the sun, cried joyfully, "I see it!" The devil was vanquished. The Pharbee man, with his strong hand, boxed the devil's ears. Ever since that time, the devil has been afraid of the people of the Armenian village of Pharbee.—Woman's Journal.

Congress Water.

How many people know that out by the Greenough statue of Washington, east of the capitol, is a vast and cavernous reservoir? Not one in a thousand, but there it is, down in the bowels of the earth, and covered deep beneath the smooth surface of asphaltum. Away back in the thirties congress purchased a spring over east of the present site of Howard university. It is now at the bottom of the unused distributing reservoir. From it pipes were laid to the capitol, and in a pond east of the building the water flowed and was held for the use of the early Solons of the hill. In 1876 the reservoir was arched over and covered in, but there it is, and if congress has been neglectful of the city's interests as to a water supply, the reason is not hard to find. Congress has its own private tap. Pipes run into the capitol, furnish the boilers, coolers and water for cleaning purposes. There is an overflow pipe that runs into the pretty little grotto below the senate wing at one side of the main sidewalk and tinkles over the mossy bank in a miniature cascade.—Washington Post.

Hose of Olden Time.

In the very long ago hose were not stockings as now worn, but made long, and were often drawn up even to the waist, and oddly enough, had pockets in their sides. We read, moreover, that in the time of the Tudors and Stuarts they were of great variety, both of material and color, and as such could command the luxury were richly trimmed and costly; they were often called "nether stocks."—Harper's Bazar.

TRAINING BOTH HANDS ALIKE.

To Good Reason Yet Advanced Why It Should Not Be Done.

In one of his essays in a book entitled "Brushwood," the late James T. Fields wrote: "If I were a boy again, I think I would learn to use my left hand just as freely as my right one, so that if anything happened to lame either of them the other would be all ready to write and handle things just as freely as if nothing had occurred." And undoubtedly a great many of us would learn to use both hands alike if we had our lives to live over again. Of all the young women who came under my instruction while in charge of the School of Domestic Economy of the Iowa Agricultural college, not more than one in twenty-five could sweep properly. The ratio in this respect of those who came under my instruction at Purdue university was about the same. And as far as my observation extends this ratio will hold in regard to women generally.

As a rule, women, old and young, do not know how to handle a broom. Their left hands have been neglected. When a woman takes hold of a broom it is with the right hand near the top of the handle and the left hand toward the corn, and instead of changing and reversing them as occasion demands she always keeps them in the same position. Whether she sweeps to the right or to the left, the position of her hands remains unchanged. And her body is contorted and her muscles strained in the performance of an operation that would exercise these organs harmoniously, if the hands were so trained that they could be used at will and were changed as demanded by the changes in the position of the sweep.

I refer to women sweeping merely to illustrate my point. The same can be said concerning the training of the hands in numerous other branches of women's work that it is unnecessary to mention, and so far as the use of the left hand is concerned men are in no better condition than women. Men and women are in this respect maimed and handicapped alike. Why should such a state of things exist? Why, in this age of manual training, should we overlook and neglect the education of the left hand and continue to train the right hand at the expense of the left? No physician or physiologist has ever given a sensible reason for so doing, and we seem to adhere to the custom merely because it has been carried down to us by our ancestors.—Jenness Miller Monthly.

A Smuggling Scheme.

Passing through Hudson street with a friend, I chanced to pass the establishment of a firm of "folders and repackers" of dry goods. Before the door were a hundred or more little bales of goods, bearing odd markings, but showing that they were destined for a firm in Texas, doing business in a town near the Mexican line.

"Do you know," asked my companion, "why those goods are put up in such small packages?"

Upon replying in the negative he continued: "They are to be smuggled across the Mexican line. The goods are purchased in their original packages and delivered here. The wooden boxes are discarded, and the goods subjected to hydraulic pressure and baled. Each bale contains about 30 pieces, or half the number of an ordinary dry goods case.

"The goods are then shipped to Texas, and all marks removed. When all is arranged, some night the little bales are slung across the backs of mules, two bales to each animal, and with an armed escort the train proceeds over the border to some distributing point in Mexico, where the goods are sold to Mexican traders at a good profit.

"Smuggling in this manner is quite extensively carried on between this country and Mexico, the United States getting in return for its dry goods, which are the most easily handled, cheap Mexican coffee and cigars."—New York Herald.

America's Only Frostless Belt.

What is supposed to be the only frostless belt in the United States lies between the city of Los Angeles and the Pacific ocean. It traverses the foothills of the Calhena range and has an elevation of between 200 and 400 feet. In breadth it is perhaps three miles. The waters of the Pacific are visible from it, and the proximity of the ocean has of course something to do with banishing frosts. During the winter season this tract produces tomatoes, peas, beans and other tender vegetables, and here the lemon flourishes, a tree that is peculiarly susceptible to cold. Tropical trees may be also cultivated with success, and in connection with this fact it is interesting to know that a part of the favored territory has been acquired by Los Angeles for park purposes, and it is only a question of time when the city will have the unique distinction of possessing the only tropical park in the United States. Strange to say, only the midway region of the Calhena range is free from frost, the lower part of the valley being occasionally visited.—New York Evening Post.

Oscar Wilde's Latest.

The way of the wit is hard. Oscar Wilde, moved by the ready appreciation of the English people, has been led to make some remarks which even his admirers are not applauding. He has been making some observations on the subject of Puritans and the theater. After devoutly hoping that he would not "be offered a bishopric," Mr. Wilde added, "I quite expect to see any day in the evening papers, 'Great Discovery in Egypt. Ten more commandments by Oscar Wilde.'"—Exchange.

Making a Sure Thing of It.

"What in the name of Jupiter have you sewed up all the pockets of my overcoat for?" asked Mr. Wilson.

"My dear," said Mrs. Wilson, "I have an important letter to my milliner that I want you to post."—Boston Home Journal.

It's a Sign of Danger, when pimples, blotches and eruptions appear on the skin, no matter how slight. It warns you that your blood isn't pure. Heed the warning while there is yet time; clear up your system and purify the blood by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It rouses every organ into natural action, purifies and enriches the blood and through it cleanses and invigorates the whole system. It attacks all scrofulous, skin and scalp diseases in the right way—by purifying the blood.

The diseases that it cures come from a torpid liver, or from impure blood. For everything of this nature, it is the only guaranteed remedy.

In Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Biliousness; all Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections, even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula), in its earlier stages—if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

THE MAKERS of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay you $500 if they can't give you a complete and permanent cure.

What is the Use of suffering, when 25 cents will buy a bottle of

PARK THEATRE—Donnelly & Girard,
 the well-known farce-comedians, have scored in "The Rainmakers" an even greater success than they did in "Natural Gas." The Park Theatre has been crowded all this week with big and laughing audiences, which bear testimony to the great merits of the funny piece.
 The farce, for such it is, gives opportunity for many first-class and refined spectacles. The plot of the play is that Donnelly and Girard, as hotel clerk and porter, being unsuccessful, steal a rain-
 making machine from one of the guests,
 and, aided by a cyclone, make money
 and in the end are laden with wealth.
 The first act opens with a song by six pretty girls who are dressed as waitresses. The scene is laid in an Illinois hotel.
 These young women added not a little to the performance, and their songs and dances were admired. One of them, Miss Martell, is a captivating dancer. In this act the song, "The Hotel Porter," by Girard, had to be repeated. In the second act Messrs. Donnelly and Girard scored a big hit with their song, "The Game Sports," and had to sing it over again before the audience would be satisfied. The third act is composed almost entirely of specialties, all of which were enjoyed. The performance closed with the electric dance by the entire company,
 and was a very brilliant and novel effect.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—A magnificent exhibition of animal training will be given at the Columbia, the engagement beginning Monday, April 30. Many visitors to the World's Fair last summer and later in the season in New York, will remember the Hagenbach trained animals that were one of the most interesting features of the Midway Plaisance,
 and which later became the most talked-of entertainment in the metropolis. When these animals come to the Columbia, which is now being prepared for their reception, they will undoubtedly meet with the same success that has greeted them wherever seen. Savage lions, tigers and bears will perform the most astonishing tricks that animals
 have ever yet performed and will show their submission to and respect for their master, who walks about them putting them through the exhibition with no weapon save a stick. The exhibition is as exciting as it is interesting and it is safe to say that the Columbia will enjoy prosperity as long as this unique exhibition remains there. The usual matinees will occur on Wednesday and Saturday.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Lillian Russell's latest success at the New York
 Casino, and the most pronounced of her career, is the dual role of "Girofia-Girofia" in which she has appeared for the last five weeks. The cast surrounding Miss Russell is a strong one, embracing the following artists as principals:
 Mr. Perugini, the tenor; Digby Ball, the celebrated comedian; William Pruette,

Charles Campbell, J. Dorr, Marie Dressler, Ada Dure, May Duvee, George Dennin, Marie Celeste, Gertrude Bar-
 ledge, Maud Ducker and Tessie King.
 A chorus comprising 100 voices and a ballet troupe headed by Lillian Taur-ger, late premier of the Alhambra, London, are accessories, forming a setting magnificence in a grand to this charing opera. The patronage accorded to this production in New York will no doubt be duplicated on its production in Boston at the Hollis Street Theatre for one week only, beginning Monday, April 30.

Junior Inter-scholastic Game.

The Newton high school team will make a strong bid for the championship

 Centre grounds, and defeated it by a score of 7 to 6.
 Lamprey did not appear in his usual form for the E. H. S., while Fitz, for the Newtons, struck out 13 of the other side.

For the relief and cure of a cold in the head there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for colds in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevent any serious development of the symptoms,
 while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh
 and hay fever after all other treatments
 have proved of no avail.

$100 Reward $100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread-disease that science has been able to cure
 in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution
 and assisting nature in doing its work.
 The proprietors have so much faith in its merits and cures, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE ATLANTIC.

There are several contributions to the May Atlantic worthy of more than common note. One of them, "From Blomidon to Smoky" is the first of a series of four articles by the late Frank Bolles. The papers represent his last studies of nature, and were his last literary work. They were the outcome of a summer excursion through Nova Scotia in 1893. The memory of Francis Parkman is honored by articles
 from his fellow-historians, Justin Winsor
 and John Fiske. Professor T. C. Mendenhall, in his article, "The Henry," on the newly chosen term of electrical measurement, gives the American scientist, Joseph Henry, his rank with the great electricians of the world. Gilbert Parker, the young Anglo-Canadian,
 whose stories are coming more and more into notice, contributes a tragic tale of the Hudson Bay Company, "Three Commandments in the Vulgar Tongue." Mrs. Deland's serial, "Philip and his Wife," proceeds in company with attractive papers of literature, art and travel. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

LITERARY NOTES.

Mr. John Jacob Astor is to make his first venture in literature shortly with a romance entitled A Journey in Other Worlds: A Romance of the Future,
 which is to be published, with illustrations, by D. Appleton & Co. Mr. Astor has devoted much time to the study of astronomy and other sciences, and his novel is said to be a scientific romance
 with the scene laid in the year 2000,
 which shows exceptional ability.

THE ARENA.

The Arena closes its winter volume
 with the May number, which presents an attractive table of contents. Among the subjects handled are "The first steps in the land question," by Louis F. Post, the eminent single-tax leader; "The philosophy of mutualism," by Prof.
 Frank Parsons of the Boston university law school; "Emergency measures for maintaining self-respected manhood," by the editor of the Arena. The saloon evil is also discussed in a symposium. Of a more general character are "The religion of Lowell's poems," by Rev. M. J. Savage; "The power of the mind in the cure of diseases," by Dr. James R. Cooke; and a brief character sketch by Stephen Crane, entitled "An ominous baby." Stinson Jarvis's series of papers on "The ascent of life" closes with this number.
 A paper on "Hereditry" is contributed by Helen H. Gardiner. The Arena has been steadily enlarged, and with the book reviews and other features the May number extends to over 160 pages.

SCRIBNER'S.

The May number of Scribner's is one of the most characteristic issues of that popular periodical. Art and travel will be represented simultaneously in "Some episodes of mountaineering by a casual amateur," written by the artist, Edwin Lord Weeks, with illustrations from sketches made by himself. A new portrait of Benjamin Franklin is procured,
 with a brief article by Paul Leicester Ford. The field of adventure is represented by a stirring article on the romance and history of the Rio Grande region by Capt. John G. Bourke, and "Climbing for wild goats," a narrative of Rocky mountain hunting by George Bird Grinnell. There will be general interest in the description of "Working girls' clubs," by Clara Sidney Davidge.
 Octave Thane continues her studies of "American types" in "The provincials,"
 whom she represents as the great conservative force in American life. F. J.
 Stimson contributes an article on "The ethics of democracy," which treats of the scope of recent socialistic acts of legislation in different states. In fiction
 there is a short story by Edith Wharton entitled "That good may come."

—Colonel Edward H. Haskell of Beacon street, sailed on Tuesday, April 17, on the "Spree" of the North German line, and will make a short trip to London, Paris and Antwerp.

Miss Louise Manning Hodgkins, editor of the Heathen Woman's Friend will deliver the address, and remarks will also be made by Mrs. Dr. Wm. Butler, one of the founders of the society, and by Mrs. Geo. M. Steele of Auburndale. An interesting service is anticipated at which all are welcome.

—The people of Newton Centre have been very indignant since the aldermen rescinded the order in reference to the electric car service. President Avery L. Rand and Mr. Frank Edmunds of the N. C. I. A. spoke very emphatically in regard to the matter, before the aldermen Monday evening. They voiced the sentiment of the community, when they said, afford us first, through service to Newtonville, second, an intelligible time table, and third, a car that runs from our street.

—Mr. Wm. M. Noble was also present. Some members of the board seemed loth to give them a chance to be heard.

—Funeral services over the remains of Mr. Jesse H. Lippincott, who died Wednesday, were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from his late residence on Bulfinch street, Newton Centre. The attendance of friends and relatives was quite large. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Leonard C. Barnes, of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church of Pittsburg, Pa., who was assisted by Rev. Dr. Lorimer of Boston. A quartet from the First Baptist church, comprising Mrs. D. A. White, Mrs. T. W. Brewer and Messrs. S. A. Shannon and G. A. Barrows rendered selections. The floral tributes aside from a beautiful cross from the family consisted of potted plants and cut flowers. The remains were placed in the receiving tomb at the Newton cemetery.

—The street railway commenced running its cars on twenty minute time Monday, leaving the Centre about once in every 10 or 17 minutes to ensure connection at the other end. This connection at Houser street, by the way, is an interesting one, to say the least. Coming down from the Highlands on Wednesday the writer had a chance to observe the operation. The Newtonville and Centre cars were in waiting, one on the Homer street switch, the other on the main line beyond the car house switch. The Highlands car ran down, the Centre car swung in behind, the former running in on the car house switch, leaving the three cars in a triangle. Passengers were exchanged, the Centre car trolley was changed and it ran back to Homer street followed by the Newtonville car which proceeded on up Walnut street. The Highlands car after these were done swung its trolley round, backed off the switch, changed trolley again and then headed for Newtonville.

—The Sunday evening services at the Methodist church have been exceedingly well attended during the entire week. Rev. Mr. Hughes has preached many powerful convincing sermons and the musical portion of the exercises has been greatly helped by solos from some artists on each evening. Those who attend the Sunday evening will find rare enjoyment in listening to the singing of Mr. Eugene Cowles who is today acknowledged the best bass singer in this country. His naturally fine voice has received the best training afforded in the world, and his present high position in musical circles has been attained through his marvelous ability to sing in a way which reaches and holds the heart of every listener.

His home coming will be a pleasure to his many parishioners. Mrs. Montague has returned from New Brunswick, Me., where she has been visiting friends.

ist, and Mr. Bufum. The club and friends enjoyed a most delightful dance after the music being furnished by the Boston Orchestra of Boston. The whole affair was most enjoyable and successful, the club clearing $30 from the private sale of the tickets. There were fourteen well rendered selections in the concert program, all of which were well received. The selections rendered by the club were very pleasing and reflected much credit to Mr. Woods, the club director.
